Terzic)	FTV – The official opening of BiH's negotiations on a Stabilization and Association Agreement with the EU was marked on Friday. At the ceremony, the EU Commissioner for Enlargement, Olli Rehn, stated that speed and commitment of the EU to start the negotiations on SAA with BiH does not imply that the conditions set before BiH will be diminished. He said that this will be a test for BiH leaders to cooperate and achieve consensus on all crucial matters regarding the SAA process as well as that it is important that the Chief negotiator is strong enough to build the consensus and to present the unanimous stands. "The pace and the conclusion of the agreement will depend on BiH's progress in terms of development of legislative frame, administrative capacities. This day presents the transition of BiH from the Dayton to a Brussels era. Welcome" added Rehn. He also welcomed the consensus on the initiative to change the BiH Constitution. The British Ambassador to BiH, Matthew Rycroft, stated at the ceremony that this is the historical moment for BiH. He stressed that the pace of BiH's progress towards the EU would depend on how fast the country adopts and implements the relevant reforms in order to become a functional and sustaining country. "The pace and completion of the negotiations would particularly depend on four things. Firstly, progress in development of the legal framework and administration in BiH, implementation of police reform and adopting all the necessary laws on PBS and full cooperation with the ICTY" explained Rycroft. BiH Council of Ministers Chairman, Adnan Terzic, said that EU has been waiting for BiH to join it but it requires BiH's outmost cooperation. "In return our diplomas and experts will be internationally recognised, we will travel to EU without visas, we would remove borders, we would improve the economical situation in BiH, expand the trade market, apply the EU social pattern, join in the fight against terrorism and crime, money of tax payers we will invest in development, apply the ecological standards as well as renew old friendships" stated Terzic. He added that this day BiH can celebrate while day after BiH should focus on meeting the set conditions.
