Cavic confirms Karadzic's property will be ceased	FTV, Oslobođenje pg 3 'karadzic's property will be frozen' by Fena, Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'Cavic: We will free all Karadzic's property' by Fena, Vecernji List, pg 3 'Cavic: Freezing of Karadzics' property', by F, Dnevni List, pg 5 'Karadzic's property will be frozen', not signed– RS President Dragan Cavic confirmed on Monday that the RS will have to implement the European Union's decision on freezing the assets of the indicted war crime suspect, Radovan Karadzic, just as it is requested from Serbia-Montenegro and Croatia in the case of Ratko Mladic and Ante Gotovina. Cavic reiterated that the decision refers to BiH, Serbia – Montenegro and Croatia , which are under jurisdiction of the Hague Tribunal. Cavic said that freezing of the assets will happen, but he didn't know in which form, since this is to be determined by the European Commission. RTRS by Vesna Cibic – BiH authorities will also abide the decision but the issue is raised on the amount of the assets in question in BIH. Goran Radivojac spokesman of RS Prime Minister states that in order to arrest war crime suspects it is necessary to establish cooperation in the region. The Chair of the Council of Minister Adnan Terzic agrees with Cavic also stating that the decision is obligatory and that it needs to be determined how many assets do the war crimes suspects have. "I don't know how we will do it but I know that CoM ...will do everything to bring that matter to an end", says Terzic. Luka Karadzic, brother of Radovan Karadzic, claims that all assets are frozen and the only thing remaining is the house. He adds that authorities should freeze everything on the accounts if they find them. He also says that authorities never found anything to freeze although they are trying to since 1995. OHR welcomes the position of BIH, SCG And Croatian authorities. "OHR hopes that institutions of BIH authorities will consider a possibility of taking the lead role in the future in implementation of similar measures such as freezing of assets to all war crime suspects at large", says LJiljana Radetic OHR spokesman.

VL on freezing the PIFWCs' property	Vecernji List, pg 3 'Law watches over property of Radovan Karadzic', mentioned on front, by Dejan Jazvic – Reminding that the BiH authorities have announced that they would fulfill a request of the EC and freeze the property belonging to two most wanted ICTY fugitives, namely Radovan Karadzic and Ratko Mladic, VL reckons that it could represent a formal-legal problem. VL explains that unlike in some other countries, the current laws in BiH do not allow expropriation or temporary confiscation of property, unless there are evidence that the property is illegally acquired. Even when it comes to the latter situation, notes VL, the confiscation can only take place if there is a court verdict, which confirms that the property is indeed illegally acquired. In that context, VL argues that since Karadzic and Mladic have not been sentenced yet and since there are no evidence on illegal origin of the property, the authorities will be having difficult time in justifying a possible confiscation of their property. Finally, VL notes that the only person that could react in this situation is the High Representative Paddy Ashdown for BiH, "whose powers are above the BiH laws".

RS/Serbian dailies carry Washington Times report on 'conflict' btw Bush and Del Ponte	Glas Srpske pg 5 'Lady Macbeth of the Balakns'; EuroBlic cover and pg 2 'Bush to abolish the Tribunal' by T.N.DJ.; Vecerenje Novosti cover and pg 4 ''Bush will (not) close Tribunal?'; Nacional pgs2-3 'Bush: I will close Court in The Hague' by Geoffrey Kuchner – The articles quote The Washington Times by saying that Washington insists on either to process war crimes committed in the Balkans before local courts or to amnesty the crimes. According to The Washington Times, State Department officials (John Bolton, the State Vice Secretary for Weapon Control is quoted as a source) have realised what ICTY Chief Prosecutor Carla Del Ponte has refused to admit – the Hague Tribunal has degenerated into a politicised Tribunal, which has not managed to stay in frame of its mandate. 'Instead of serving as an independent institution that would punish those who had committed or ordered crimes, the Tribunal has become an instrument by which Del Ponte wishes to modify history of the Balkans wars. She has abused the Prosecutor's Office by bringing indictments that are very weak', an editorial of The Washington Times, signed by Geoffrey Kuchner (the Director of Communications of the Republican Research Centre), reads. According to WT, Bush's administration demands from the Chief Prosecutor to bring cases before the Tribunal to an end. 'Finally, USA has a right to believe the Hague Tribunal has become a non-democratic institution but also a direct threat to development of democracy in the area of former Yugoslavia', WT reads. According to WT, Del Ponte has succeeded in what nobody had succeeded before – she had temporarily united population of former Yugoslav countries, namely they are all united in opposing her. WT compares Del Ponte with lady Macbeth, saying she is unscrupulous political careerist.

