SDU's Tokic: Decision to send troops to Iraq disastrous	Dnevni Avaz cover page 'Tokic: It is about disastrous decision', pg 4 'Tokic: We will organize demonstrations before the Presidency', Nezavisne Novine, pg. 10 'Tokic wrote to Tihic' by Fena, FENA – Social-Democratic Union (SDU) Vice President Sejfudin Tokic sent a letter to BiH Presidency Chair Sulejman Tihic on Wednesday following his statement to the media on the decision to send BiH troops to Iraq. Tokic wrote that the "military intervention of America together with several other countries in Iraq, as a method of preventive war against terrorism, has only contributed to the escalation of terrorism in the world and led Iraq into bloody conflicts and war with no end in site unless the US administration changes its policy". "Claims that the participation of BiH military units in the war in Iraq will help the fight against terrorism is politically naive and irresponsible. Countries that are participating with the units in Iraq are exposed to a number of terrorist attacks and threats. It is realistic to expect that BiH and its citizens will also become a target of terrorist attacks and threats if our country sends military units to the Iraqi battlefield", Tokic said.

Tihic confirms troops going to Iraq despite all the opposition

BH Radio 1, BHTV – The BiH Presidency has remained faithful to the previous decision on deploying BiH mine clearance units to the peacekeeping mission in Iraq. The decision was justified on the grounds of offering aid to the people of Iraq and a message to the international community that our country is committed to fighting terrorism. On the other hand, analysts say that the decision was illegal and it was not a question of the mission being international in character, but a one-sided aggression by the USA on Iraq. Troops from BiH will be part of the peacekeeping mission in Iraq, the collective leader of the state has confirmed the earlier adopted decision. Petitions signed in the last few days by a number of our country's citizens have failed to change this. Chairman of the BiH Presidency Sulejman Tihic: "I want to once again point out that this is a mine clearance unit, 36 professionals who are volunteers and that in the meantime the UN Security Council has adopted a number of resolutions which have created the legal framework for UN member-state troops to be deployed." The decision of the Presidency is directly against the will of the citizens, counter-productive and will bring nothing good, military analyst from Banja Luka Gostimir Popovic says. "Especially because public opinion is explicitly against this kind of deployment, basically because this is not a question of an international mission, but a unilateral aggression by the USA on Iraq," Popovic emphasized. Even though nearly all countries who have troops in Iraq have received terrorist threats, chairman Tihic does not believe this will happen to us as BiH above all wants to help the people of Iraq. "In this way we also hope to send a clear message to the international community that we are committed to combating terrorism, that we are part of the international coalition," Tihic said. BiH mine clearance personnel will be clearing mines in Iraq instead of domestic mine clearance, and all this in the pursuit of higher objectives. The annual expenditure will amount to about 5 million KM, of which BiH's share will be 2.5 million. Chairman Tihic says that in return we will receive much, much more. "The USA has set aside this year 19 million dollars for reforms in BiH's defence structures. So, with the 2.5 million KM, despite being a significant sum for us in the present situation, BiH will gain more than the actual amount represents," Tihic emphasized.

Herceg Bosna Radio, FTV, RTRS, Oslobodjenje pg 5 'BiH will not be a terrorists' target', Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'BiH is showing its clear commitment to fight against terrorism', Nezavisne Novine, pg. 4 'Sending of de-miners to Iraq will not cause threats to BiH' by N. N., Dnevni List pg 3 'Tihic without responsibility for pyrotechnicians' by E. Mackic also carried Tihic's statement on the issue.

Glas Srpske, pg. 2 'To Iraq without grounds' not signed, EuroBlic, pg. RS3 'Popovic: this is a bad decision' by Srna carries statement on the issue by Gostimir Popovic.

HDZ requests for debate on national symbols!?	Oslobodjenje cover page, pgs 4-5 'HDZ requests for debate on national symbols!?' – The HDZ BiH Municipal Board in Stolac has proposed that the national symbols and their placement in the town (subject to political disputes for a long time) are discussed at the next session of the Municipal Council scheduled for September 25, Council Chairman Zoran Turkovic told the daily. "I have nothing against such the debate. Quite opposite. But, we want that the issues of a stone cross in the Stolac Old Town, concrete stands for new crosses and unification of the two Stolac scholls under one roof are also discussed at the session," said Turkovic. However, Mladen Boskovic, the leader of the Stolac HDZ, is not informed about the session as well as the discussion on the national symbols allegedly launched by his party.
DL on flags in BiH/Removal of Croat flags in Stolac	Dnevni List pg 11 'Flags whose deadline expired' by N. Bise carries an editorial on the issue of flags in BiH. According to the author, Chairman of the BiH Presidency Sulejman Tihic has in his office a wartime, white flag with 6 lilies, while Croat member of the BiH Presidency Dragan Covic has a Croat flag which for many people symbolizes Herceg Bosna and 1993. Serb member of the BiH Presidency Borislav Paravac has a flag that was guaranteed by the BiH Constitution. The author says that for all these reasons the issue of the flags in BiH should be regulated as soon as possible. The author also mentions the removal of Croat flags in Stolac and says that this act can have two motifs only: either the coming, local elections or it is an attempt to aggravate relations between Bosniaks and Croats.

