Sarac carries an interview with high Representative Paddy Ashdown. Commenting on the interruption of the talks on the police reform, the HR says that, perhaps, now it is time for a break in the whole process since some space should be given to the RSNA if we want to get the final solution. According to the HR, the RSNA knows what it should do. The HR also said: 'Implementation of this reform is much harder for the RS than for the Federation of BiH. Some politicians deliberately tried to convince citizens that this is about abolishment of the RS, and that is not true.' The HR also stated that he cannot impose the police reform for political and legal reasons and he added: 'So if I do not have the powers to impose the reform than I do not have powers to removes those who oppose the reform either. The HR will not resolve their problems for them. They would have to resolve them by themselves.'
VL interview with HR Ashdown on police reform: RS on road to isolation	Vecernji List, pg 5 'RS is going the road that leads towards isolation', mentioned on front 'Ashdown: Republika Srpska obstructs Federation of BiH', by Dejan Jazvic – Carries an interview with the High Representative, Paddy Ashdown, in which he comments on the state of the police reform in BiH. Asked as to what was going to happen now after the police talks have failed and whether it was true that the RS was facing isolation, HR Ashdown says: "If the authorities in the RS put themselves in position that they are the only obstacle to the progress in the whole region, it will be a dangerous situation. One can say it is a road that leads towards isolation".

HR interview with NN: Nationalistic parties cannot lead BiH to EU	Nezavisne Novine pg 4, announced on cover 'Nationalistic parties cannot lead BiH to European Union' by M. Cubro – in this page-long interview to NN, High Representative Paddy Ashdown has stated nationalistic parties cannot lead BiH to EU and he added BiH cannot enter EU unless it eliminates nationalism. He expressed his opinion that the current BiH authorities cannot lead BiH through the door to EU, i.e. these cannot end the journey to EU. 'It [the journey] cannot be completed without decent opposition parties. Several strong opposition parties are needed because this journey to EU cannot be completed unless the country eliminates nationalism', HR Ashdown said. HR also commented on police reform, role of RS politicians in it and consequences BiH can expect if it fails to implement police reform.
HR Ashdown with Spanish Foreign Minister Moratinos: HR comments on police reform	Dnevni List, pg 3 'Waiting for positive move by Serb politicians', not signed – After talking to the Spanish Foreign Minister, Miguel Angel Moratinos, the High Representative, Paddy Ashdown, whilst answering a journalist's question what he would do with the RS politicians who are guilty for the interruption of police talks, said that he would do "nothing". "The issues we are talking about surpass the Dayton agreement and it is clear that I cannot impose them", said Ashdown, adding that a positive move from the RS is being awaited, explaining that Europe will not change its principles. "As far as I know the RS NA will on Monday have a special session during which it will discuss the police reform", said HR Ashdown. Slobodna Dalmacija, front pg splash and pg 17 'Office of High Representative to be shut down', by D. Pasic – Carries HR Ashdown as commenting on the Monday's session of RSNA. DL op-ed on Moratinos' meeting with HR: Commending HR Ashdown is bad joke	Dnevni List, pg 2 'Commending Ashdown', by Marko Karacic – Commenting on the visit of the Spanish Foreign Minister, Miguel Angel Moratinos', visit to Sarajevo, during which he commended the work of the High Representative, the author, in an ironic tone, says it is pity Moratinos did not specify what the HR has done. "Perhaps he commended Paddy for arrest of war criminals, because of 'success' in police reform or perhaps for unifying the fire-fighters in Mostar?", says the author, noting that all the commendations are a bad joke.

Labus and S. Pesevic – RS President, Dragan Cavic said that it was going to be extremely difficult to bring decision on police reform since it was a political issue by which part of the Dayton Peace Agreement, which stipulated entities' authorities, was going to be changed. Cavic said that EU's and International Community's stances were clear and that they found the solution which came out as the result of Vlastic meeting unacceptable. "Admittance to EU means change in the Dayton Peace Agreement, namely the part which stipulates political entities' authorities and political parties in RS have to decide whether they are ready to swallow such a big piece", said Cavic. Cavic added that RS National Assembly had to hold the session, by May 30. "Decision has to be reached. Each decision will determine relations toward RS and BiH political ambient. The burden of the decision has to be presented to the public and all those chosen by the people will have to take a stance on it", added Cavic. On being asked to comment protest held in Banjaluka on Tuesday, Cavic said that there was no need for October 5 to take place in RS, since RS authority was no violent but democratic. All political parties, which believe that the current Government does not deserve confidence should start initiative in RSNA for its replacement, according to Cavic.

SDP blames Ashdown, OHR for police reform failure	Oslobodjenje 'OHR to be held co-responsible for the failure', SRNA – The BiH SDP general secretary, Svetozar Pudaric, said on Wednesday that High Representative Paddy Ashdown and OHR are jointly responsible for the collapse of the police reforms. Pudaric stressed that Ashdown and OHR cannot be excluded from their share of the responsibility for the collapse of the police reforms and the consequences, which will arise from this. "The collapse of the police reforms is a reflection of the ruling parties' real attitude towards reforms in BiH, as for them reforms mean changing as much as possible on paper, while in reality preserving the existing situation," Pudaric maintains.

Even Belgrade is closer", says Erceg. As a remedy, Erceg says, since the three peoples will not be able to reach an agreement, a new Constitution, which would incorporate European standards, should be imposed, even if it requires a protectorate in BiH. As a result, collective rights of all peoples would be protected, including the Croats' right to information in their own language.

Europe is dedicated to Balkans, however, at the same time there is great pressure within Europe to close some of the doors. For this reason, I would not waste my time if I was you.' Server also said that political leaders in BiH avoid to pass decisions and take over responsibility and this worked well in the previous period since the High Representative was doing their job. Server added: 'I believe that these days are behind us since the HR cannot do as much as he did in the past. He does not have any longer political support of Western Europe and USA for doing it.'

EC Delegation Spokesman Frane Maroevic also thinks BiH would be complimented for progress made in cooperation with the Hague Tribunal and adoption of PBS Law, however the failed police reform would pose an obstacle for the start of negotiations.

Osl. quotes SDP President Zlatko Lagumdžija as saying that the HR should be deprived of the Bonn's powers since they were given to him because of slow implementation of reforms in the post-war period and sanctioning of those who wanted secession from BiH, however, according to Lagumdžija, there is no fear of such processes any longer. Lagumdžija added that, obviously, there are double standards when removal of the officials is in question since Nikola Grabovac was removed after the Prosecutor announced that he would launch the investigation about the abuse of the position, while Dragan Covic was removed after the investigation went through 4 phases. BiH Foreign Minister Mladen Ivanic stated that the OHR would not become the Special EU Representative's Office by November this year since there is no a unique stand on this issue within the International Community. DA also says that although invited representatives of all Caucuses, the BiH Council of Ministers etc. did not come at the discussion.
