However, more serious issues are ahead of us."* Reinhardt Priebe, EU chief negotiator, did not want to disclose any single detail from today's talks, noting: *"..Climate of talks is contrary to the weather outside. But I apologise, but this is not a football match, where every 5 minutes I can tell you the latest score. Croat parties to meet in Mostar on Wednesday to talk about constitutional changes	RHB– Croat parties will meet in Mostar today (Wednesday) to talk about issues related to the constitutional changes talks. Organizer of the talks is the Croat Block (HB). The host of the talks and President of HB, Mario Vasilj, says one of items on the agenda include issue of levels of authorities in BiH. Vasilj is in favour of organizing BiH as a federal state and in that context he would even like to organize a referendum at which peoples would be asked “Are you in favour of regionalization or federalization in which each people has its own federal unit?”. Vasilj is certain that in that case, the Croat people would opt for federalization, claiming it would secure survival for the Croats in BiH.

HR Ashdown: IC along with Belgrade and BL responsible for failure to arrest Karadzic, Mladic	PINK by Ljubisa Davidovic – During his farewell visit, HR Paddy Ashdown visited Banja Luka and Central Bosnia Canton on Tuesday, where he met with the highest ranking RS officials and leadership of Gornji Vakuf-Uskoplje Municipality. After meeting the RS Prime Minister Pero Bukeylovic, Ashdown told journalists that he had fulfilled two promises he gave at the time of his arrival in BiH: namely that he would put foundations to a modern, European, decentralized state and that he would take the country towards Europe. “I think it has been most difficult for the RS, than for any other area in the BiH to make these steps and it has required leadership of a high order and I have acknowledge that”, said the HR. Ashdown added that his greatest failure is the fact that Radovan Karadzic and Ratko Mladic are still at large, and pointed out that the International Community itself, together with Banja Luka and Belgrade authorities, was responsible. “I am very glad that the dam of obstruction is now broken, and that 11 of those Hague indictees have gone to the ICTY in the last year, and that Karadzic and Mladic are now more isolated then ever”, said the HR. RTRS – During the meeting with Bukeylovic, HR stated that structures for supervision of banks at state level need to be established as soon as possible. Reporter comments that it remains unknown what HR and RS President Dragan Cavic spoke about since their meeting was closed for public. HR also managed to meet SNS Chair Milorad Dodik as well as media representatives. (RTRS did not specify what HR and Dodik talked about). BHT1, FTV, RHB, Oslobođenje pg 2 ‘Disappointed for Karadzic and Mladic are not in the Hague’ by O.V., Dnevni Avaz pg 10 ‘I regret the most that Karadzic and Mladic weren’t arrested’ by N. Diklic, Nezavisne Novine pg 4 ‘Ashdown visited “Nezavisne”’ by S.G.– reported on the visit. HR criticized Croatian authorities for failures in return process	Glas Srpske pg 2 'Same standard for all' by SRNA – After a meeting with representatives of Associations of Refugees in BiH, which was held in Banja Luka, HR Paddy Ashdown accused the Croatian authorities at lower levels of authority of failing to do merely anything on returns of Serbs to Croatia, warning "there is only one standard for refugee returns, which should be single and applied in BiH, Croatia and SiCG". Responding to press question, he said there is no link between negotiations on Kosovo status (that are soon to commence) and talks on constitutional changes in BiH.
VL interview with HR Ashdown on const. changes, future of HDZ BiH	Vecernji List pg 6, mentioned on cover 'New borders would be drawn within BiH' by Z. Kresic carries an interview with High Representative Paddy Ashdown. Asked whether it is realistic to expect drawing of new borders within BiH, HR said: 'This must happen. If you cannot make it there is no joining to Europe...However, external BiH borders cannot be changed. The issue of internal borders is much more economic than constitutional issue. Because of its huge resources this country should not be poor. It is poor because of the constitutional provisions according to which much money is being spent on politicians who take too much from people.' VL inset 'It is up to Covic to decide, one should be concerned' carries Ashdown as saying that reforming is the only road for nationalistic parties in BiH and that HDZ BiH should follow the example of HDZ Croatia President Ivo Sanader who reformed HDZ Croatia. Asked whether this is a message to HDZ BiH President Dragan Covic to step down since he (Ashdown) believes that Sanader's moves are right, the HR stated: 'It is up to Covic and HDZ BiH to decide. I do not want to get involved in an internal discussion. HDZ BiH as the strongest party among Croats would do the most for its people if its reforms into a European party of the right centre. One should be concerned that European People's Party puts a question mark on the future membership of a sisterly party, HDZ BiH.'

