Conference on prosecuting war crimes in BiH: judicial experts demand from CoM to adopt national strategy for solving these crimes	FTV – Two-day conference “Prosecuting war crimes in BiH – achievements and challenges” has commenced in Sarajevo on Thursday. More than 120 representatives of the courts and prosecutors’ institutions attend the conference organized to exchange experiences and recognize key challenges in processing war crimes. “Without the construction of the state prison, I think that the reform of the judiciary system in BiH would be deprived of one very important segment... because we would not know what to do with all those prosecuted people”, stated BiH Justice Minister Slobodan Kovac. BiH Court President Meddzida Kreso emphasized the need of making all citizens equal before the law, since the sentences for the same crime are not the same before state, or entity courts. At the same time, BiH Chief Prosecutor Marinko Jurcevic expects the BiH authorities to do more in order to complete the process of prosecuting war crimes in BiH; thus Jurcevic called upon BiH Council of Ministers to create national strategy for solving war crimes cases. “If we want all the war criminals to be prosecuted, the state has to strengthen the capacities on both local and state level”, stated Jurcevic. BHT1– It was said that about 13.000 persons in BiH are suspected of committing war crimes, while only 72 Prosecutors in the entire country work on those cases. It means one prosecutor has approximately 180 cases to work on. Regardless of inadequate financial support, representatives of the Court of BiH claim that they would not give up until all indicted war criminals are apprehended and prosecuted. “Not a single committed crime must remain unnamed, whenever it had been committed, and whoever had committed it. It is very important to understand that the Court of BiH processes individuals indicted for war crimes; it does not accept so-called collective responsibility, because peoples have not committed war crimes”, stated Kreso. RHB, PINK, Hayat, RTRS, Dnevni List, pg 5 ‘Kreso: We are not trying peoples and states’, by Erna Mackic, Vecernji List, pg 5 ‘Kreso: Not a single crime must not stay unnamed’, by ra, Slobodna Dalmacija, pg 4 ‘13.000 war crimes suspects in BiH’, by H. CIN : donors to decrease support to BiH Court / donors say foreign judges to continue playing an important role in processing of war crimes	Nezavisne Novine pg 5 'Smaller budget and salaries' by CIN [Centre for Investigative Journalism] – CIN reports donors would decrease their material support to BiH Court, which would lead to reduction in the number of staff from 263 down to 78 by the end of 2009 if the state budget fails to earmark funds for financing of their salaries. The article concludes by saying the most important donors, i.e. Americans and British, say foreign judges will continue to play an important role in processing of war crimes and adds that British and OHR have rejected remarks of BiH Court President [Meddzida Kreso] and have extended the contract of British judge Malcolm Simmons.
DL criticizes IC for interfering into work of judiciary in BiH, calls for abolishment current organization of BiH	Dnevni List, pg 2 'Fatal mistake', by Pejo Gasparevic – with regards to the letter that the BiH Court President, Meddzida Kreso, sent to the BiH Presidency in which she asks for protection after the UK Ambassador to BiH, Matthew Rycroft, allegedly tried to exert pressure on her with an aim to appoint the British judge (Malcolm Simmons) to the BiH Court, Gasparevic is very critical of the alleged behaviour of the Ambassador and IC in general for obstructing the development of the civic society and democracy in BiH. Moreover, Gasparevic reckons that the IC's policy in the south-east Europe has made many 'fatal mistakes', putting the 'hesitation of the IC to remove the two-entity organization for three peoples in BiH' in the first place of such fatal mistakes.

