Political Developments/Reforms
BiH Deputy Defence Minister Becirbasic: Single BiH Army will be established by end Sept 2006	Oslobodjenje cover splash, pgs 4-5 'Single BiH Army will be established until September 2006' by Az.Kalamujic – BiH Deputy Defence Minister, Enes Becirbasic , told daily that the BiH Armed Forces should be established by the end of September next year, with the last obstacle being removed by RS National Assembly's support to transfer to jurisdiction to the state authorities. Becirbasic reminds that it is now up to FBiH Parliament to do the same on 6 September, and than by the end of year the BiH Council of Ministers and Parliament must adopt the Defence Law. Becirbasic says that all employees of RS and FBiH military structures could become paid soldiers as of beginning of next year, and the future Army should have no more than 9000 or 10000 active professional troop and about 5000 active reserves. One third of the forces will be stationed in RS and rest in the Federation. Structure and size of the troops will be decided by the Presidency. Inset 'Cavic gave up on RS Army's survival' carries that SDP welcomes the RSNA decision to endorse transfer of authorities to the state level, noting that Dragan Cavic 's speech was a welcoming surprise. Inset 'Important decision by RSNA' carries Presidency of GDS also welcoming this development.

NATO, OHR welcome RSNA decision to accept defense reform solutions	Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'Step that will bring BiH closer to NATO' – NATO HQ to BiH welcomes decision of RS National Assembly to approve the adoption of legislation by which single army, single Ministry of Defence and professional army would be established in BiH. OHR also welcomes the fact that the RSNA on Tuesday endorsed one of the outstanding reforms needed to make BiH ready for membership of PfP and NATO alliances. OHR is confident that the FBiH Parliament will do the same on 6 September. NATO and EU membership are the two tracks that will secure long lasting peace, stability and prosperity for BiH; to accelerate down these tracks BiH must show full co-operation with the ICTY, and conclude the restructuring of the Police in line with the three EU principles. Without these, the doors to full NATO and EU integration will remain closed. Defence Reform does not replace the need for Police restructuring, according to OHR. RHB carried OHR statement, Pink carried NATO statement.
RS President Cavic on defense: Professional Army to be established in BiH	Pink Mirjana Pavlovic – After RS National Assembly decided to transfer authorities in domain of defence to state level, there would be single professional army established in BiH. As RS President Dragan Cavic said on Wednesday in Banja Luka, final phase in terms of BiH's terms for admittance to NATO had been reached. "This country is going to have 10,000 professional soldiers, out of what 1/3 are going to be Serbs while 2/3 are going to be FBiH soldiers", said Cavic. Cavic adds that this presents a term for having EUFOR leave BiH, and the aim is to make BiH Ministry of Defence NATO's partner. "All are saying that there is no RS Army. There isn't, but there are no potential RS' enemies as well. There is no BiH Army, no Croat Council of Defence – HVO", said Cavic. The reform has been brought to an end and there are some technical issues to be solved. The issue of financing is the most difficult one and it is going to be solved in 2-3 years, following the positive reform results. Cavic also said that the defence reform was not directed against Serbs as some politicians were claiming. Hayat, RTRS, Nezavisne Novine pg 6 'Cavic: Defence reform in the interest of Serb people' by R.S., Vecernje Novosti pg 4 'Police is next' by M. Labus also carried the statement.

Sarac – The fifth round of talks on police reform will be held at mountBjelasnica today. The chair of the BiH Council of Ministers, Adnan Terzic, SIPA Director Sredoje Novic and BiH Security Minister Barisa Colak will offer parties a possible solutions, says Terzic's Advisor Bojan Zec-Filipovic. Cropress on prospects of police reform negotiations, relation between defence and police reforms	Dnevni List pgs 4-5 'Extremists will not allow police reform', by Zvonimir Jukic – Commenting on the decision of the RSNA to transfer the jurisdiction over defence issues onto the state level, the author says it in fact represents further dismantling of the RS in favour of BiH statehood. Jukic connects the defence with police reform saying that the police forces will most likely come under the state administration, which will represent the demise of the RS' statehood. However, the author also notes that some sources say that the 'price' the IC had to pay to the SDS for the defence reform is the survival of the RS police, which will remain under the Serb domination. Inset entitled 'Police in for same destiny as army' carries an anonymous international diplomat, who is allegedly well informed about the course of police reform, as saying: "The police organization is already agreed upon, and the last strolls through BiH and alleged negotiations of the local parties are just a show for the public until the politicians from RS agree among each other who will place the signature on the police reform and put the last nail into the coffin of the RS' statehood". Slobodna Dalmacija, pg 18 'Without result on Bjelasnica too?', by Zlatko Tulic – Commenting on today's (Thursday) meeting on Mount Bjelasnica regarding the police reform, the author makes the connection between the police and defence reform saying that some people see the latest developments in the RS regarding the defence reform and the role of the SDS in it as some sort of trade with the RS under the motto "we give you defence reform, you give us police reform". Tulic reckons that given the EU's deadline for the police reform (September 15), it is likely that the Bjelasnica meeting will not be the last destination of the negotiators. Inset entitled 'OHR: Agreement must be reached' carries an OHR spokesman, Oleg Milisic, as saying that the police reform is a crucial issue for the BiH authorities, which are organizing the event. "(...) One thing is certain, an agreement pursuant to requests of the European Commission must be reached", said Milisic. Vecernji List pg 5 'Police maps in focus of negotiations on Bjelasnica' by M. Ivesa says that according to their unofficial information the HDZ Presidency believes that the structure of the Cantonal Ministries of Interior cannot be touched until a new constitutional organization was arranged.

Nezavisne Novine pg 2 'Disputable issues delayed' by M.C. – Daily reports referring to one of participants of police reform that the representatives of the BiH COM and the entities' Government today at Bjelasnica are expected to discuss the agreement, which accepts EU principles on police reform, adding that: *"The resistance of the RS representatives towards defining of police regions, which would cross IEBL and transfer of police authority, is evident. Furthermore, in an exchange for adoption of police reform, Ashdown is ready to declare SDS a reform-oriented party and to have it become a member of the Congress of the European People's Parties, whose Chairperson is Wilfred Martens. SDS source also claims that "however, the party has been divided more than ever, and it is still unknown whose stance will prevail: the stance of Pero Bukejlovic, who opposes to changes of Constitution, or the stance of Dragan Cavic."

Medunjanin– BiH Parliament HoR adopted the law on basics of traffic security on roadways in BiH, which should increase traffic security. But the law does not regulate certain fields in the traffic. That is one of the reasons why the law was under discussion for more than a year. VL carries new details on Prce pardon	Vecernji List, pgs 4-5 'Prce sacrifices half a year more', by not signed – VL learns from sources close to Miroslav Prce that he will not be asking to be released from prison on parole, not until January 23, 2006 although he will be entitled to do so on September 23 this year. The reason why Prce will postpone his parole request is because of "unseen campaign that is led against him by the BiH Prosecution and OHR", which means that a parole commission would not be able to take an independent decision. VL also carries Prce's lawyer, Zarko Bulic, who denies the OHR's claims that the documentation on Prce pardon is suspicious and ungrounded. Bulic insists that the medical documentation is authentic and credible, and on top of that, Bulic denies the OHR's claim about the alleged political background of the pardon since Prce, according to Bulic, was never a member of HDZ. Finally, VL says the FBIH President, Niko Lozancic, when he took the decision to pardon Prce, also pardoned a number of other convicts, including a "controversial" former Interior Minister of Republic of BiH, Alija Delimustafic, and VL notices that nobody paid any attention to that.
