RS political parties' leaders met in Banja Luka	FTV, Oslobođenje pg 2, mentioned on cover 'Milorad Dodik to be appointed new RS Prime Minister designate?!' – Instead of announced meeting of BiH Presidency and ruling BiH political parties' representatives, which was postponed, the meeting of ruling RS parties leaders was held in Banja Luka on Friday. The participants at the meeting discussed the current political situation in RS and BiH. They adopted certain conclusions on BiH constitutional issue, issues of Police and Defence and relations toward International Community. It is possible that new PM of RS will be SNSD President Milorad Dodik, even though the IC has suggested that this wouldn't be good due to recent indictment filed against him. Dodik said: "We are talking, I think that atmosphere is good...it is obvious that there is no definite solution, but everyone believes that Government should be established as soon as possible...and as a base for that a document on important political issues, such as BiH constitutional organization, such as Police, Army, relations toward the IC is being prepared and it should be passed tomorrow, after which it will be presented to the public." Asked whether it is acceptable for PDP that three Ministers in the new RS Government are from SDS, three from SNSD and three from PDP, Mladen Ivanic, leader of PDP said that for PDP that kind of a concept was acceptable. Reporter asked would they accept Dodik as a new RS PM. "We should still sit down and talk about those things but we do not exclude the possibility that even Mr Dodik is appointed PM, under condition that all the elements that we talked about and agreed on are accepted (as a platform for the work of the Government)", said Ivanic. Nezavisne Novine cover and pg 3 'Ivanic: Dodik is acceptable for premier' by V. Nacional criticises HR's measures	Nacional pg 13 'Ashdown was bought by Muslims' by P.T.N. – The article argues the possibility of RS to hold referendum, when the Serb people would vote continue living in the state, re-shaped by Paddy Ashdown via clear violations of the Dayton Agreement. The paper learns that Ashdown's decisions leading towards abolishment of RS have been stimulated by the fact that Venice Commission is to work out and publish in 2005 report on the work of High Representative, and the Commission will most likely reduce his powers. Owing to this reason, Ashdown intends to fulfil all demands of the Muslims, who have bought HR a long time ago.
Belgrade 's Vecernje Novosti interview with HR Ashdown	Vecernje Novosti pg 2 'To NATO via the Hague' by Z.A. – In a page long interview to the papers, Paddy Ashdown, High Representative to BiH, notes that the way-out from the crisis BiH is current faced with is that RS fulfils its duties and cooperates with the Hague Tribunal. He also warns that nothing can be changed unless RS started to cooperate with the ICTY, noting: "Irregardless of the number of resignations and political manoeuvring, this is the main reason for the present situation. I am of the view that a large number of Serbs and Croats do desire to be part of Europe. The measures I have undertook last week were inevitable."
HDZ to support Terzic	Dnevni Avaz pg 4, mentioned on cover 'HDZ to support Terzic' – According to HDZ BiH Spokesman Pero Pavlovic, the party will support continuation of the ongoing reforms and BiH CoM Chairman Adnan Terzic at a meeting of ruling BiH political parties' representatives with BiH Presidency and CoM scheduled for Tuesday. OHR: No amount of resignations will change the fact BiH has to cooperate with ICTY	Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'Crisis in BiH caused by RS government's failures to cooperate with ICTY', Oslobodjenje pg 4 'BiH's European future is within reach', FENA – The events of the last few days should not be allowed to overshadow a year in which – despite setbacks – much has been achieved, OHR says in response to Fena on a question about the most significant events in this year. "The recent resignations by Serb politicians from various government posts are regarded by some as having fomented a crisis. This is not so. If there is a crisis as BiH approaches the end of 2004 it has been caused by one thing and one thing alone – the failure of the RS authorities to show that they are serious about apprehending and transferring to The Hague persons indicted for war crimes. The recent resignations may slow the reform process down, and even delay BiH's Euro-integration progress. Who will suffer as a result? The people of this country. It is always the people who suffer. The sooner their leaders realize this the better. The sooner we focus again on core tasks, the sooner people's lives can be made better. BiH has to cooperate with the ICTY. No amount of resignations will change that", said the OHR. Accenting the most significant events in 2004, the OHR states that the State Court has started to produce real results. Individuals who one had a reputation for being "untouchable" are standing trial for serious crimes. The message is clear: no one in BiH is above the law. "In the autumn the BiH, Entity and District authorities agreed on a plan to deal with the governments' liabilities towards citizens – launching a process that will lead to the most vulnerable groups of citizens, pensioners, for example, receiving long delayed payments. The internal debt settlement will also encourage foreign investors to consider putting their money in BiH," according to OHR. "The authorities have also taken major steps towards introducing VAT, which will be a huge help in the fight against corruption. The ITA is up and running and is supervising the merger of the three customs services, another long overdue reform that will staunch the loss of public revenue and make more money available for social services," said the OHR. The Mostar Statute was introduced in the early part of the year and is now in operation, the OHR emphasized. "After intensive consultation and dialogue, the defence reform plan is now being implemented. We look forward to receiving the final report of the Police Reform Commission in a few days time," said the OHR. "The October polls were the first in which mayors were directly elected, another step forward in enfranchising the people of BiH after years in which party politics have been futilely preoccupied with ideology rather than focusing on solving bread and butter issues, like employment and housing and education and health. Perhaps we will look back on 2004 as the year in which BiH's leaders began thinking in terms of delivering benefits rather than simply making promises," said the OHR. "In December, responsibility for maintaining peace and security in BiH was transferred from the NATO-led SFOR to the EUFOR, tangible evidence of the European Union's authentic and long-term commitment to this country," according to OHR. "Many of the most positive developments have taken place in the context of BiH's efforts to fulfill the 16 requirements laid out in the European Commission's Feasibility Study. Only a handful of these requirements still have to be met. Significant progress was also made in moving towards membership of NATO's Partnership for Peace programme," said the OHR. "Here, though there was a major setback in December when NATO declined to invite BiH to join PfP. The reason? We are all quite clear about that – failure by the authorities, specifically the RS authorities, to demonstrate full cooperation with the ICTY," emphasized the OHR. "Much has been achieved in 2004. With the right political will a great deal more can be achieved in 2005. BiH's European future is within reach. Now is the time to reach out and seize the opportunity that is presented to us," the OHR said.

However, he stressed that it will not be possible to achieve this without the cooperation of RS. Cliff added that the key goal is to help BiH make concrete progress towards EU and PfP membership. "We shall continue supporting the activities of the OHR directed towards those elements in the RS that are blocking progress towards Euro-Atlantic integration by not cooperating fully with the ICTY, as well as the actions against all those corrupted and selfish persons that are blocking BiH's progress towards a better future for all its citizens", said Ambassador Cliff in this message. He stressed that Great Britain would continue to support development of democratic, multiethnic institutions at the State-level, and independent judiciary and legal frameworks in accordance with European standards, including the establishment of a single state-level police service.

According to the statement, camp inmates were taken to the front line and used as human shields, which resulted in the death of one of them, and raped, all of which is in contravention of International Law.
