Conclusions of this Conference will be presented to the participants of the Washington talks. HR Paddy Ashdown said that BiH has been able to move from the political and economic collapse of a decade ago to the beginning of EU accession talks in coming days because the Dayton Agreement combined “enough firmness to maintain peace, with enough flexibility to enable reform.” “A key lesson has been that political settlements are not – cannot be – written in stone,” the HR said. NATO General Secretary Jaap de Hoop Scheffer stated that it is time to make a step forward in BiH, adding that NATO will remain to be a significant support in that process. Four NGOs discuss constitutional changes: BiH can join EU only as state of all its citizens	Hayat by Alem Karamesic – Four NGOs – the Serbs Citizens Council (SGV), the Council of the Bosniak Intellectuals Congress (VKBI), the Croat National Council (HNZ) and the Association of Independent Intellectuals (ANI) “Krug 99” – say that it is time for BiH to face the constitutional changes. They said that the Dayton Peace Agreement stopped war in BiH, enabled post-war reconstruction, establishment of democratic institutions and prepared BiH for European integrations. They added that in order for BiH to enter the European integrations, it had to remove limitations which the DPA brought, namely the limitations which came out as the result of ethnical structure of political organization. Representatives of the four NGO pointed out that entity authorities had to be reduced, namely they say that entities should be integrated into BiH. They agree that BiH admittance to the EU would present a great progress in security, politics, economic and cultural sense, concluding BiH can join only as the state of its citizens. RTRS – Participants also noted that SDA, SDS and HDZ have been able to reach a consensus on development of statehood and political sovereignty. Ivanic: Const.
changes are not condition for SAA talks

RTS by Natasa Lekic – Mladen Ivanic, BiH Foreign Minister, was the guest in central news program broadcast by the Serbian state TV. Asked whether expects new pressure during the Washington talks, Ivanic said he doesn't as the IC has clearly said that the constitutional changes would not be a result of their but local engagement: "Commissionaire [Olli] Rhen was clear enough when he said that the EC thinks there should be no intruding or pressures and that constitutional changes are not the condition for the beginning of negotiations with EU. I think it would be useful the Constitution to be adjusted to the present needs. Political parties from RS have offered a numerous solutions." Asked how it is possible to set up functional BiH without endangering RS, Ivanic answered: "That is possible to do that by certain adjustments to the existing Constitution. Politicians from RS have offered few solutions. One of the main problems is how the Presidency is elected ... That is why we offered the solution one member of Presidency to be elected by RS, and two by FBiH...Opening the story about major, fundamental changes of Dayton agreement is not realistic in these conditions; there is no political consensus on that. Therefore, I think certain adjustments are needed. We are ready to make the Council of Ministers even stronger, but we don't think it should grow into classical government", Ivanic concluded. RHB also carried Ivanic's stance that const. changes are not necessary for SAA.

Vecernji list pg 4 'I will report Ambassador Turkovic to Presidency' by Zoran Kresic – In an interview to VL, Ivanic adds that Croats, as the smallest people, have a real reason to be concerned however underlines he has not yet heard the clear concept of what Croats really want in BiH.

Hays explains process of const changes talks: BiH leaders deciding	Oslobodjenje pg 8 'Leaders of BiH are deciding', mentioned on cover, by Donald Hays – Former Deputy HR and experts of the America Peace Institute which initiated the talks on the constitutional changes, Donald Hays , writes a page long column which explains the process from beginning. Hays notes that throughout the entire process which began in March this year, BiH leaders were involved and had a main word. Noting that the international community was present in the form of supporters or advisors, Hays congratulates party leaders for sitting down together in Brussels and for the first time discussing the constitutional changes. He adds that BiH citizens should support them, as if agreement is reached, the citizens will feel the real benefit.
EU's Barbaso: Politicians must find a model of constitution for BiH	Nezavisne novine pg 5 'Political must find the best model for BiH constitution', mentioned on cover 'Barbaso: BiH needs constitution for EU' by M. Cubro – In an interview to NN, Director General of the EU Enlargement Directorate Fabrizio Barbaso was asked to comment the Washington talks on the constitutional changes. "I expect BiH to finally adopt the constitution which will allow it to be ready for the next steps leading to EU... There should be amendments made to the Constitution."

