reform in BiH

RHB, Dnevni Avaz pg 8 'It is too soon to talk about police at the state level' by Fena – Conclusions of the Commission for Police Reform says that the current organization of the police forces in BiH is too large, non-efficient and in disharmony with the European standards. Commission member, Brcko Mayor Branko Damjanac, says tat the main task of the Commission is to offer a proposal of the new organization of the police forces in BiH based on comprehensive analyses. "Commission will most probably offer entirely new organizational scheme in which police in BiH would be organized on two levels, the state level and entity/District Brcko level," said Damjanac adding that the new structure also includes reduction for 3000 police officers.

Asked whether the new structure means unifying of police at the state level, Damjanac explained that "probably that is the direction things will move to, but also certain authorities will be kept at the level of centres to be established in entities and District."

VL: BiH still sending troops to Iraq	Vecernji List, pg 3 'State prepares plan to prevent retaliation', mentioned on front, by Eldina Medunjanin – notes that despite the fact that many countries are withdrawing troops from Iraq, BiH authorities are not giving up the plan to send a de-mining unit to Iraq. Apparently, in the meantime, many BiH ministries have been involved in preparatory works. Namely, the Security Ministry has been tasked to carry out thorough preparations in order to prepare defence against possible terrorist retaliation, the Defence Ministry will decide who goes to Iraq and who commands the unit, and on top of it, the MoD has to coordinate international assistance. The Foreign Ministry has been tasked to prepare a platform for diplomatic lobbying in order to secure the support from western European and Islamic countries, and to establish diplomatic relations with Iraq. Finally, the BiH Treasury needs to secure 2,5 million KMs, the sum which represents half the sum needed to cover the cost of the unit for one year in Iraq. The rest will be apparently provided by the US Government.

DL op-ed on security during Old Bridge opening	Dnevni List, pg 2 ‘Thank you for safe environment’, by Nevres Dedic – carries an op-ed in which the author commends domestic Police forces for doing a good job in Mostar during the opening ceremony of the Old Bridge. The author notes: “We have proven to foreigners, who have come here to advocate peace, that we can fight crime, but on the other hand, in fear of losing jobs here, they want to decrease the number of Police officers in BiH. To leave the people without jobs and give criminals an opportunity to operate in towns and villages, I cannot understand that (...) Maybe I am wrong, but I am of opinion it is premature to decrease the number of Police officers, maybe sometime in brighter future”.

Pesovic— The chairman of the SNSD, Milorad Dodik, told to Fena on Sunday that the issue of Radovan Karadzic had to be finally resolved because it was burdening the RS and the Serb people in this entity. Commenting on the fact that an indictment against Radovan Karadzic was confirmed on the day [of interview] nine years ago, Dodik said that it was of the highest national interest to Serbs in BiH for Karadzic to appear before the Hague tribunal or for the Karadzic case to be resolved in some form, although it would be best for him to appear in the tribunal. "I am of the view that it would be tragic for the Serb Republic and Serbs to have this issue hanging over them in the upcoming years or in 10-12 years", Dodik said.

DA: SCG has 20 more days to extradite Mladic, or will face sanctions Dnevni Avaz cover page 'Amfilohije negotiates on Mladic's surrender', pg 2 'Amfijlohiye Radovic negotiates on surrender of war criminal Mladic' by M. Dr. – DA learns from West source that Serbia and Montenegro have about 20 days to arrest and extradite Ratko Mladic to the ICTY, otherwise it will face strong sanctions from the EU and USA. The first to pass such message to SCG authorities was Mark Grossman, State Department high ranking official, who also said this during the visit to Belgrade about 10 days ago to the new Serbian president Boris Tadic. The high official of Serbian Interior Minister, involved in the search for Mladic, told Avaz: "Grossman came and told us that West gives us 30 days to arrest Mladic and extradite him to the Tribunal. In case we succeed in that, EU and USA will ensure that the trial of 4 generals accused for the war crimes committed in Kosovo is held in Serbia." Source says that regardless to all information they have, authorities still do not know much about Mladic's whereabouts. DA learns that Belgrade asked priest Amfilohije Radovic to try to make Mladic to surrender, but nor results as yet. Source concludes that EU and USA have announced such sanctions that it would be "crazy not to try everything." The source also reminds that for SCG it is easier to hand over Mladic, than four generals accused for crimes in Kosovo. He added that Mladic often crosses the border with BiH, and claims that Mladic enjoys big support from the State Border Service units in Zvornik-Bajina Basta.

