We told clearly to authorities in Banja Luka nad Belgrade that we will not normalize relations until those two are not arrested and extradited... [RS] must know where is Karadzic. He is one of them. Most probably Karadzic spends several months a year in RS, there he has a network of supporters. RS Government must do everything to either find him or to help us find him... The responsibility for solving the issue up to RS authorities and not the BiH officials, Terzic or Tihic," concludes Burns.

This is a mistake that we have made in Dayton. Nick Barns said that we did the most we could however I believe that we could do more. After all we have stopped the war, introduced a joint currency, created a unified country and for this reason the RS must acknowledge once and for all that BiH is an integrated country. Ivanic says talks on constitutional changes will certainly continue	Pink, Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Expectation to introduce one president were unrealistic', SRNA – BiH Foreign Minister Mladen Ivanic told SRNA that a joint statement signed by BiH political leaders in Washington expressed commitment to creating conditions for building BiH institutions that can answer the demands and standards of the EU and NATO. "The statement says that we will continue the talks on the Constitution, but stresses that we will keep the Presidency, Parliament and the Council of Ministers. Expectations that one president be elected in BiH, in my opinion, were unrealistic," said Ivanic. He said that the RS parties still support the three-member Presidency. "There was a demand that the Council of Ministers be renamed into a Cabinet. We support the Council of Ministers and feel that the House of Peoples should exist as well, which could have a more simplified role," said Ivanic. He said that the joint statement means that the talks will certainly be continued in BiH. Ivanic feels that the most important thing is that there was no pressure from outside, and there were no attempts to impose a solution. He hopes that such a position will remain, "since it would not be good for BiH if the IC were to impose political positions and attempt to impose solutions." "That would return BiH years into the past, to the pre-war period, for which there is no need or justification," feels Ivanic. K. – PDP President Mladen Ivanic said that parties from the FBiH are responsible for the failure of the Washington negotiations. He added: 'Representatives of the Serb parties have an impression that SDA President Sulejman Tihic has come convinced that the RS would be abolished in Washington and when he became aware that nothing would come out of it, he left negotiations in an improper way. On the other hand, Croat parties led by HDZ tried to open the talks on establishment of many Federal units in BiH.'

OHR: It is up to BiH politicians to resolve issue of constitutional changes ASAP	RHB, Pink – The OHR Spokesperson Mario Brkic presented the OHR stance on the Washington talks on constitutional reform in BiH at a press conference in Sarajevo on Tue4sday. “Constitutional changes do not present a term for integration in Europe. It is up to domestic politicians to solve this issue as soon as possible”, said Brkic.
Bandur (HNZ) comment on Washington talks	Dnevni List , pg 3, mentioned on front ‘Statement harmonized after fifth reading’, by Ivana Rozic – Mate Bandur from the Croat People’s Union (HNZ), who took part in the Washington talks, explains that the documents the BiH political parties signed in Washington means that BiH political parties are dedicated to follow and implement reforms that are necessary for BiH to become a full NATO and EU member. He notes that in order to achieve this, BiH must strengthen state institutions that will be consistent with other member countries of the Euro-Atlantic community and work on protection of human rights. Slobodna Dalmacija , back pg ‘USA will guarantee constitutional changes’, by V. He also noted that the ‘mother of all questions’ was the issue of territorial organization of BiH, which has to be agreed with the other two peoples, stressing that the Croats will this time around decide on their own destiny because the Croats have to consider themselves as a constituent people, not anyone’s Diaspora. Slobodna Dalmacija , back pg ‘Livno is more important to Covic than Dayton’, by Frano Mioc – Covic was asked during the debate about the issue of RTV tax, and he reportedly answered that he did not pay the RTV tax and that he would start paying it when a Croat TV has been established in BiH.