Op-eds on Washington talks: Moderate optimism as US is a patronage of talks	Oslobodjenje pg 9 'Washington Constitution' op-ed by Daniel Omeragic – Commenting the Washington talks on the constitutional changes, the author says that the only thing all sides agree is that current BiH is not good for anybody. He notes that while it is possible for Washington to result with some kind of agreement, the real problem will be to implement it. "BiH cannot expect must from imposed solutions, but currently it is really not in the position to choose," concludes the op-ed. Oslobodjenje pg 9 'It is important to take out filling' op-ed by Mirko Sagolj – On the same issue, author deems Washington talks could bring some results having in mind that US is having control. Europe, says Sagolj, has never been either decisive or united enough on BiH issue. He also stresses that expectations should be realistic adding this most probably will be the strengthening of the state institutions Presidency, Government and Parliament. Secondly, author commends Zlatko Lagumdžija for consulting small opposition parties and academics on constitutional changes prior to his departure for Washington. Noting that Lagumdžija may decide to create the patriotic block, author believes that such approach could bring significant changes in the next elections. Vecernji list pg 6 'Celebrating unjust peace' op-ed by Ivica Pjanic – Author notes that the celebration of DPA means celebrating unjust peace. Dnevni list pg 2 'Amateurs in Washington' op-ed by Tanja Dragic – Author notes that it is possible that some kind of agreement is reached, however she doubts it will be in the benefit of all three peoples deeming as the parties' leaders clearly showed that they are amateurs.

Regional reactions: Mesic says DPA must be changes	HTV 1 – Croatian President Stjepan Mesic met his German counterpart Horst Koehler in Berlin on Friday for talks on Croatia's EU entry negotiations. Mesic said Croatia and Germany shared the same views on BiH. "It transpired from the talks that we share identical views that BH should become compatible with the EU," he said and underlined the need to amend the Dayton agreement, primarily because of BiH's goal to join the EU.
Regional reactions: SCG 's Karic says RS and Kosovo status must be linked	RTRS 'Oci u oci' current affairs programm by Zeljka Dragicevic – The guest of the magazine was Bogoljub Karic, Serbian businessman and the leader of the movement The Strength of Serbia (PSS). Talking about the Kosovo status, Karic said RS must have same status as the one fought for by the Albanian and Kosovo lobbyists. He added that RS politicians (calling them "our politicians") must fight against pressure from abroad. "So what if they replace one, ten or 50 RS Presidents. What's the problem? They must see that the dismissals and the blackmails would not help them achieve their goal of liquidation of the RS", added Karic. Regarding constitutional changes in BiH, Karic stated that it is obvious that certain political options in BiH want to abolish RS. Serbia must provide maximum support to the Serbs in BiH, stressed Karic; he added that while it is indeed illogical to have two armies in BiH, it would also be completely wrong to reduce RS to a level of "local community". "Authorities in RS and Serbia must, without a shame, define and announce their position on this issue very clearly, just like Croats in BiH do... I don't see a reason why would we hesitate to do exactly the same", stated Karic.

BK TV comments on DPA talks: Everyone forgot SCG /Croatia are also signatories of the agreement

