Capljina incident/ security issues

EUFOR: Capljina ceremony did not breach law, but Nikolic should consider new book of rules
on ceremonies

BHT1, FTV, Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'Military discipline not breached at the Capljina oath taking ceremony', Nezavisne Novine pg 3 'There was no violation of military discipline' by M. C., Glas Srpske pg 2 'Solemn and correct' by N. Z. – EUFOR concluded that the oath taking ceremony in Capljina on June 17 was conducted in a dignified manner. The oath to BiH was sworn solemnly and correctly. Unlike the ceremony at Manjaca on 16 April 2005, there was no collective disobedience of the law or a collective violation of military discipline, EUFOR announced on Tuesday. Nevertheless, the intonation of the Croatian national anthem in the ceremony – especially in such a prominent position – does raise serious and important questions, particularly in the light of the public disquiet over the events at Manjaca. It is important that there are no doubts about the constitutional loyalty of any of the components of the Armed Forces of BiH, was announced. The announcement says it is regrettable that Minister Miroslav Nikolic did not take the opportunity to review the propriety and legality of the playing of the Croatian anthem when concerns about the protocol were brought to his attention, and knowing that the Defense Reform Commission has yet to develop and approve a new book of rules on military ceremonies. EUFOR stresses that the rulebook on military ceremonies needs to be rewritten, which is primarily the responsibility of the BiH authorities.

RTRS – EUFOR expects BIH Defence Minister Nikola Radovanovic to submit the report on the practice and legal issues regarding national anthem playing at military ceremonies.

NATO says no similarities between Capljina and Manjaca ceremonies	Hayat, Oslobođenje, pg 6 'No similarities with Manjaca', by Onasa, Nezavisne Novine pg 3 'There was no violation of military discipline' by M. C., Glas Srpske pg 2 'Solemn and correct' by N. Z. – NATO spokesperson Derek Chapel stated that events that took place in Capljina were not comparable with the incidents that took place in Manjaca and Bileca, when recruits booed BiH anthem and took oath to RS instead of BiH. PINK – "Events which took place on Friday were formal. Official flag, national anthem were respected. There were no nationalistic signs, nor insulting speeches. Question whether it was appropriate to play national anthem of some other state is a legal one, and legal advises are going to be undertaken. It should be pointed out that this ceremony, which took place on Friday, was not similar to the one we saw on April 16", said NATO Spokesperson Derek Chappel.
---	--

Nikolic says there is no need for investigation of Capljina ceremony	Hayat by Asim Beslija – FBiH Minister of Defence Miroslav Nikolic said that he sees no problem in having Croatian anthem played along with the BiH one during the oath taking ceremonies. Nikolic said that since no laws had been breached there was no reason for any kind of investigation to be carried out. He says that the reaction was a political game"In a way, it seems as if the aim was to make a parallel between the two events, namely the one in Bileca and Manjaca where laws were broken and one during which no laws were broken", said Nikolic. Nikolic says that the whole event is nothing but the right of a constitutive nation to preserve its culture and tradition, even through the military structures. Reporter ends the whole story by saying that he can't wait to see what the oath taking ceremony of joint BiH Army is going to look like, since, if the trend is to be continued, it will be more like a music concert.
HVO objects investigation of Capljina ceremony	RHB, Oslobođenje, pg 6 'Protest of volunteers and veterans of HVO', not signed – HVO Veterans Association expressed its dissatisfaction with the investigation of events in Capljina when Croatian national anthem was played during solemn oath taking of FBiH army recruits.

According to unofficial information, the Financial Police's request, which was forwarded to the FBiH Interior Ministry some 20 days ago, is still with the FBiH MoI because allegedly, the FBiH Police Administration Director, Zlatko Miletic, is calling upon official secret, which resulted in no answer to the aforementioned requests. The FBiH Finance Ministry paid on April 27, 2001 half a million KMs to an account of an unknown UN official for the help in the Leutar investigation. McNair: Recent failures have not shaken the optimism
of BiH Prosecutor's Office
Special Department

BHT 1 by Boris Grubesic – Deputy Director of BiH Interpol Asim Fazlic was acquitted last week on all counts of the indictment, after he spent more than a year in custody. Sedinet Karic and other six indicted persons were found guilty for only small part of the indictment on Monday. Head of the Department for Organized Crime, Economic Crimes and Corruption to the BiH Prosecutor's Office John McNair claims that those verdicts have not shaken the optimism of this department: "What is needed is the will to process these cases before the court. The police and the Prosecutor's Office are not supposed to work only on easy cases, but on those more complex as well. We will win some and we will lose some, and we have to be prepared for this", added McNair. Fazlic will probably return to his job, but he will also probably file a request for the compensation. According to the BHT reporter, two main problems are that some foreign employees in BiH judiciary system are not familiar with the European convention on human rights, and that they could not be processed before the courts in BiH because they have diplomatic immunity.