Russia says most important thing in BiH is to preserve consensus amongst peoples	Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'It is up to peoples in BiH to determine system in the country', Glas Srpske pg 5 'To preserve consent' not signed, Nezavisne Novine pg 3 'Russia supports changes based on Dayton', SRNA – The Russian Foreign Ministry feels that the proven positive side of the Dayton Accords must serve as the basis for the constitutional process in BiH, as all of its major aims, they being confidence building and the establishment of constructive cooperation among the constituent peoples, are more valid than ever. "It is important for the eventual evolution of the Dayton accords to serve the strengthening of inter-state dialogue, to take into account the complicated realities and challenges of the Balkans," says a press release. The Russian Foreign Ministry stresses that it is up to the peoples of BiH to arrange their country. "Russia is prepared to continue supporting the strengthening of BiH as a factor of European stability, this to include comprehensive and mutually beneficial Russian-BiH cooperation," says the press release. It stresses that the 10 years of implementation of the peace agreement have revealed the shortcomings inherent in the Dayton system of state management. "Overly intense IC presence has led to the development of BiH's political life, to a 'syndrome of dependence' on foreign factors. Local initiative is squashed, transfer of responsibility for the future to BiH citizens is very late in coming. Democratic institutions, whose actions are under the supervision of IC structures, are being defamed in the eyes of foreigners," adds the Russian Foreign Ministry. It says that all of this has led to political debate, both inside BiH and outside, on the possibility of changing the peace agreement and Constitution. "The most important condition for stability in BiH is to preserve the consensus of the BiH parties with respect to the crucial issues of the state's functioning," says Russia

The resolution states that the "primary responsibility" for the further implementation of the Dayton Agreement "rests with the BiH authorities and the further readiness of the international community and leading donors to implement political, military and economic tasks" in the reconstruction of the country. The UN Security Council of Ministers extended the mandate of EUFOR in BiH for another year and welcomed the progress of BiH towards EU membership, ten years after the peace agreement ended the war which divided the country. The Security Council of Ministers also extended the mandate of NATO to assist the EU peacekeeping forces in BiH, which number 6.500 soldiers. The UN Security Council endorsed the resolution on extending the mandate of peacekeeping forces in BiH several hours after the EU foreign affairs ministers approved the start of talks on a Stabilisation and Association Agreement with BiH. The EU stated that the talks would start in Sarajevo on Friday.

Omeragic – Czech Ambassador to BiH Jiří Kuděla has stated he recommends to BiH authorities to let experts deal with negotiations on SAA and he also recommends them not to politicize the negotiations without any need. He noted BiH would later need a stronger state government, as well as Ministries that currently do not exist. Although he thinks it would be the best for BiH to be developed as a "citizens' state of equal-righted people, regardless to which nation they belong", Kudela believes the Dayton rights should be respected too 'even in those areas where one of the peoples represents the majority'. With regard to the next HR, Kudela said he hopes Czech candidate, Alexander Vondra, would be appointed to this position, but even if some other candidate, for example Christian Schwartz Schilling, is appointed instead, Kudela says Czech Republic would support BiH in its efforts to join EU.

NN op-ed on SAA talks: chance offered by Europe must be extremely seriously acknowledged	Nezavisne Novine op-ed pg 7 'A European gift' by Aleksandar Sekulic – Writing about decision of the EU CoM to recommend launchmet of SAA talks with BiH, the author notes this is the most valuable gift BiH could have got on the 10th anniversary of Dayton Peace Accords, stressing that the chance offered by Europe must be extremely seriously acknowledged and understood, since every minute wasted on this course would cost us a wasted year in achieving the final goal – admission to EU. He concludes that it depends on those running the state on the course to EU when BiH will be admitted to EU, adding there is no time to have second thoughts and stalling.
VL: EU would like to have 5 regions in BiH	Vecernji List, pg 3 'EU regions are abolishing the Dayton RS', by Zdenko Jurilj – VL argues that the regionalization of BiH is a plan that needs to be implemented in BiH if the country wants to use pre-accession funds of the EU. VL notes that official Brussels concocted a project entitled 'BiH to Europe with five regions' four years ago, whose plan is to economically strengthen the five regions in BiH (Sarajevo, Mostar, Banja Luka, Zenica and Tuzla), which should eventually result in decrease of political influences the current cantons and entities have. VL also notes that the RS authorities sent the EC a letter in which they claimed that the issue of economic regionalization of BiH is a political issue and that the ultimate goal of some parties is not the proclaimed economic progress, but further sidelining of the RS institutions.