Bise – DL says that the Office of the Bosniak Liaison Officer Amir Ahmic refused to comment on the aforementioned article, while the Croat Liaison officer Goran Mihaljevic did not hear about it at all. According to DL, the US Embassy said that they will check all the claims from the article and have the White House official stand on the ICTY work today (on Tuesday). Nezavisne Novine pg 6 'USA would not demand closure of Tribunal without Karadzic and Mladic' by SRNA – Dennis McShane, UKDeputy Foreign Secretary, Monday expressed his view that the American President, Administration and the public would not allow that the Hague Tribunal is closed as long as SiCG provides informal protection to Radovan Karadzic and Ratko Mladic.

Spiric stated that the Matijasevic should deal with MoI's finances and not arrest of war crime suspects. Spiric asks why should policemen arrest the suspects if they don't have stimulation. "I wouldn't be surprised if some interim module is to be accepted which would give a platform for politicians to tell the citizens that there will be a coordinator left on RS level. But that person cannot be Minister... so he will not be able to make decisions within RS Government", says Spiric. Chief of the RS Interior Minister's Cabinet Zoran Glusac says that MoI has no right to comment the work of the Commission. Oslobodjenje pg 4 'Model is known, they should not have make the expense' by Onasa – Spiric criticised authorities going to Brussels for meet spending the money that way, claiming that the model to be accepted has already been known. Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'SNSD will not allow single BiH MoI' by M.V. – DA carries the statement by Spiric: "The HR Paddy Ashdown until now has worked to unpack the BiH Constitution in order to create conditions for its changing. RSNA Commission on defence and internal affairs on police reform	Euro Blic RSpG 7 ‘Through discussions to a compromise’ – Velimir Sakan, the President of the RS NA Committee in charge of defence and internal affairs, Monday told the daily that this Committee is in absolute support to the participation of the RS delegation in the work of the Commission in charge of the police reform with the firm position that nobody has the mandate to accept solutions that could be in contravention with the RS Constitution and the BiH Constitution. He added: “The initially offered concept that anticipates the abolition of MoI’s at the Entity level is unacceptable for us, even though we are aware that this job needs to be done. Our position is that a compromise has to be worked out in the negotiations that will follow and that both entities will be satisfied with.” Borislav Bojic, one of the Committee members (from the SDS), said that the RS has to have a clear starting concept with regard to the police reform so that it is able to offer concrete solutions and proposals in the field. Dzevad Gusic, a Committee member from the SDA, claims that the positions with regard to the matter differed and that there would be a lot of polemics in the future discussions. According to him, realistic assessments are that a compromise would be reached in Brussels that would be close to the concept of a single MoI.

Dnevni Avaz cover splash 'Unnecessary doubts in the work of foreign judges', pg 2 'Ashdown: I will not let interference in the work of judiciary' by S. Numanovic – "BiH is on the cross roads in which it has the chance to start the process under which it will once for all finish with the corruption and organized crime at the highest level. That disease has suffocated the state and has been destroying the lives of the citizens in this country on daily basis," said the High Representative Paddy Ashdown in an interview to DA. He further stressed that this process of fighting corruption is under "potential threat caused by those believing that the best way to protect themselves is to create the debt into the foreign judges and prosecutors working in the BiH Court, and to doubt the Court itself." However, HR underlines that foreigners arrived to BiH Court upon the invitation of the BiH authorities in 2001. At the time, Zlatko Lagumdžija and Mladen Ivanic demanded from IC to appoint foreign judges in the local judiciary. "They explained the request by saying these judges and prosecutors will be at bigger ease to work on the cases of the high profile... We have respected their demand," Ashdown says adding that he will not allow any interference with the work of the judiciary. "I do not interfere the work of judiciary, and I will not allow anybody also to do so either internally or externally," emphasizes HR and also says that it is not correct to say that "everything has been done in order to put representatives of one ethnic group to the defendant bench."

