Political situation following HR/US Govt measures
RS President threatens Ashdown with independence referendum	RHB, BHT 1, FTV, RTRS – RS President Dragan Cavic has warned that any attempt to abolish the RS could lead to a referendum in which the RS would choose its path on its own. Cavic warned on Sunday that if the statement by the High Representative, Paddy Ashdown, that the RS could be abolished was reported correctly that would amount to an anti-Dayton statement and it could just further lead to crisis. In the statement released by his cabinet, Cavic reminded the High Representative that the RS is a result of a “four-year fight of the Serb people and that it is not a gift of the international community, and that the Serb side was an equal participant in the peace talks in Dayton”. He said that with the Peace Agreement the RS received international recognition as an entity in BiH. “If the High Representative constantly repeated that he cannot abolish the RS Ministry of Interior then he certainly does not have the mandate to terminate the RS”, he said. Dnevni Avaz pg 2 ‘How will parties from RS react upon Ashdown’s measures’ by J. Ashdown says
BiH's task
to cooperate with ICTY will not be changed by resignations

RTRS – The High Representative, Paddy Ashdown, commented on situation with resignations on Sunday, after meeting with the European Commission Commissioner for EU Enlargement, Olli Rehn. Ashdown says that there are people in RS who are trying to convince the citizens that his goal is to abolish the RS. “There is one task for BIH, which is not changed by resignations and it would be only further delayed by elections, and that’s to cooperate with ICTY and to continue with the EU reforms. I understand that these latest developments... are serious and are meant to be taken seriously and I am taking them seriously. But they do not change the challenge ahead. Cooperate with the ICTY, fulfil the EU conditions and we will have the future. The longer we fail to do that, the future is more distant from us. That was the situation on Thursday and its still the situation today”, says Ashdown.

FTV – also covered this statement.

Ashdown: 'The measures I announced last week are not designed to punish the citizens of the RS.'	Oslobodjenje cover splash, pgs 4-5 'I don't punish RS, but criminal individuals' by Paddy Ashdown – The article by the HR Paddy Ashdown on the measures he announced last week comments on the resignations submitted by the number of RS politicians: "No amount of resignations will change the facts on what must be done next. It is very important that the nature of my original measures is understood, and it is important that the nature of these resignations is also understood. We are entering a period of political manouvering – the outcome must not jeopardise the real chance, which the citizens of this country now have." Ashdown also underlined that RS must honour its Dayton obligations: "The measures I announced last week are not designed to punish the citizens of the RS. Far from it. These measures have a clear and logical purpose – to provide space, time and means for the RS to get into line with Dayton so that BiH can move forward towards PfP and SAA negotiations." HR concluded: "On the constitutional issue, let us be very clear. It is the RS that is in violation of its Dayton obligations. It is in the interest of the RS and its people that this violation is corrected and corrected quickly. Time is running out... The moment the RS starts cooperating properly with the ICTY, the political weather will change instantly. I believe that the party leaders – including the leaders that have resigned – understand this. I do not believe they intend to let the opportunity that now stands before the people they represent be lost. I believe that when the reaction of this week is examined carefully, wise counsels will prevail." Dnevni Avaz cover 'Resignations would not resolve a single problem in BiH' and pg 3 'RS can survive only through respect of Dayton' by S. Numanovic – In a statement to DA, Paddy Ashdown says that resignations field after 16 December were senseless however that he treats them seriously. He added he would miss RS Prime Minister Dragan Mikerevic, calling him as one of the rare decent people in BiH politics. He also says extraordinary elections are not needed in this moment, denying he will abolish RS.

Z. – Serb delegates at HoR of BiH Parliament think Ashdown has overstepped all limits and is more and more frequently violating constitutions of RS and BiH. Both Momicilo Novakovic (SDS) and Tihomir Gligoric (SPRS) think all Serb parties must define a minimum of national interests and undertake joint measures to preserve institutions established in RS as in accordance with the Dayton Agreement. Dnevni List pg 2, mentioned on front, ‘Extraordinary parliamentary elections – way out of crisis’ by N. Bise – With regard to the meeting, spokesperson of the RS President Jelena Davidovic did not want to comment on the announcements that SDS representatives will launch the initiative for establishment of the Government of National Unity during this meeting. She added that attendants of the meeting will try to find the joint solution and, according to her, at the moment nobody knows what the solution would be like. DL carries on the same issue that the RS opposition believes that the right moment for extraordinary parliamentary elections in BiH has come, while parties in power believe that the crisis will deepen at the state level. Oslobodjenje pg 3 ‘Cavic and parties looking for common answer’ – announcement of the meeting.