FBiH HoR on Energopetrol/Reactions by Hadzipasic, Grahovac, Dzihanovic	RHB, BHT, Hayat, FTV, Dnevni Avaz pg 10 '24 sustained votes of SDA saved FBiH Government' by M. Kukan – A. Dedajic say that representatives of the parties at whose demand an emergency session of the FBiH HoR was convened on Tuesday and who demanded annulment of the FBiH Government decision on Energopetrol's (EP) strategic partner (INA-MOL) remain shocked at the end of the session. DA also says that SDA had a crucial role in the whole issue (out of 35 SDA representatives in the FBiH HoR, 24 of them were sustained, while HDZ did not take part in it at all and President of the HDZ Caucus Ivan Madunic announced this scenario and said that HDZ would express its support to the FBiH Government in this way). Oslobodjenje pg 2, mentioned on cover 'FBiH Government continues talks with INA-MOL' by S. Sehercehajic also reported on the session. Dnevni Avaz pg 10 'FBiH Government starts with preparation of contract' – FBiH Prime Minister Ahmet Hadzipasic stated after the session that it should be waited for the session of the FBiH House of Peoples. Dnevni Avaz pg 10 'Obvious manipulation of Parliament' carries FBiH Deputy Prime Minister Gavrilo Grahovac as saying that the Parliament did not decide anything since the session was run in a way that there was no voting at the FBiH Government's decision at all. According to Grahovac this shows that it can be manipulated with the Parliament if there is a wish to do so. Dnevni Avaz pg 10 'To sanction criminal activities' carries FBiH Vice President Sahbaz Dzihanovic as saying that the Parliament actually did not do anything. He added: 'The attitude of the FBiH Parliament is a serious indicator that this body does not want to take over responsibility for future events in the so-called process of privatization...' Dnevni List pg 2 'Meridzo sold Energopetrol' by M. Hayat on alleged dispute between OHR and
CoM re police ranks

Hayat Asim Beslija – The BiH Council of Ministers tried to adopt regulation book on police ranks, regardless of the fact that it is not in line with law on BiH police officers. Allegedly, the regulation book should allow individuals, who got promoted under suspicious circumstances and without any qualifications, to keep their positions. The OHR was the first to react. It suspended adoption of the regulation book, by saying that it is not in line with the law on BiH police officers. “The regulation book, proposed by the Ministry, contains regulations which would allow persons, without police experience to be ranked and by this the law’s intention has been violated. The OHR will continue insisting on having the law on BiH police officers’ regulations consistently implemented which present the base of professional and efficient police work”, said the OHR Spokesperson Sanela Tunovic. Reporter says that a lot more has been hiding behind the OHR’s words, since it was obvious that certain highly ranked police officials, who were building their careers without respecting any kind of criteria, were trying to be protected. BiH Deputy Minister of Security Dragan Mektic says that there are such persons in police, but that the exact number of them remains unknown. Mektic says that all of it happened due to the lack of criteria, a long before. “Such person should not be eliminated from the position by the regulation book on ranks, but due to the fact that he/she lacks necessary qualification”, says Mektic. According to Mektic, dispute between the OHR and BiH Council of Ministers occurred due to criteria on initial rank. The OHR stated that even different kinds of professionals, while entering police forces, should be given the lowest rank, regardless of their experience, while the CoM believed that they should be ranked according to their experience and qualification.