BK TV [Serbian] by Tanja Veselinovic – BK TV brings extensive feature on Dayton Peace Agreement. It comments that in the last 10 years entities won a great power, while the central government was weak. In last few weeks, when European integrations issue became more important, the opinion that Dayton was good for ending the war but not to have successful state with EU aspirations is being heard more and more often. The European MPs group has asked for the Dayton revision last year. The statement that says Dayton agreement changes are necessary has been adopted at that time. Therefore, the State department lawyers have made the draft document called “Dayton plus”. By that draft, BiH should become parliamentary democracy, with central government and national parliament, and it would become integrated state. Entities would lose almost half of competences they used to have so far. BK TV concludes that the new BiH Constitution is obviously inevitable. Reporter Ivan Andjelkovic comments that the creators of “Dayton plus” seemed to forget that both Serbia and Croatia also signed the agreement. Report from Zagreb by Slavisa Veselinovic focused at the Croatian perspective on the issue concluding politicians are divided over situation in BiH as some think the centralization will help to integrate the country more quickly in EU, while others think entities should have broader competences. According to report, both sides however agree that centralization would bring unifying of Serbs and Croats.

British media:
West turned BiH into big

RHB, Oslobođenje pg 4 'BiH turned into big laboratory', Dnevni Avaz pg 5 'West turned BiH in huge laboratory' – Media report that the British press wrote on Friday that with Dayton Peace Agreement, BiH has been turned into a large laboratory to test Western recipes for building nations in states which collapsed or doesn't function. The Guardian wrote that a decade later results were mixed, so after years of insisting on Dayton High Representative Paddy Ashdown has suddenly admitted that this Agreement is part of the problem, not of solution. The Independent wrote that even though ethnical divisions made after the war are firmly cemented in lives of people, the International Community hasn't lost hope to transform BiH. It also mentions Brcko as the success story of BiH. Times writes about the memorial centre built in former concentration camp Omarska specific because Serbs all also involved.

Dean of Mostar University Frano Ljubic stated that BIH can adopt the higher education law in short period of time only if its politicians really want EU standards. OHR also welcomed the CoM’s decision to establish the work group. The adopted draft law will be sent to BIH Parliament for discussion. PINK – “And now for the first time we have agreement on the way to do that; to turn the paper commitment into reality, so I am very glad that there is now agreement to set up this working group that will prepare by consensus a law on higher education”, said Rycroft. BHT 1 late news– PhD Lamija Tanovic, BIH representative in Bologna Group, said that BIH hasn’t adopted the law due to political reasons adding that it has well trained experts that would be able to carry out the implementation of the Bologna process. The office will allow the District to participate in decision making process in the institution at the state level. RTRS late news edition reports that the Coordinator for the Brcko District will attend all sessions, but will not participate in passing of decisions. Reis Ceric: Europe should not fear Muslims	Dnevni Avaz cover splash 'One should not fear state with Muslim majority', pg 4 – The Islamic religious leader [Reis-ul-Ulema] in BiH, Mustafa Ceric, said on Friday on assuming his new seven-year mandate that Europe is BiH's aim and Europe should not be afraid of a "strong and organized state in which Muslims are the majority". "It is absurd to be afraid of a strong and organized state in which Muslims are the majority and after they have survived the genocide in Srebrenica. So who should trust whom? We are expected to trust Europe, which allowed genocide to occur, while Europe is unable to trust us, only because we are Muslims," Ceric said in his address in Sarajevo. This organisation ceased to exist when Dayton Peace Agreement was signed, and today it is regarded as cultural organisation with important historical background for Croats. Reporter noted that most of its founders are processed before ICTY for war crimes. Polled citizens stated that Herceg-Bosna was their instrument to fight for equality of Croats in BIH. RHB comment on Herceg Bosna	RHB by Ivica Simunovic – RHB’s weekly commentary focused at the anniversary of Herceg-Bosna establishment in light of 10th anniversary of the Dayton Peace Agreement. Editor commented that Herceg-Bosna should had ensured survival of Croats in BiH and represented an equality factor in future establishment of BiH, but despite of that Croats have gone trough many sufferings, which would be even greater if there was no Self-Rule and HVO. Editor stressed that Croats have survived, but their future has been determined by DPA, which ceased the war, but created a system blocking all efforts for BiH to become “normal” European state. Editor said that Dayton was a simple theatre play with representatives of three peoples as leading actors and known directors. Some received the main prize and some had to be sacrificing lambs. Editor comments that this was a lousy play, but even more depressing is the fact that its rerun will bring nothing, except more makeup, being that “Dayton 2” was organized as a confirmation of rightfulness of “Dayton 1” and IC efforts in BiH. Editor stressed that BiH is now a country which can’t function independently, stressing that everything that Croats wanted to ensure trough HB is still questionable, including matters from domain of elementary human rights: such as education in their own language.