DA in with Dodik: "Govt of national unity not possible"	Dnevni Avaz cover 'The Government of national unity is not possible' and pg 5 'The establishment of the Government of national unity in RS is not possible' by Faruk Cardzic – In an interview to DA, Milorad Dodik, SNSD President, says: "The filed and announced resignations could have been expected, although it seems like some international community officials were caught in by these acts." He finds the HR's measures to be inappropriate since they encroached the institutional order of RS, stressing: "One way or the other, we nowadays have a crisis in RS and also in BiH. Whether Adnan Terzic wants to admit it or not, he is already the ex-Chair of BiH COM, since there is no parliament capacity to support the functioning of BiH COM. In this regard, a serious talk on possible way-puts from the crisis must be conducted. We from SNSD and I personally will not be filling in the positions of Ministers, who will be leaving their seats." On Monday's meeting with RS President Dragan Cavic, Dodik says that SNSD will present a proposal regarding settlement of the existing crisis, including scheduling of early parliamentary elections for the first few months of next year at latest. He concludes the interview by saying that: "The definition of Government of national unity is completely incomprehensible, hence I find it to be serving for daily political purposes. I am convinced we should be realistic and composed. The constitutional concept of authority in RS stipulates five Bosniaks and three Croats should be ministers at Government, which excludes the possibility of national unity. It is only possible to compose the Government of national unities." He expresses his view that PDP and SDS officials would remain faithful to their announcements on resignations.

He adds that resignations of PDP members were very well considered. Siljegovic says that those who thought that HR measures will cause a crisis in one part of BiH had to feel that this is a crisis in entire BiH. RTRS reporter concludes that everything is possible after the meeting of RS parties organized by the RS President Dragan Cavic.
Terzic: new composition of CoM possible	Nezavisne Novine pg 3 'Terzic: New composition of BiH CoM possible' – Adnan Terzic, BiH CoM Chair, is of the view that possible authority crisis can be resolved through re-composition of parliament majority or through the new composition of the BiH CoM, adding: "Each of these two options is slowing down the reforms and course of BiH towards European integration and Partnership for Peace, which we have already put at halt over the non-cooperation with the ICTY. And this is all in the interest of opposition parties, that claims this authority is incapable of running the state."

Nacional: Kopley says HR wants to destroy RS	Nacional, cover 'Serbia in stranglehold: Paddy Ashdown threatens with abolishing RS, which is a direct help to Shiptari to initiate the final countdown' and pg. 13 'Paddy is protecting Islamic terrorists' by P. T. N. – The President of the Association for International Strategic Studies Gregory Kopley (often writes for Washington paper "Defense and Foreign Affairs") accuses HR Paddy Ashdown of open protection of Islamic terrorists in BiH who supply "anti-terrorist coalitions" in Iraq with soldiers and weapons. He claims terrorists from BiH have managed to deliver weapons to Persian Gulf through Ploce port, which indicates Croatian authority and intelligence service had knew about this. Kopley also claims a Turkish battalion, which is seated in Tuzla , has contributed in transporting of Islamist soldiers to the Persian Gulf . According to Kopley, the main intention of radical Muslims and Ashdown is to destroy RS.

The President of the Union of Associations of Families of Killed and Missing Persons, Milijana Bojic, says HR Paddy Ashdown will, through his behavior, produce a situation similar to the situation from 1992. The article also carries an announcement that the Coordination Board of NGOs will file charges against Ashdown next week to the Court for Human Rights in Strasbourg and to UN SC. Labus said that consequences of such a decision would be negative even though Ashdown's intentions might have been good. Nezavisne Novine, pg. 4 'Attack on the Dayton Peace Agreement' by Agencies, Glas Srpske, pg. 4 'Dangerous for the entire region' not signed – The articles read that the latest measures brought by HR were in Serbia interpreted as an announcement of abolishing of RS and as an obvious violation of the Dayton Agreement. Deputy President of SRS Tomislav Nikolic said that he has already warned that the IC was preparing to abolish RS and to make up BiH again, "preparing it for some new wars." "RS leadership did not listen, they thought that by flattering the occupier it can achieve something, thus we are in this situation," stated Nikolic. ## Op-eds on resignations and HR/US Govt measures

VL on possible consequences of the measures	Vecernji List cover pg splash ‘Serbs block whole state’ and pg 3 ‘Serbs endanger state institutions and BiH budget’ by D. Jazvic – VL speculates about consequences of the current political crisis in the RS. The article says that this crisis happened at the time when reform processes have been underway, when the state Parliament is supposed to adopt the budget for the next year etc. According to the author, the most painless solution would be the SDS decision to stay in the state authority and the worst solution from the aspect of pro-European reforms would be the boycott of the state institutions by all Serb parties and early elections.
VL op-ed on resignations in RS: “RS before abolishment?”	Vecernji List pg 2 ‘RS before abolishment? by M. Vasilj carries an editorial on the resignations in the RS and, among the other things, the author says: ‘In any case, politicians in the RS will be changing by the will of voters at the elections or due to the HR’s decisions, however, the project of a Serb state western from Drina river will remain untouched due to the will of the International Community that Ashdown exactly represents in BiH.’