RS Association of POWs says they will not participate in work of Sarajevo Commission	Glas Srpske cover pg report 'Against Sarajevo Commission' by G. K. – RS Association of POWs on Thursday stated they do not intend to participate in any way in the work of Sarajevo Commission, which was established by CoM upon BiH Parliament's decision. The Association Chair, Slavko Jovicic, explained that the Association rejects to have any kind of a commission that would differ from demands the Association presented in past. East Sarajevo NGOs would demand from OHR to impose a decision on forming of a commission for investigation of sufferings of Serb citizens, as it had been done in Srebrenica case and Avdo Palic case before, if F BiH authorities bring new obstructions in this case.
Possible disputes about composition of Sarajevo Commission	Oslobodjenje pg 7 'Composition of the Sarajevo Commission new source of clashes' by A.Terzic– After last week's boycott of the BiH House of Representatives [due to the rejection of CoM Chair Adnan Terzic to establish the Commission for Sufferings of Sarajevo citizens], Serb representatives from the RS have returned and as Head of SDS Caucus in BiH HoR, Momcilo Novakovic, told daily that they would attend the session on June 8 and that are already participating the work of commissions. "Our following stances would depend on personal composition of the Commission. We will insist that persons that will not obstruct the work and which care for the truth are in its composition" said Novakovic to daily. He didn't want to speculate on names, but stressed that their stance on this would be known after names are published. Same stance that composition of the Commission could cause "new debates" has head of the Mixed Club Tihomir Gligoric. He believes that all those people who worked for years in various commissions that never gave any results simply "cannot have place in Sarajevo Commission." "We will not accept not even one member of the Commission, who would get to the position based on political influence" said Gligoric.

GS op-ed re: Sarajevo Commission: Bosniaks trying to preserve "myth on Bosniak victims"	Glas Srpske op-ed pg 2 'Fear from democracy' by Predrag Lazarevic – The author wonders whether the Sarajevo Commission would complete its mission or representatives of Bosniaks would try to, through obstruction of its work, preserve "the myth on Bosniak victims", which they have started to systematically create with help of former HR Paddy Ashdown in past two years. Anti-Serb behaviour of Bosniak politicians, with logistic support of a number of foreign officials, has become so frequent lately that even RS PM Milorad Dodik had mentioned the word "referendum".
Feral Tribune op-ed: Sarajevo Commission abused by Serb and Bosniak authorities	Feral Tribune, pgs 28-29 'Troubles blooming throughout Bosnia', by Ivan Lovernovic – carries weekly commentary in which the author, whilst commenting events surrounding the establishment of Sarajevo Commission for establishing truth on destiny of peoples, says the whole story comes down to the Serb and Bosniak authorities trying to abuse the issue for their own purposes, in which the former are trying to increase the number of Serb victims, and the latter are reluctant to name the events in wartime Sarajevo with the real name – war crimes.
US withholds aid to Serbia due to failure to arrest Mladic	BHT1- United States of America have lost their patience because of Serbian constant failure to locate and arrest most wanted war crimes indictee Ratko Mladic. U.S. Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice refused to recognize Serbia-Montenegrin cooperation with The Hague Tribunal; therefore, as of midnight, seven million USD of financial help to Serbia have been frozen. However, U.S. will continue to provide money for humanitarian aid, as well as for strengthening democracy in SCG. RHB–US Ambassador to SCG Michael Polt expressed his regret after the decision of his government to freeze aid to SCG. He called upon the Government of SCG to hand over Mladic, and added that "he does not want the people of Serbia to suffer because the fugitives. CoM adopts law proposal on higher education without support of Serb Ministers who object establishment of Agency for licensing and accrediting; EC welcomes adoption	PINK – The Council of Ministers adopted Law proposal on Higher Education. CoM Chair Adnan Terzic stated that all Ministers supported the provisions under this law apart from the section stipulating an establishment of state agency for accreditation and licensing. Serb Ministers voted against this provision, thus the law was adopted by simple majority and not through consensus. RTRS – BiH Deputy Minister of Civil Affairs Zoran Tesanovic stated that the competence over this process could be possibly transferred to the state level in accordance with the current procedure thus meaning that RS National Assembly needs to decide upon it. The Law has been forwarded into parliamentary procedure in shorten procedure, and Terzic said he expects it would receive necessary support. EC delegation in BiH has welcomed the adoption of the law. BHT1 – BHT 1 comments that the law is of a great importance for the education reform in BiH, as it is one on the four key principles set by the International Community. Law regulates autonomy of universities, mobility of students and other academic staff, and accepts the basic principles of the Bologna Declaration. It also envisages establishing of the Sate Agency for accreditation and licensing of higher education institutions, which will immediately treat the private universities and the public universities active today will be treated after the expiry of the four-year period, when the Bologna Declaration should be accepted in all segments. Dnevni Avaz pg 11 ‘Law proposal on Higher Education submitted to the Parliament’ by Agencies– BiH Communications Minister Branko Dokic told SRNA that Ministers from the RS advocated that accrediting and licensing of universities should remain under authority of RS Education Ministry i.e. Cantonal Ministries in FBiH. Cubro – Commenting the Law on higher education adopted by the CoM despite the objections from the Serb ministers, the BiH Foreign Minister Mladen Ivanic told NN that outvoting on the law takes a responsibility from the Council of Ministers and puts it on the Parliament: "The proposal of the working group was to keep the accrediting at the level of the entities, and for the State Agency to be authorities for joint criteria for universities."