Hayat on RSNA's request regarding the budget for population census	Hayatby Lejla Gutlic – The RS National Assembly obliged the RS representatives in the BiH Parliamentary Assembly to vote against adoption of joint institutions budget if it fails to include the finances for carrying out population census. FBiH representatives in the BiH Parliament fiercely judge such decision. "The RS NA's decision is obligatory in terms of the RS representatives since we have been chosen on the RS NA's proposal", BiH parliamentarian Bosko Siljegovic. "Conditioning adoption of the budget for 2006 presents a kind of blackmail and I hope that no reasonable man would consider this idea normal", said SDA member of the Parliament Mirsad Ceman. RS representatives say that avoiding census presents typical political manipulation in order to stick to the 1991 census, while, on the other hand, SDA asks for Annex 7 to be implemented and then to have the census carried out. "We often use to say that the Annex 7 has been implemented... those who wanted have returned to their homes... I think that other political issues are at stake here", said Siljegovic. "Those supporting the idea of census carried out in... 2006 are aiming towards having the results of ethnical cleansing legitimated", said Ceman. The whole situation brought BiH's budget into question.

Terzic says
IMF has no understanding for BiH, it will slow down implementation of defence reform

PINKby Aida Doric – BiH Council of Ministers and Fiscal Council Chair Adnan Terzic said on Friday that all the prerequisites should be fulfilled within the next 20 days for the Fiscal Council to sign a stand by arrangement with the International Monetary Fund (IMF) for next year.

Addressing the press conference, Terzic complained about the lack of understanding on the part of the IMF. "We are faced with a problem and I have to admit that the IMF does not understand us since it asks for surplus in our budgets... we are faced with problem in terms of financing defence reform", said the Chair of BiH CoM Adnan Terzic.

On defence reform, Terzic says that it requires additional 30 million KM. Doyle reminded that talks between the IMF and the Fiscal Council have been going on since the middle of this year and that more work needs to be done on finalising the BiH budget for 2006. At its previous session the Fiscal Council succeeded in satisfying some of IMF's basic demands, i.e. making a schedule based on which the state, entity and the Brcko District budgets would have a surplus of 1,5 percent in 2006. The IMF also opposes the idea of having new loan taken, since BiH's debt is estimated to be the 30 % of gross national product. "Our concern is that the level of country's debt is too high and I need to say that if there is to be an interest to have project such as a Vc corridor then it needs to be carried out within the framework of the budgets", said the Chief of IMF mission to BiH Peter Doyle. FTV, BHT1, Hayat, Oslobodjenje pg 6 'Primer Minister Terzic expects increase of revenue in 2006', Dnevni Avaz pg 8 'IMF has no understanding for BiH institutions' budget in 2006', Dnevni list pg 2 'New stand-by arrangement', Nezavisne novine pg 2 'IMF's decision will slow down defence reform', mentioned on cover, Glas Srpske pg 2 'Every KM important' – also reported.

The new contract stipulates that citizens will pay the entire amount of phone bill including obligatory payment of RTV taxes. Contract will be effective as of January 1st. It is expected that the implementation of this contract would increase a level of taxes collection by approximately 25%, ensuring higher level of stability for the public broadcasters. BiH Minister of Transport and Communications Branko Dokic said it is certain that the telecom operators will have more work to carry this out, however added it is in the state interest. Hayat, RTRS, Oslobodjenje pg 9 ‘New contract on RTV taxes signed’, Nezavisne novine pg 9 ‘No avoidance of paying RTV taxes as of 1 January’ also carry.