VL int with

Tihic on military reforms and war crimes
Mikerevic

Vecernji List, pg 7 'We are not ready to join NATO', mentioned on front, by Frano Matic – VL carries an interview with the Chairman of BiH Presidency, Sulejman Tihic, in which he, talking about reforms to military in BiH, says: "We have carried out big reforms, including the reforms to the defence system, in which we came down to 12.000 soldiers from 500.000 soldiers of warring factions. We have BiH armed forces and NATO appreciates that deeply, but it keeps hurrying us to fulfil the key-pre-requisite, the arrest of war criminals, foremost Ratko Mladic and Radovan Karadzic. The arrest of war criminals is foremost a political issue, and the RS institutions have to solve it. I must stress that the armed forces need to reform further in order to form a single army, which would be a proof that we are mature military-wise (...) The current organizational set-up of armed forces in BiH is perhaps enough to join the PfP, but not NATO as well". Asked to comment on the initiative regarding possible changes of SDA ministers from the RS Government, Tihic says it is all about change of thesis, because instead of looking for culprits for BiH's failure to join the PfP, there are efforts to try and sanction those who have nothing to do with the arrest of war criminals. "One has to clearly say who's at fault for arrest of war criminals, who are still national heroes, because of whom whole of BiH suffers and which missed an opportunity to join the PfP", concludes Tihic.

The daily carries the Commander of NATO HQ in Naples, Admiral Gregory G. Johnson, who was onboard the ship, as saying: "It is not down to SFOR to arrest war criminals. It is responsibility of each citizen, especially the domestic authorities, and SFOR will help to get to those persons. I can tell you it is being done, but there are many who protect and support the criminals. Still, majority of BiH citizens want to go to Europe and I wonder why would someone opt for war crimes instead of Euro-Atlantic integration". He also said that there is a political will among some people to arrest war crimes indictees. 'Dragan Cavic, as the RS President, has taken a clear stance on this and I respect this stance. "One of the conditions for BiH admission to EU is the cooperation with the ICTY. We want to see BiH fully respecting the cooperation with the Hague. That is not significant only for BiH, we insist on the same thing in entire region," says Patten.

Pesevic – SNSD leader Milorad Dodik stated yesterday that organizing of early elections is of the utmost national interest for Serbs, Bosniaks, Croats and other people in BiH. He thinks that the announcement of the President of RS Government, who said he would appoint a new Minister of Interior in September, was proving links between crime and authority and also contributes to abolishing of RS Ministry of Interior and transferring of its authorizations to BiH level. He reiterated that SNSD was in possession of evidence on cooperation between Radomir Njegus and structures of organized crime. He also announced that SNSD would bring an initiative for proclaiming Banja Luka as the capital of RS.

He assessed that it was the final time to stop anti – Dayton activities in BiH and he pointed on the responsibility of the International Community in this. Dnevni Avaz pg 3 'Ivanic, the hawk' op-ed by Mirela Kukan – Author writes that Mladen Ivanic's statement on removal of SDA ministers to be inevitable is another proof that Ivanic – long time considers to be a moderate politicians – now moves towards occupying political space of SDS and Serb Radical Party. "With his story of SDA to be a party that wants to destroy RS, Ivanic performs classic change of thesis. He also knows that the key problem and a danger for RS is arrest of Radovan Karadzic and other war crime suspects at large... SDA cannot help them with that problem. Furthermore, hysterically defending RS survival, Ivanic... tries to put all blame on somebody else. Of course, PDP leader also has other, very practical reasons for his rhetoric. Local elections are soon, and he sees his prey to be weakening of SDS position and taking over voters of this party," concludes the editorial. statement regarding education

Vecernji List, pg 2 'Generalization', by Mila Stankovic – Commenting on the High Representative for BiH, Paddy Ashdown's, statement during his recent meeting with students from Mostar that the "higher education in BiH is rubbish", because a good deal of professors do not show up at lectures and because money is taken at exams, the author argues that HR Ashdown, by taking a general position, has offended all university professors. "It is logical to ask the question how competent Ashdown is to come up with such a generalized position, thus offending honest professors by putting them in the same basket with a few irresponsible ones, who, let's assume, exist, and who are talked about by many. However, Ashdown should have approached the problem in a different way".