HDZ 1990 adds 'Croat unity' to its name: BiH CEC to take final decision on participation in elections today	BHT1, Dnevni Avaz pg 11 'Bozo Ljubic's party goes on elections as HDZ 1990 Croat Unity' by L.Sinanovic, Vecernji List, pg 3 'About 'HDZ 1990 Croat unity' today', by zk, Dnevni List, back pg 'Two words verify application of HDZ 1990', not signed, Slobodna Dalmacija, pg 15 'Ljubic: Name HDZ 1990 remains', by Z. Tulic – reports that the President of HDZ 1990, Bozo Ljubic, and HDZ 1990 Presidency member, Josip Merdzo, forwarded to the BiH Central Election Commission (CEC) on Thursday a proposal that the party takes part in the October elections under the name 'HDZ 1990 – Croat unity'. The CEC will today (Friday) decide whether the party will be allowed to take part in the elections. Earlier, the CEC asked from the HDZ 1990 to add a word/words to its name that would distinct it from the HDZ BiH and prevent possible confusion of the electorate.
SB op-ed: HDZ 1990 could change many important things on political scene	Slobodna Bosna pg 4-5 'Would Ljubic HDZ 1990 live up the destiny of Zubak' NHI' op-ed by Senad Avdic– Commenting on parties which emerged from a fraction of some other party, author notes that in most cases they have failed 'miserably' and that they were always perceived as "losers or even worst traitors." Avdic mentions several examples from the region, including NHI which emerged up from HDZ long time ago and went trough many troubles since. However, commenting on HDZ 1990 author notes that this could be a party that can dispute the theory i.e. could make a success and win over HDZ lead by Dragan Covic, since its leaders Bozo Ljubic and Marting Raguz haven't abandoned the current HDZ, but were forced out with explicit use of Stalinist methods. Second reason is that they would not be perceived as traitors, as Ljubic was among those who established the original HDZ in BiH. "All these are reasons for which HDZ 1990 is certainly going for upcoming elections as favourite bid 'from the shadow'... It is pretentious and silly to now predict what would that change in political post-election architecture. But there is no doubt that it would change many things, important things," concludes Avdic.

HDZ' Covic and Jovic meet Holy Sea representative D'Errico: Both sides concerned that Croats might be 'erased' from power	Vecernji List, pg 2 'Vatican worried with announcement that Croats will be erased from authorities', by Zoran Kresic – reports that HDZ President, Dragan Covic, and BiH Presidency member, Ivo Miro Jovic, met with the representative of the Holy Sea to BiH, Alessandro D'Errico, at Sarajevo on Wednesday night to discuss issues pertaining to constitutional changes and forthcoming elections. According to Covic, both sides expressed concern regarding divisions among Croats-Catholics and possibility that the Croats be erased from the authorities after the next elections. Covic and Jovic explained to D'Errico that there was a danger that the Croat member of BiH Presidency and Croat members of BiH CoM be imposed by the Bosniak parties due to the small size of the Croat electorate in BiH. Covic also revealed details of his meeting with the High Representative, Christian Schwarz-Schilling, about the forthcoming elections, position of the Croats and constitutional reforms. The HR indicated the EU would get engaged in the process (of constitutional changes) with the wish that the process ends as soon as possible in order to further decrease authorities of the HR.
FBiH Finance Minister Vrankic: Croat ministers have no real influence	Vecernji List, pg 6, mentioned on front 'Croats without influence in ministries', by Zoran Kresic – carries an interview with the FBIH Minister of Finances, Dragan Vrankic, in which he mostly talks about economy related issues. On top of this, Vrankic complaints that Croat ministers in the FBIH Government have no real influence, explaining that anything related to the work of the Croat ministers gets diminished and/or derogated in the FBIH Parliament.

