As for food industry, companies announced that they will not change the prices of bread and other products in the next 10 days despite the fact the oil price also affects them. In the past two months oil prices in BiH grew for 23%. Oslobodjenje cover, pg 6 'Transportation more expensive?' by M.Kavaz – Daily also talks about the oil prices growth trend and speculates on possible increase of transportation costs. RTRS – Chairman of RS association of oil distributors Vukasin Vojinovic said that an urgent meeting was demanded at BIH level to discuss the price differences between entities and Brcko District, where the oil is cheaper by 4 pfening. In addition, all oil distribution will hold a meeting in September to discuss the general price growth of oil and its possible shortage. NOTE: All print media have reported on the increase of oil prices.

Coordination Board for Euro-Atlantic integrations criticises IMF stand-by arrangements	Oslobodjenje pg 7 'IMF halts BiH economy' by V. Zivak, Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'To enable banks to increase investments' by Aj.D., Nezavisne Novine, cover 'IMF against import quotas' and pg. 4 'IMF against decision on introducing of import quotas' by M. C., Slobodna Dalmacija, pg 7 'Proposal: A 17% VAT?', by Zdenko Rerig, Dnevni List, pg 6 'Apart from economic stabilization, BiH must have space for development', by Erna Mackic – BiH authorities will in negotiations with the IMF insist that some provisions of the stand-by arrangement for 2005, which the IMF has sent to BiH authorities, be harmonized. Following the 22nd session of the Coordination Board for Euro-Atlantic integration attended among others by the Chairman of BiH Council of Ministers, Adnan Terzic, and entity Prime Ministers Dragan Mikerevic and Ahmet Hadzipasic, it was stated that some provisions of the stand-by arrangement are not in function of long-term economic development of BiH. This especially refers to import policy, in which development of some areas of economy would be halted without short-term interventions of the State. The Coordination Board also discussed the work of the Indirect Tax Administration, concluding that the envisaged VAT rate set at 17% is the most appropriate solution at the moment. However, some products should be VAT free. BHT 1 – Board said that the VAT exemption will be asked for meat and certain automobile parts, stressing that the stand-by arrangement must be harmonized until October so it could be implemented next year. RTRS – RS Prime Minister Dragan Mikerevic explains that a reason for asking IMF to make certain corrections in the agreement is that the arrangement contains some clauses stopping BIH authorities in launching some of the future initiatives to protect domestic production and affirm economic development. "For example we forbid the export of logs which would mean in the short term that we would increase the higher phase of wood processing in BIH and by that we would have higher foreign currency income", says Dragan Mikerevic. "Many solutions we proposed are in fact with regard to re-defining relations especially in this part of crediting policy," says Ahmet Hadzipasic FBiH Prime minister. "We as a country in development have to have a small space where apart from stabilisation we can speak about development and I think that today us 3 Prime ministers will send a letter to Mr. Doyle of our views to the suggested stand by", says Adnan Terzic Chairman of CoM. FTV – "Mr. Doyle and people that leads IMF gives too much authority to themselves and at the end one of them will become Trade Minister here," says Terzic, explaining that it is not IMF job to discuss quotas or trade liberalisation.

Publishers oppose VAT on books	RHB, BHT 1, Oslobođenje pg 8 'Miserable is the state which depends on taxes on books', mentioned on cover, by K.R., Dnevni Avaz pg 8 'Kulenovic: After being burned during the war, books will be set on fire by VAT' by A. Malagic – On Monday, the BiH Association of Publishers and Booksellers invited the Council of Ministers and BiH Parliament to abolish the VAT on books. In the meeting between authors and journalists, Association's President Ibrahim Spahic said that the VAT rate of 0 percent on books equals development, and that the 17 percent rate equals darkness. Authors present said that the appeal against introducing VAT is supported by numerous people from the entire BiH, including both academics and BiH citizens. The petition against introducing VAT has two thousand signatures, and it should be forwarded to the BiH Council of Ministers.
Treasury Minister: Only smaller changes to VAT Law possible	RHB, BHT 1, Oslobođenje pg 8 'Only smaller changes in the VAT Law possible' by Fena, Dnevni Avaz pg 8 'Only smaller changes of VAT possible' – BiH Minister for Finance and Treasury Ljerka Maric told Fena that every initiative about the Bill on VAT is absolutely welcome, including the initiative launched by the BiH Association of Publishers on relieving books and publishing from VAT, but only if it does not disturb the system. Minister Maric declared that a meeting with the publishers would be held during this week to talk about their initiative. However, Maric has confirmed her previous statements on the occasion of accepting the Draft Law on VAT in early July, namely that it will be possible to make only minor corrections in the final version of the law that should be adopted in the BiH Parliament. VAT should be introduced in BiH as of July 1, 2005.
Terzic says 17% VAT adequate for BiH	BHT 1 by Lejla Redzovic – If one rate VAT is introduced in BiH, the State will equally treat purchase of luxury automobile and basic life supplies. Therefore, experts propose lower and higher VAT rates, while the current intention to introduce one rate VAT means that the price of food previously exempted from taxes or with a take rate of 10 % will be increased. However, the same time the taxes for cars will be lower than before. "I believe that VAT rate of 17% will remain, as it will be seen that it is the most adequate for BiH. There is a good will in authorities to find optimal solution and today's indicators show that 17% is optimal, and in six months it can be different," stated Chair of the Council of Ministers, Adnan Terzic.