He added that the development of the constitutional system is necessary for the country's future. On this, he stressed that the development of the constitutional system is necessary for the future of this state, noting that "regional ownership" needs to be established. On this he explained that from the historic point of view, all decisions of importance for the regions were passed abroad, hence it is now necessary that regional states' Governments take over responsibility for their states. Although he did not want to speculate as to when BiH might be admitted into EU, he said that it would depend on when OHR would complete its work.

critical of HR
Ashdown

Nezavisne Novine op-ed pg 7 'Lord Potemkin' by Slavko Mitrovic – The introduction to the article refers to the statement Chris Patten gave some months ago ("We cannot accept you pretend to implement reforms, and we pretend to believe you"), describing this sentence as definition of "reforms" in BiH. The author is critical of the ongoing reforms, referring to Paddy Ashdown as "Potemkin" [note: Russian statesman in 18th century] after whom (in post-nationalistic and post-Ashdown era as author says) there will be a lot of work to be done. Mitrovic is extremely critical of Ashdown and his deeds, co-identifying him with Mladen Ivanic and his lies, stressing: "Ashdown may be a person, who was not so much under the spot-light of public hitherto, and BiH was a sort of gift at the end of his – not so good- political career." The author is also critical of a number of decisions imposed by HiRep saying that removals of 59 officials of SDS and PDP represented a delayed reaction whose purpose was to save Ashdown's "unstable position". The author notes that "somebody would have to try for what is happening in BiH – either court with foreign judges and prosecutors or the generation of young people, from whom they stole the future". Mitrovic notes that "only OHR does not perceive what everybody else perceives – which is that criminals and corrupted authority cannot build BiH". He concludes the article by saying: "It is a time for the IC... to do something. Otherwise, all the trouble and enormous resources – and what far the worst, expectations of citizens – would be ruined."

PDHR Hays on FBiH internal debt law

Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'There is no better solution for internal debt then the law currently in the parliament', mentioned on cover 'There is no better solution for internal debt', by PDHR Donald Hays – The PDHR Donald Hays writes about the issue of the FBiH Internal Debt Law which is to be discussed by the members of the FBiH House of Peoples today. It took 5 months for FBiH House of Representatives to adopt the law, considering it inappropriate.

However, Hays says "that there are no different plans for the country with such high debts and whose economy is in this phase of the recovering. That is the fact, no matter how cruel it looks. Non-adoption of the law, will destroyed without any doubt all efforts taken with the aim to stabilize BiH's economy and establish macro-economic stability." Hays adds that there is no better solution for the internal debt issue then the law before the parliament. PDHR concludes that "it is time for all to leave their hopes into better solution aside, and to support the only realistic possibility and that is the possibility discussed by the FBiH Parliamentarians. The HoR showed courage despite the serious opposing and HoR voted in favor. It is up to HoP to now show the similar courage."

Oslobodjenje:
“CoM will not accept IMF’s
blackmails”

Oslobodjenje pgs 4-5 ‘Council of Ministers will no accept IMF’s blackmails’, mentioned on cover, by Azhar Kalamujic – Daily reads that the BiH Council of Minister “will not accept the blackmail coming form the International Monetary Fund [IMF] that conditions the 50 million US dollars loan for social programs in BiH with the cessation of the authorities’ plans to finance the construction of Vc corridors from its own money.” Chair CoM, Adnan Terzic, BiH Transport and Communications Minister Branko Dokic and his Deputy Haris Basic all confirmed in their statements to Oslobodjenje that authorities will not give up from decision to finance road projects through levies paid by three GSM operators. Terzic explains that instead of this, IMF demands to be paid to the ESCROW account to pay out internal debt. “In addition, CoM would not be able to use this money without IMF’s approval,” adds Terzic. Basic concludes that the aim of the aim is to take BiH’s revenues at the time its needs finances to implements its plans, and instead to offer the country with credits. “What IMF offers is throwing the money in the air, and that confirms that its politics in BiH is not development oriented,” said Basic.

HR supports ITA	FTV – The High Representative, Paddy Ashdown, last week enacted amendments to the Law on the Indirect Taxation System in BiH. The decision is a result of an inconsistency between certain BiH laws and the Law on Indirect Taxation System, where civil servants with appropriate expertise in the field of indirect taxation may be prevented from being appointed as members of the Board. Without these amendments advisors with executive functions and the relevant experience were barred from being members of the Board. HR also amended the BiH Law on Conflict of Interests and BiH and Entity Laws on Civil Service. The High Representative enacted these amendments following consultations with the ITA and its Governing Board, relevant institutions of BiH and the Entities. These laws will be in force on provisional base, until BiH parliamentary Assembly do not adopt it in the same form.