SD speculates with names of candidates for future composition of BiH Presidency	Slobodna Dalmacija, pg 13 'Battle for president', by Zlatko Tulic – the article speculates with names of candidates for the next composition of the BiH Presidency. When it comes to the RS, SD notes that the most serious candidates are SNSD's Nebojsa Radmanovic (current RS Minister for Local Self-Government), SDS' Dragan Cavic (RS President) and PDP's Mladen Ivanic (current BiH Foreign Minister). As far as the FBiH is concerned, SD says it is clear SBIH's Haris Silajdzic and SDA's Sulejman Tihic will run for the office of Bosniak member of BiH Presidency. As for the Croat member of the Presidency, SD notes the SDP is thinking about nominating Zeljko Komsic, whilst some information have leaked from the HDZ BiH that their candidate will be Slavko Matic. Still, SD reckons it is HDZ President, Dragan Covic, who is the most serious candidate of the HDZ BiH, pending the outcome of court processes that are carried out against him.
SB: SBIH leader Silajdzic cannot run for BiH Presidency without support of SDU; SDU demands their candidates to be list holders on state and FBiH levels	Slobodna Bosna pgs 6-9, 18 'Tokic blackmails Silajdzic, Zubak and Jurisic will not support Ljubic' by Asim Metiljevic and Suzana Mijatovic – Commenting possibilities of the newly established 'Patriotic Black' [SBIH, SDU and BOSS] authors speculate on disputes within this body, stressing that this is being kept away from the eyes of the public, but indirectly confirmed in a statement of SDU leader Sejfudin Tokic who recently announced that SDU would come out independently to election. Though some of high ranked officials anonymously told SB that such threats are just "shooting blanks", article carries they are directed against SBIH leader Haris Silajdzic, who wants to run for Bosniak member of BiH Presidency as Block's candidate. However, SB speculates he cannot do this without Tokic's support, which is conditioned with 30% of candidates on election ballots and demands for SDU candidates to be list holders for state and FBiH lists. Article further notes that Silajdzic is willing to pay the price for the SDU support for the following reasons: Firstly, he lost chance to use rejection of constitutional changes against his main opponent SDA leader Sulejman Tihic, as all demands for dissolution of BiH appeared right after constitutional reform failure which had it been adopted would finally break the efforts have BiH in the "Kosovo package"; and secondly, Silajdzic is being connected with certain financial affairs.

