HoR Deputy Speaker Spiric: RS reps did not violate Constitution by walking out from HoR session	BH Radio 1 by Radmila Grubisa – Deputy Chair of the BiH House of Representatives Nikola Spiric stated in Banja Luka that RS representatives have not violated the BiH Constitution and Dayton Agreement by walking out of the Wednesday's session of BiH HoR. Spiric invited representatives of the International Community to mediate in solving this issue. He stressed that Constitutions and Dayton have been violated by the behavior of Council of Ministers' Chair Adnan Terzic who has been ignoring the state Parliament's decision on establishment of the Commission on suffering of Sarajevo citizens for two and half years. Spiric said that he expects CoM to discuss this as the first item of the agenda at today's session, as well as the clear mandate and deadlines of Commission's work. Inviting IC to help out, Spiric said this was necessary in order to ensure "MPs representing Serb people return... to the BiH Parliament as soon as possible". RHB– Head of the SDS Caucus in the BiH HoR Momcilo Novakovic stated at the same press conference that the Commission should be established at today's BiH CoM's session. Dispute over Comm. for suffering of Sarajevo citizens

Serb reps in BiH HoR walk out from session; boycott to last until Commission for suffering of Sarajevo citizens is established; Serbs to leave HoP session also?

BHT1 by Vanja Furtula, Marina Martinovic – Wednesday's session of the BiH House of Representatives [HoR] was interrupted after Serb representatives walked out boycotting a report on the effects of VAT implementation by the Council of Minister Adnan Terzic because he has refused to carry out a decision on founding the Commission for establishing truth on suffering of Sarajevo citizens during the war [Terzic objects establishing separate Commission for Sarajevo, instead supports founding one for entire country]. Deputy HoR Speaker Nikola Spiric, who on Tuesday urged RS delegates to boycott the session, emphasized Terzic and CoM failed to implement the decision which was passed by the state Parliament in January 24, 2004: "We are ready to continue this session as soon as CoM fulfils its obligations." Opposition parties agree Parliament's decision should have been implemented a long time ago, as such thing would be in the best interest of all peoples in BiH. SDP leader Zlatko Lagumdžija argued it is important for the capital to be an example and to events that occurred in it to be revealed, but he also added: "On the other hand, I think it is totally irresponsible from some RS reps to behave in this manner." In addition to a possibility of solving the crisis by establishing the controversial Commission, Terzic was offered another option: to resign as the CoM Chair. But he clearly said that he was not going to do that, adding that he did not feel responsible for the parliamentary crisis. "Those who bring into question the functioning of BiH HoR would have to take over a part of political responsibility, along with those who did not implement the conclusions of the Parliament", stated HoR Speaker Martin Raguz. It remains unknown whether Serb delegates in the BiH House of Peoples would also boycott its sessions. "Since we were appointed by the RS National Assembly, we would probably receive some instructions from the RSNA", said HoP deputy Bosko Siljegovic. FTV – FTV comments Terzic's "clumsy" statement that it seems to him that "only those from Sarajevo were entitled to some benefits" during the way [while he was in Travnik] provoked very strong criticism. "He refused to implement the decision of the Parliament, and to establish a Commission...And at the end, he basically accused citizens of Sarajevo – who were under siege 1992-1995 – of being wartime profiteers. That is a heinous act, even for Adnan Terzic", stated SDP leader Zlatko Lagumdžija. RHB, PINK, Hayat, RTRS, Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Serb representatives blocked the work of House of Representatives', mentioned on cover 'Serbs left the Parliament' by H.Orahovac, Dnevni List pg 4, mentioned on cover 'State crisis: Parliament without quorum' by D. Under the pressure of MPs, Terzic announced that the BiH CoM would discuss this Commission for Sarajevo at the session on Thursday: "I still think that... is not a good solution, because it would lead us into the process which would be hard to stop [Note: Terzic earlier argued this would lead to establishing separate Commissions for all cities].

The press release reads that the representatives of the strongest RS political parties are transferring competences of RS onto BiH level while, at the same time, they are trying to present themselves as defenders of the Dayton BiH. Reforms and other political developments