They say they were given the proposal for consideration 2 days before the date on which it is supposed to be adopted by the City Council, although the Working Group had been working on the proposal for months. The Union is particularly surprised with the unfair behaviour of the OHR and the Senior Deputy High Representative Werner Wnendt who had in contacts with the Union promised that the Union would actively participate in the preparation and drafting of the mentioned proposal.
SD on the issue of Mostar City Administration surplus employees	Slobodna Dalmacija, pg 12, '300 people going to Labour Exchange?', mentioned on cover, by Darko Juka – SD claims that the Mayor and Deputy Mayor of Mostar, Messrs. Hamdija Jahic and Ljubo Beslic, on 17 August signed the final proposal for solving the issue of surplus administration workers in Mostar. The daily says that, in accordance with the proposal, out 800 employees of the City Administration and the former 6 Municipalities, 390 persons with high and higher education are going to keep their jobs, although the biggest number of employees are the ones having secondary education. Less than 100 employees are said to be retired soon. SD adds that the systematisation foresees the City Administration consisting of the City Council, Mayor's Office and its Secretariat, Internal Control and five departments. The daily notes that, of course, the plan is yet to be adopted by the City Council and the competent representative of the International Community. The job vacancies are said to be published in some 10 days, but the Mostar City Administration Trade Union unanimously decided to fight against the publishing of the vacancies until the City Administration secures alternative employment or adequate financial compensations to surplus employees.

SD says that by receiving Pejakovic, High Representative Paddy Ashdown promoted a comedy after a tragedy as an important guideline of the BiH political scene. The author qualifies Pejakovic as a court jester and says that throughout the history the court jesters used to be a source of information and advises and thus the HR came up with the idea to bring into life the institution of the court jester. The author goes on to say that the HR even promoted him into his alternative being aware that Pejakovic does not threaten his (the HR's position), while on the other hand the alternative HR can profit from the whole situation.

Krsman, Glas Srpske, pg. 3 'Lawlessness in sequels' by V. Stakic, FENA – The Ombudsmen for Human Rights in BiH have recommended the BiH Parliamentary Assembly and the Election Commission to consider the possibility for amending the BiH election system/legislation due to certain administrative obstacles in the process of voters' registration as the condition for exercising the right to vote. At a press conference on Wednesday, Ombudsmen Safet Pasic, Mariofil Ljubic and Vitomir Popovic among other things recommended exclusion of the process of active personal voters' registration and adopting amendments to the Election Law instead that will oblige the relevant State bodies to officially exchange information about the citizens' address and other necessary data on the status of the voter. This would avoid the obligation to register for every election process. Another special report of BiH ombudsmen refers to citizens' complaints about Article 143 of the Law on Labor in Federation BiH and Article 152 of the RS Law on Labour. These articles concern the status of workers on so-called waiting lists, who were regularly employed until December 31, 1991 and their rights to severance pay and other benefits. The BiH Ombudsmen concluded that these matters are often not resolved legally, and thus, recommended the Entity governments to pass proper regulations or amendment to the valid laws in order to allow this category of the citizens to exercise their rights. Dnevni List pg 2 'Election system must be changed', mentioned on cover, by D. Polovina-Mandic and Vecernji List pg 5 'Workers and depositors deprived of their rights' by E. The ombudsmen's stand on this issue is that the old foreign currency savings is gained property and it should be treated as such.

As a result of insufficient cooperation between the police and other control bodies, the budget of the RS has lost between 35 to 40 million KM. Closer cooperation is also necessary with minor offence courts that have over 100,000 unsolved cases, Mikerevic pointed out after the meeting in Doboj. "We will also be holding talks with representatives of the Prosecutor's Office, Supreme Court, as well as with basic and county courts, in an attempt to synchronize and create an organizational pyramid that will improve cooperation between departments and institutions, especially with regard to the investigation of crime and economic crime," Mikerevic said. More order needs to be introduced in the sphere of penal policy.