Mikerevic says 17% VAT to burden agriculture	Glas Srpske, pg. 2 'Huge burden for agriculture' by V. S. – RS Prime Minister Dragan Mikerevic stated that the RS Government believes a lower VAT rate should be defined for agricultural products in order to prevent sale of agricultural products on a black market. He assessed that the proposed single rate of 17% would be too great burden for agriculture and said it would be better if the state introduced a lower tax rate for agricultural products from the very beginning. He reminded that the Government has even proposed introducing of so called 0% tax rate in order to respect a social element in fiscal system. 'The sixth directive of EU prevents this, however it is not impossible to introduce a minimum of a tax rates, from which the state would have benefits, while such a tax rate would not be a burden for farmers', Mikerevic stated.
OHR: No economic argument for Buk Bijela dam project	RHB, FTV, RTRS, Oslobodjenje pg 9 'No economic arguments for Buk Bijela' by Fena, Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Suspend Buk Bijela project', Slobodna Dalmacija pg 6 'Economically unjustified construction of dam Buk Bijela' by B. Kristo, Glas Srpske, cover page 'Stop to Buk Bijela' not signed, EuroBlic, pg. RS7 'Montenegrins do not want a dam' by Srna, Nezavisne Novine, pg. 3 'Strong arguments for a suspension of Buk Bijela' by I. Simundza – OHR has issued a statement regarding the petition signed by 13.000 by citizens in Montenegro against the construction of Buk Bijela hydropower plant on Drina river stressing that such massive civil response suggests that "this is a deeply unpopular project with a potentially devastating impact on the environment, and on the potential for tourism." In addition, OHR points that that this "strengthens the arguments for suspending the project set out by the BiH Special Auditor's Office in their audit of RS Elektroprivreda (ERS), published in February 2003. The audit pointed out that there had been no credible feasibility study, financial analysis or environmental impact study done for the Buk Bijela project, and raised serious concerns about its long-term economic viability... The BiH Special Auditor therefore recommended that Buk Bijela project should be stopped until after ERS has been restructured for privatisation, and credible financial and environmental studies had been carried out." OHR also warns that if RS and Montenegro authorities proceed with the project without adequate procedure "it would raise serious questions in the international community about the ability of the two governments to handle major infrastructure projects responsibly."

Oslobodjenje: "Sugar affair" never existed	Oslobodjenje cover page 'Sugar affair with EU never existed' by Azhar Kalamujic – Daily claims it learns that the European Union so far has not offered a single evidence to customs investigators in BiH that would prove information on 'sugar affair' that were in the focus of media attention recently. Chairman of the CoM, Adnan Terzic said that the Indirect Taxation Administration informed him that there are no evidences to support that the companies in BiH illegally exported sugar from BiH to EU member states. Daily further says that the investigation carried by the ITA and BiH Prosecution so far confirm Terzic statement. According to the source close to the investigation, about 250.000 tons of sugar more than needed was imported to BiH and the majority ended up in RS. There is a possibility that sugar from RS was further smuggled to Croatia and SCG.

Vele – The Youth Forum from Stolac today sends a letter to the High Representative Paddy Ashdown and FBiH and Cantonal authorities warning them of the new, recurring, post of Herceg Bosna flags in Stolac downtown. Chairman of the Forum, Nerin Dizdar, says that "it is unacceptable for flags of parastate Herceg Bosna to wave in Stolac." He repeated that members of the Forum will again remove the flags on their own if authorized institutions failed to do so. The chairman of the Stolac Municipal Council Zoran Turkovic states for DA that next week Council will hold session to discuss this issue. He adds that Croat side is particularly interested in this discussion for another reason: "Bosniak representatives suggested... discussion on unification of Primary and Secondary Education in the city. Some of Croat representatives do not favour that, so they are trying to prepare terrain through flags for over-voting Bosniaks in City Council and reach more deep goals, that is division of education." Head of Stolac Municipality, Zeljko Obradovic, comments the situation in Stolac criticising Youth Forum, adding that the police should have never allowed the Forum to take Herceg Bosna flags down.