Oslobodjenje  op-ed on  current  situation:  Solution  could be  elections and  SNSD	Oslobodjenje op-ed pg 9 'A turning-point' by Ibrahim Prohic – The author notes that the RS top leadership is faithful to its political philosophy to avoid the responsibility and reject possible compromises in reaction to relatively slack OHR and US measures. On possible solutions to the current situation, the author notes that early elections is not a solution either, since BiH has no time left. Namely, by April 2005, BiH must have fulfilled duties towards its integration to EU. The author concludes: "It seems the solution to enigma is SNSD and Milorad Dodik. However, OHR must not make a wrong move either. An end must be put to selective interpretation of Dayton in the interest of all citizens and BiH."
DL says HDZ-  SDS-SDA  coalition  falls apart	Dnevni List pg 2 'House of cards is collapsing' by F. Hebibovic carries an editorial which says that 'an unnatural alliance among HDZ, SDA and SDS' is being faced with its biggest crisis and according to the author the state which HDZ, SDA and SDS tailored for BiH citizens with the strong support of the International Community is collapsing as a house of cards.

NN op-ed says resignations of PDP official will not lead to mayor crisis	Nezavisne Novine op-ed pg 7 'No major crisis' by Josip Blazevic – The author notes that the resignations of the PDP officials from the state and entity institutions' position would not lead to major authority crisis in BiH, but instead resignations of SDS officials might. He notes SDS would not withdraw from authority, since it is aware of the fact it would no longer be in a position to preserve the RS, adding that IC must have proper response to such activities (referring to activities related to Croat self-rule and withdrawal of HDZ officials from state bodies). The author stresses Cavic had to be harsh in his statements because of the electorate, but his words have no weight. The author also highlights that High Representative has not encroached into RS authorities to the extent he could have.
Vjesnik editorial on RS crisis	Vjesnik pg 11 'Masks have fallen down' by A. Zornija carries an editorial on the RS crisis and the author says: 'Rhetoric of Serb politicians is something that we have already heard. It is being said that Ashdown has exceeded his powers and abolished RS institutions. The thing that causes concern is that there is no a single serious political factor with a Serb prefix in the RS who has considerably different stand from SDS or PDP when the preservation of the RS is in question. For this reason extraordinary elections are not a solution at all. Masks in BiH have fallen down.'

Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'BiH has not still fulfilled a key requirement' by F. Cardzic – The newly appointed Commissioner for EU expansion, Oli Rehn, stated after the meeting in Sarajevo with Paddy Ashdown, High Representative to BiH, on Sunday that the fact that his first visit to BiH took place just few weeks after he had assumed his position represented a clear sign of the European Commission's commitment to seriously cooperate with BiH and ensure its admission into this organisation. On BiH, he stressed: "Evident problems still do exist. The key requirement which still needs to be fulfilled is a full cooperation with the ICTY. I would like to mention the structural reform within police force, which is also an important goal. On the other hand, I would like to stress that the new European Commission will be a friend of BiH, who will be commending and pointing at necessary political, economic and other reforms on one hand, but also a friend, who will be pointing at all the obstacles, mistakes and anything still necessary to be done." Commissioner Rehn resumes his visit today (Monday) at meetings with BiH Presidency members, BiH CoM Chair, and Director of the Directorate for European Integration.

BHT 1, FTV, Oslobodjenje pg 2 'Cooperation with the Hague the only obstacle', Vecernji List pg 2 'Ashdown met with Oli Rehn' by kd, Nezavisne Novine, cover 'Paddy Ashdown: Resignations will slow down reforms' and pg. 2 'Slowing down of reforms' by R. Pasalic added that this means that there is a wish to assimilate the Croats and turn them into Bosniaks Catholics. SDA Vice President Seada Palavric protested against Pasalic's statement and said that due to such statements she expects from the BiH authorities to proclaim Pasalic persona non grata in BiH.

DL: "Only
rescues RS"

Dnevni List cover pg splash and pg 3 'Only Sanader rescues RS' by Dnevni List investigative team –DL intelligence sources claim that in accordance with their proclaimed policy whose goal is preservation of the RS, the British intelligence agents are working on the Croatian Government and its Prime Minister Ivo Sander. Allegedly, Sander was told that Croatia would receive a green light for joining the EU only if it helps achieving certain British strategic goals in Western Balkans. DL also says that due to this situation, Sanader has met with the Serbian leadership recently and during this meeting he promised that through his people in HDZ (these people are, allegedly, Dragan Covic and a few former intelligence agents) he would prevent abolishing of the RS. According to the article, Sanader pays visit to BiH today in order to secure further implementation of the British demands in the field and not because of the pre-election campaign for presidential elections in Croatia. DL concludes that the British Intelligence Services have succeeded to establish full control over Western Balkans countries Governments and the Greta Britain exactly will be determining destiny of this part of Europe in the next 5 to 10 years. Vecernji List pg 2 'Jelavic will stay in prison next month although there will be no trial against him' by Z. VL says that Prosecutor John McNair needs this time to change the bill of indictment since it was met with fiasco after few witnesses gave their testimonies. VL also says that Jelavic's defense believes that there is no any reason to keep Jelavic in detention and it is possible that they would call McNair to account because of this situation. VL also says that this can be done due to the changes in the Law on judiciary.