RS PM Dodik: decision will be brought in next few days whether RS reps would continue participation in PRD SB; RS President Cavic: consensus is a must; PDPs Ivanic accuses ex-RS Govt for only 1 RS rep in PRD SB	RTRS by Marina Marjanovic – In the light of police reform proposal and the Opinion on future police model confirmed by Police Reform Directorate’s Steering Board on Wednesday, the RS Prime Minister Milorad Dodik stated that it will be determined in the following days whether RS representatives in PRD Steering Board will remain in capacity of full-time members. Dodik also stated that RS used all legal tools to ensure decisions in PRD are reached through consensus. RS President Dragan Cavic stressed that police reform needs to be discussed on basis of a consensus. Cavic also stated that RS National Assembly would vote against every proposal that is not in accordance with RS interests. BiH Foreign Minister Mladen Ivanic on the other hand accuses former RS Government lead by Pero Bukejlovic for agreeing to having only one RS representative in the PRD Steering Board consisting of 10 members in total. Former RS Finance Minister Svetlana Cenic [now an official of newly established DEPOS party] responded to this and stated that she will publish the entire documentation exchanged between CoM and RS Government at the time in order to prove that they are not to blame for such unfair ration in PRD Steering Board. RSBA Speaker Igor Radojicic also stated that RS NA would not adopt solutions unfavourable for the RS. RHB– Radojicic announced on Thursday that RS would not accept the proposal for the police reform that was voted on Wednesday by the eight members of the Steering Board, since they have not taken into consideration the positions and proposals of RS. “The Steering Board can make a nice plan for the reconstruction of the FBiH Interior Ministry”, stated Radojicic, adding that they are working in favour of only one entity. Dnevni Avaz pg 8 ‘Dodik: RS would consider weather would remain even in observers status’ by Srna – Dodik said that all RS proposals regarding the police reform are being ignored and that truth that the PRD was established in “grotesque” manner is being avoided: “I don’t see why RS reps would remain as full [PRD SB] members. In following period we would consider whether we would be present even in observers status.”PINK– carried short and general report. RS politicians criticise adoption of model of police reform at PRD Steering Board session	Glas Srpske cover pg splash 'Model unacceptable for Srpska' by Z. Markovic – RS NA Chair Igor Radojicic has stated RS would not accept the model of police reform that was adopted by 8 members of PRD Steering Board without recognising stances and recommendations of RS NA and added: 'It is obvious the Steering Board works for one entity only' . Head of SDS Caucus at RS NA Borislav Bojic assessed no reform in BiH can be implemented if consensus is not reached. PDP's Veselin Poljasevic stated PDP Caucus would not accept such a draft model on organisation of police structures since conclusions and recommendations of RS NA were not respected.
RS President Cavic: the adopted police reform model will suffer failure	Glas Srpske cover pg report 'Defeat is final instance' by Z. D. , Nezavisne Novine pg 6 'Referendum is a reply to those who wish to abolish RS' by Srna – RS President Dragan Cavic on Thursday stated the adopted model of reform of police structures would suffer a failure when it comes to political discussion and added the reform would fail 'because it is being adopted by politics, not professionals' .
Deputy BiH Security Minister Mektic: there can be no reform without consensus	Glas Srpske cover pg report 'No reform without agreement' by Z. D. – Deputy BiH Minister of Security Dragan Mektic stated the "stretched-out" consensus that was reached during the session of PRD Steering Board would, most probably, break as any other "stretched-out" thing at its first verification at legislative and executive bodies in BiH. He added that the reform can neither bring results nor can it be implemented as long as consensus is not reached.
PRD Steering Board Chair Dumancic: we will meet again in some 20 days when I expect to see written suggestions	EuroBlic pg RS2 'RS will not accept imposed solutions' by Rajna Radosavljevic – Chairman of PRD Steering Board Vinko Dumancic did not want to comment on speculations that, by the adoption of an opinion on further development of police reform without RS votes, the process again entered a dead-end street. He added they deliberately did not want to discuss on the issue of local organisation because there were many differing opinions on this issue. Dumancic said: 'we will meet again in next 20 days or so, when I expect to see some written suggestions' .
Police organization scheme: Minister will not interfere in work of director	Oslobodjenje pgs 4-5 'Minister will not interfere in work of director' by Az.K. – Daily carries proposal of police organization scheme on state and local levels, proposed by Police Reform Directorate [PRD] Executive Body. Proposal however doesn't specify number of regions, borders nor their interior administrations. State level is to be divided into political and operational. If Serb people, together with other two peoples would have enough space, regardless to the presence of internationals, BiH will not fall apart."

HSP Djapic-Jurismic notes that such possibility is very realistic when the OHR closes down, which could happen next year, arguing that parties with the Serb prefix are unison in breaking BiH down. The party insists that the Serb parties' tactics will be some sort of 'war of attrition against the IC' through blocking of reforms in the Parliament, which would show to the EU, USA and UN that single BiH is impossible. (NB: the article does not mention any calls for sanctions against SNSD)

referendum:
“What will happen when OHR
leaves?”