Blic overview of HR Ashdown's mandate; Politicians criticize his measures	EuroBlic pgs RS2-RS3 'Rider of wild horse is leaving' by Nedeljka Breberina and Marija Jandric – The article carries an overview of HR Paddy Ashdown's moves and decisions reached during his mandate. Inset 'Paddy Ashdown under magnifying glass of BiH politicians' – Nikola Spiric said a great progress, especially with regard to legislation, was made during Ashdown's mandate. He believes measures and removals were not too strict measure and he says the greatest problem of Ashdown's mandate was the fact he had to cooperate with insincere local politicians. Sulejman Tihic assessed the first part of HR's mandate as successful because it had contributed to reforms and strengthening of state institutions but, according to Tihic, HR had showed indecisiveness and in some cases double standards during the past year. Nemanja Vasic (the removed Director of RS Directorate for Roads) criticized the removal of officials. Dusan Stojicic said HR had contributed to development of BiH, but he thinks his mandate was characterized with a number of decisions that were disputable from the point of view of the European Convention on Human Rights. Dragan Covic says BiH was marked as a classical protectorate during HR's mandate and he believes Ashdown caused great damage to BiH through frequent use of Bonn powers.
DL op-ed on departure of HR Paddy Ashdown: 'Both, parties in power and opposition are eager to see Ashdown leaving'	Dnevni List pg 2 'Good bye Paddy' by E. Mackic carries that the BiH parties in power as well as the opposition are eager to see High Representative Paddy Ashdown leaving BiH. DL says that the reasons because of which the parties in power feel this way is the fact that they had to fulfil all his wishes, while the opposition is insulted since they believe that Ashdown did not accept their ideas for the progress of BiH. The author concludes the editorial by saying ironically: 'The parties in power suspended negotiations on constitutional changes since Ashdown did not twist their arms on time. However, why would Ashdown do it? New High Representative Christian Schwarz Schilling should have hard time as well.'

on const. changes were partially successful

Hayat current affairs program 'Korak' by Adnan Rondic— Commenting on the last round of talks on constitutional changes, SDS Vice President Bosko Siljegovic, SDA Vice President Sefik Dzaferovic and SDP Vice President Zeljko Komsic basically agreed that progress has been made. Siljegovic stressed that he did not participate in the talks, but that he knows that RS parties want the entity vote to be preserved, seeing it as some kind of a protective mechanism. Dzaferovic stated that constitutional negotiations were based on the report of Venice Commission, as an independent institution. Once again he reiterated that BiH should not be composed of entities. "Instead, BiH should have three levels of authority... and multiethnic regions based on geographic, economic, communicational, historical and other relevant principles in between", explained Dzaferovic. Komsic stated that constitutional changes are possible if the political will would exist. He stressed that these talks were burdened by the fact that election are approaching, and he believes that some things have happened just because of that fact.

DL reminds that BiH Deputy Security Minister Dragan Mektic has stated recently that the state Commission for audit of the citizenships has not been formed yet since some domestic institutions and the International Community have not proposed names of candidates. BiH CoM’s spokesperson Bojan Zec Filipovic stated that all domestic institutions proposed the candidates, however OHR representatives in the Commission have not been appointed yet. He added: ‘This fact makes impossible forming of the Commission since the Commission cannot start with its work if its all members were not appointed. ‘