HR CSS addresses Parliament, warns in last 100 days before elections MPs have to pass laws with a positive impact on citizens lives	FTV by Blazica Kristo – For the first time after he assumed the office, the High Representative in BiH Christian Schwarz-Schilling addressed BiH Parliamentary Assembly on Wednesday. Even though media announced that Schwarz-Schilling would strongly criticize domestic authorities due to frequent obstructions in the reforms, reporter commented, that did not happen. Although the HR kept his promise not to make decisions instead of those who do not have the courage to make decisions themselves, he warned of a possibility to use his powers in case of any kind of a threat to peace and stability in BiH. Schwarz-Schilling mentioned some interesting examples of BiH successes, says reports, such as ‘Grbavica’ film or 51st Eurovision Song Contest. He also talked about some important reform processes: “Police reform is the key prerequisite to approach the EU, and the one that is directly relevant for the EU ministers deciding on the visa regime [for BiH citizens].” Schwarz-Schilling paid special attention to the economic situation in BiH; unlike domestic politicians, HR said that he had seen a lot of frustrated, poor and hungry BiH citizens: “Pensioners have to survive with 200 KM per month. Do you know what it means to live with 200 KM per month?” He criticized domestic politicians for failure to adopt constitutional reform, and drawn their attention to the laws that should be passed in these last 100 days of their current mandates. At the end, Schwarz-Schilling warned MPs they would face effects of their actions at October elections. BHT1– “During next 100 days you should prove to the citizens of BiH that you are capable of passing the laws that would make a positive impact on the quality of their lives. They would judge you on this when they go to the polls in October”, concluded HR CSS. RTRS – The HR emphasized BiH has made a huge progress, but he also warned that the corruption and malicious intentions represent a dark side of political life in BiH. “I will not stand quietly and watch the darker side overshadow what is good and positive in this country. I will tell you where important obligations are not being fulfilled, I will point out where there are higher standards to be met, and I will expose those who have failed to take on their responsibilities or acted without integrity,” said Schwarz-Schilling. He called upon parliamentarians to complete the reform of judiciary system and Public Broadcasting System during the remaining 100 days until the October elections. Colloquially, that means that he acts naïve. I apologize French for the prejudice. However, instead of telling people present here what is really wrong and how it needs to be done, HR was talking to us about some other things". Oslobodjenje pg 2 'Work of the state Parliament blocked until Terzić changes the stance', mentioned on cover by A.Terzić – Addressing the Parliament, Lagumdžija criticised the HR as being irresponsible, ironically noting he should have "lectured [Adnan] Terzić" instead [of addressing the parliament]. Kozina comments on the HR CSS' address before the BiH Parliament and the author says that so far HR CSS has been truly lobbying that BiH joins the EU as soon as possible, however while he was persuading EU Ministers in Vienna that it is necessary to ease the visa regime for BiH citizens, BiH politicians were fighting regarding the police reform which is crucial for the success in this intention. The author also says: 'The HR CSS' statement that he would do all he can for BiH citizens is something that, unfortunately, we could not hear from BiH politicians. It is obvious that changes can be made only if MPs also give their best.'

Instead, SB included to its agenda the recommendation of RS NA on the model of the future police structure, as Chairman of the Steering Board Vinko Dumancic confirmed. They also discussed the letter of Bosniak Caucus at RS Council of Peoples. Dumancic stated that these stances would be forwarded to BiH CoM because the Steering Board is not authorised to change the decision with regard to the way in which decisions are being reached in PRD. Acting Chief of RS Police Nijaz Smajlovic refused to make any comments on the session, stating RS Government's stances on police reform are integrated in the recommendation of RS NA. He added that all RS NA deputies except Bosniaks are determined to conduct the police reform in accordance with RS and BiH Constitution and the EU standards. Following PRD's failure to reach the decision by consensus, PRD went along with the procedure and adopted the Opinion by outvoting. Opinion was in accordance with three EU principles, while RS representatives demanded police to be organized on both state and entity level. Dumancic commented: "they were instructed by someone". Lisak could not confirm whether this means 5 reps of RS Interior Ministry [RS Police acting director Nijaz Smajlovic and four of his colleagues] blocked police reform process, adding though that it would be hard to work in these conditions. RS representatives announced that they would participate in work of PRD only as observers. Mostar City Council once again failed to pass the 2006 budget; HR Schwarz-Schilling convened urgent meeting with Mostar parties	BHT1 by Angela Cvitanovic – The Mostar City Council held a session on Wednesday. Representatives discussed the city budget for 2006, but once again failed to adopt it. Workers of 'Urbing' company and the Bureau for Urbanism protested once again, shortly before the session of the Mostar City Council commenced. The Council has passed the decision on establishment of joint Bureau for Urbanism but, according to BHT reporter, it does not mean that the internal open competition will be announced for the workers of those two companies. Beslic stressed that within next 3 days he would use all statutory possibilities and dispute this decision. Beslic also said that he would demand from the OHR to get involved in this issue. Vecernji List pg 6 'Mostar' urban planning area in SDA' hands' by D. Vidacak comments on the aforementioned decision and the author concludes that this is another proof that Croats, who make majority in Mostar, have turned into minority in this city thanks to the imposed OHR' Statute. VL also says that after SDA took over the urban planning area legalization of the Islamic Centre in the central part of Mostar might take place since this would help SDA to get majority of Bosniak votes in Mostar at the coming elections.