Oslobodjenje cover splash, pgs 4-5 ‘BiH stays sovereign state even after OHR leaves’ by Aldijana Omeragic – Article reads that after RS Prime Minister Milorad Dodik raised issue of possible RS referendum, OHR did not manage to cool the tempers, not even after warning that HR Christian Schwarz-Schilling would use his ‘Bonn powers’ if necessary. Author reminds that SBiH protested after Schwarz-Schilling stated that BiH is established after Dayton Peace Agreement, claiming that he denied thousand years of BiH’s statehood. Article continues that on the other hand, PDHR Larry Butler clearly stated that there will be no referendum as long as OHR is in BiH, leaving the question “what would be after OHR leaves?” unanswered. Chair of Constitutional legal Commission of BiH House of Representatives Mirsad Ceman [SDA] stated: “I think that this [Butler’s] message was unfortunate, for it says that, while we are here, we wont let that happen, but when we leave, solve your problems.” Explaining Butler’s statement, OHR spokesperson Ljiljana Radetic said: “The Dayton Peace Agreement is an internationally binding treaty which recognizes BiH as a sovereign and independent state. The RS is bound by that agreement and the Constitution contained therein... The peace agreement, and BiH’s constitution, remain in place regardless of the OHR’s existence until amended in accordance with the procedure set forth in the Constitution.” Supporting statement of US Ambassador Douglas McElhaney [“BiH is sovereign state, and that’s that!”], SBiH’s Beriz Belkic noted that International Community “has to leave no space for possible alternatives... This is why IC must not support half-solutions for BiH, it must create firm ones.”

OSCE head Davidson: There will be no serious consequences of Montenegrin referendum on BiH; Even after OHR leave, IC will remain in BiH	Dani pg 24-25 ‘If I was Bosnian, I would be unnerved’ by Faruk Boric – Commenting debate on referendum initiative, the Head of OSCE Mission in BiH Douglas Davidson said: “My impression is that, in spite of demands coming from RS NGOs, there will be no serious consequences of Montenegrin referendum on BiH. Reason is obvious: Montenegro was federal republic in Yugoslavia, RS was not... Most important for BiH is that I did not hear any of the officials seriously connecting issues of Kosovo and BiH.” Davidson said that USA and EU will remain in BiH: “I can assure those... who are afraid that OHR will end its mandate too soon, International Community will remain present even after OHR leaves.”

Dani: It is hard to say whether RS PM Dodik, with his radical nationalism, did more damage to SDP or helped more SBiH

Dani cover splash 'They are stronger together', pgs 18-21 'Radovan came down the mountain' by Senad Pecanin – Article reads that recent statement of RS Prime Minister Milorad Dodik on RS referendum is "timed so that entire pre-elections campaign is based on exchange of verbal nationalistic fire of great calibre." Author comments that politically Dodik did a great job: Firstly, pushed aside SDS and PDP as leading Serb parties; he did a great favour to SBiH leader Haris Silajdzic whom he promoted into leading protector of 'Bosniak dignity'; he discredited SDA by making political alliance with them on issue of constitutional changes; and finally, he paralyzed SDP with whom he was 'natural coalition ally'. Author notes: "It is hard to say whether Dodik, with his radical nationalism, did more damage to SDP or he helped more Silajdzic. But one thing is for certain, and that is that with his statements, Dodik threw BiH politically back political 1996... when Slobodan Milosevic and Radovan Karadzic were still the most powerful Serb leaders in BiH... [when] Dodik did have not a one percent of influence he has now when he is the most powerful politician in the state, which he keeps a hostage of his own non-accountability."

Feral Tribune commentary: SNSD Dodik and SBiH Silajdzic emerging as leading figures	Feral Tribune, pgs 28-29 'Troubles blooming throughout Bosnia', by Ivan Lovrenovic – Commenting on the RS PM Milorad Dodik's statement regarding possible organization of separation referendum in the RS, Lovrenovic says such rhetoric could result in emerging of two prominent political figures among the Serbs and Bosniaks, Dodik and SBiH's Haris Silajdzic that is, who have assumed roles of the SDA and SDS from 1990. The only big new, says Lovrenovic, is that 'the third partner', the HDZ BiH, is lost i.e. it is falling apart without leaving a credible replacement.

His statement caused unrest among Euro-American and Bosniak circles in Sarajevo that even HR Cristian Schwarz-Schilling had mentioned the possibility of using the Bonn powers. The HR made an effort during his visit to Belgrade to prove RS could be compared with neither Montenegro nor Kosovo, ‘but his arguments were not convincing enough’. The HR stated on the occasion RS does not have a historical dimension and the author added: ‘neither does Kosovo’.

CoM Chair Adnan Terzic put this decision on the agenda and before he did it, he received a positive opinion on the decision from BiH Finance Ministry and CoM’s Legislative Office. As Terzic foreseen the Office would deal with registering, maintaining and using of property in state possession.