Oslobodjenje pg 2 'Stola' op-ed by Mirko Sagolj – Editorial warns that if the situation in Stolac keeps to get tense like this all the time "there will be blood." Sagolj blames HDZ and SDA, noting that in Stolac there are no Serbs presently as if they never lived there, for creating the situation alike in Mostar with a division as their final aim.

calls for implementation of adopted
laws

Vecernji List, pg 3 'State security institutions must become functional', by Dejan Jazvic – the daily announces an interview with the High Representative for BiH, Paddy Ashdown, which will be published tomorrow. In today's edition, VL carries HR Ashdown as sending a message to BiH authorities that they must implement in next few months the laws they have adopted since the beginning of the year. According to HR Ashdown, start of negotiations with the EU on stabilization and association will depend on implementation of the laws. VL notes that the OHR has defined six key areas i.e. institutions that must become functional in next few months, if BiH wants to get a positive answer from the EC. These refer to a complete start of work of the SIPA, war crimes department with the BiH Court, Indirect Tax Administration, intelligence-security service, Minister of Defence and other recently established ministries.

SD: ICG report on international presence in BiH	Slobodna Dalmacija front and pg 12 'America stays in BiH because of 'Islamic state'' by J. Celan – SD carries parts of the International Crises Group study published under title 'Euphoria: Change of security arrangement in Bosnia' immediately after the NATO's Summit in Istanbul that took place in June. According to this study, replacement of NATO with the EU forces will be the most important change of the international presence in BiH since the end of the war. Celan also says that one can see from this study that there is a tension between NATO's/Anglo-American and European views on the BiH's near future. Celan goes on to say: "Nevertheless, the ICG study clearly defines a real political membership of High Representative Paddy Ashdown: having in mind his 'strong hand' the authors say that in general the HR is considered to be an honorary American in Bosnia." The author also mentions the study of Daniel Serwer ('Balkans: From American to European leadership') who says that the USA engagement in BiH has always been a result of combination of background interests such as prevention of creating of an Islamic state in central Bosnia.

It is up to the authorized institutions to find those documents."*

Vecernji List, pg 5 'Documents that The Hague wants are – in private archives', by Zdenko Jurilj – VL learns from a 'reliable' source that wants to stay anonymous that a part of the Herceg Bosna archives the ICTY Prosecution is interested in, is in private archives, basements and apartments of people who indirectly or directly participated in tailoring of political decision on destiny of BiH Croats. Allegedly, a part of the documents is in possession of former intelligence officials, whilst a part of the documentation was destroyed because of negligence, which means the ICTY prosecution will have difficulties in recovering them.

Decision on pre-trial release of 6 Croats to be passed this week?	Dnevni List pg 7 'Final decision on status of Prlic and others this week', mentioned on cover 'Decision on status of Prlic and others by end of week' by I. RS journalists
against Njegus

RTRS by Sinisa Mihajlovic – Associations of journalists strongly condemned the RS Police Director Radomir Njegus who stated last week at the press conference that a dangerous lobby works hard to ensure he is dismissed and replaced. He also accused "illiterate shady dealers, psychopaths, informers, traitors and uneducated journalists" to belong to this group. RTRS says that this is not the first attack of Police Director directed against the journalists in RS. Brane Bozic from RS Journalist Association says that the press conference Njegus organised wasn't a press conference but a monologue since he didn't allow any questions to be asked, adding that Njegus's mistake is that he tried to interfere with the editorial policies of media. Dragan Jerinic from RS Association of Independent journalists feels that Njegus's statement on journalists is an attack on freedom of press, adding this is a reason why the coordination of journalist associations launched a initiative for Njegus's dismissal. Chairman of RSNA board charged with monitoring and control of works of defence institutions and MoI, Velimir Sakan, opposes to these accusations and dismisses them as ungrounded. He says that he supports the professional work of the police and wonders why big accusations against police happen when certain results are achieved. He called on media to professionally report on the police work.

Tihic: BiH
citizens
support decision to send troops to Iraq

Dnevni Avaz cover page 'Decision on sending troops will not change', pg 5 'Bigger part of population supports our decision to deploy troops to Iraq' by Sead Numanovic – In a page long interview to DA, SDA leader and the Chairman of BiH Presidency, Sulejman Tihic stresses that the decision on deployment of BiH troops to Iraq will not be changed despite objections. Asked to comment how SDA and Presidency can be on one side, and the public on other side when it comes to this issue, Tihic says: "I don't think you are right. We and the public are not on opposing sides. Bigger part of population supports our decision to deploy troops to Iraq and I think that saying we do not agree on this with the public is a wrong estimate." Asked by the journalist how come public agrees when objections to the decision has been posted all the time, Tihic said that this was an imagine created by, in Avaz's instance, covering mostly the statements of those opposing the idea. Tihic reiterated that he would never bring such decision without previous broad consultations: "I talked to key people in [SDA], with late president [Alija] Izetbegovic, with all important Bosniaks in religious, cultural and every other segment of life." SDA leader further stresses that this mission also means to support USA, to which BiH owes. Commenting to the speculations that this decision caused a rift between him and his deputy in the party, Adnan Terzic, Tihic said that this was not true and that it is not a problem to disagree, as long as the decision is to be implemented.

Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'Presidency should have asked for Parliament's opinion' by H. Orahovac – DA brings that SDS supports Presidency's decision, however that in the future things must be differently done with regard to the procedure. Berzic Belkic comments that Presidency should have consulted the state Parliament.
