V. and N. B.– RS Defence Minister Milovan Stankovic stated on Thursday that the RS Government would adopt final positions on defence reform at a special session on Monday, 29 August. Stankovic told a press conference in Banja Luka that the RS Govt, who was in the session yesterday, discussed the report on up to date activities in the BiH defence system, but that due to the complexity of the matter it decided to continue the discussion on these issues on Monday. Stankovic also confirmed that the RS National Assembly will have to pass a decision on the transfer of authorities from the entity to the state level, i.e. make changes to the RS Constitution and certain laws regulating defence issues. The Co-Chair of the Defence Reform Commission Raffi Gregorian arrived on Thursday to Banja Luka to attend the session: "I believe that all necessary steps have been taken and that RS NA will adopt the solution of defence reforms." RTRS, Nezavisne Novine pg 5 'Gregorian expects a positive stance of RS NA' by Srna, Glas Srpske pg 2 'Getting closer to NATO' by G. Gregorian meets RSNA Speaker Stojicic, RTRS comments RS politicians not untied on the issue	RTRS Milka Mrdja – Co-chairman of BiH Defence Reform Commission Raffi Gregorian met with of RS National Assembly Speaker, Dusan Stojicic, and head of RSNA Caucuses in Banja Luka on Thursday. Gregorian emphasized that many activities have been undertaken since January, when negotiations on defence reform started. Therefore, he believes that RS NA will decide positively on transfer of authorities. However, RTRS comments that the RS is not united when it comes to defence reform. While SDS, according to member party's Presidency Momcilo Novakovic, shares the opinion with the RS Govt and the RS NA, Serb Radical Party cannot accept the defence reform concept that "does not fit the level of mutual trust between peoples which live in BiH", said SRS BiH President Milanko Mihajlica. Opposition parties, such as SNSD and Socialist Party announced that they will support the solution proposed by the DRC. Dnevni List, pg 6 'Positive declaration on defence reform', not signed also reports on Gregorian meeting with Stojicic.
BiH MoD warns defence reform is in critical moment	Dnevni Avaz pg 10 'Deadlines are the most critical moment' by L. OHR: Governing Parties Must Face Up To Their Responsibility For Police Reform	PINK, Oslobodjenje pg 3 'Tihic must now that the reform is in the hands of local politicians' by by FENA, Glas Srpske pg 2 'No reply on Tihic' by S. Mi. – OHR spokesperson in Banja Luka, Ljiljana Radetic, stated that the reform process in BiH, and in particular the reforms needed to get into Europe, can only be completed by the institutions and politicians of Bosnia and Herzegovina – not the International Community. Commenting the statement by Sulejman Tihic, who said that police reform marks no progress because of lack of unity in IC, Radetic said it is "basically sad that some try to bring the importance of this issue... down to this level and in that way remove the pressure from those that should agree." She reminded that the EC made it clear that BiH has to complete the reform process itself. Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Sulejman Tihic needs to submit his party's interests to the state', Dnevni List, pg 4 'BiH politicians should reach agreement', by D. Pasic, Vecernji List, pg 3 'It is domestic officials' turn', by ra, Nezavisne Novine pg 4 'International Community cannot be realizing reform processes' by Z. G. – carries the OHR press release along the same lines.

Tihic disagrees with OHR	Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'International Community cannot love BiH more than I love it' by Aj. Delic – BiH Presidency member Sulejman Tihic told DA Thursday his statement regarding the responsibility of IC for non-adoption of European principles in police reform is a stance he had reiterated several times already. He stated he does not agree with OHR statement saying 'political parties in BiH will never be recognized as modern and European as long as their leaders are putting better positioning in frames of their parties before true state interests' and he added 'they can never love BiH more than I love it or work for it more than I do'.

Hayat comment on police reform	Hayat by Semsudin Skejic – Commenting the OHR respond to Sulejman Tihic's statement on police reforms, reporter said that the reform will never be adopted without pressure of the international community. He also emphasized that the RS representatives are obliged to respect the platform adopted by RS National Assembly. Therefore, SDS can't accept the present police reform concept, even if this party might be ready to accept it. SDA and HDZ both agree with police reform. SDP criticizes the authorities, but the reporter commented that even if SDP were a governing party, problems with adoption of police reform would be the same. NGO's from RS use the police reform negotiations as ground for expansion of their political work. At the same time, media publishes the news that war orphans are being trained in terrorist camps in BiH. RS Ministry of Interior reacted immediately, stating that terrorist camps do not exist in BiH. Reporter ironically commented that this prompt reaction is a prove that RS Police doesn't need any reforms, as it is functioning so well. Police reform negotiations will continue on Wednesday, but reporter doubts that it is going to bring any results.

RTRS feature on police reform	RTRS by Biljana Knezevic – The RS Government did not discuss the police reform process on its Thursday's session. Members of the SDS Presidency also did not discuss this issue, although it was expected on the eve of Friday's session of the SDS Main Board. The Coordination Centre of 11 NGOs warned again that every solution which is not in keeping with RS constitution is absolutely unacceptable: they claim that the reform that foresees abolishing of the RS Ministry of Interior and transfer of authority from the RS to the state level would violate the RS Constitution. "We have some information that there are two currents among RS officials: one – led by the president Dragan Cavic, who is allegedly for accepting the police reform, and the second one – led by the RS Prime Minister Pero Bukejlovic, who does not support the proposed police reform concept", said Boro Medic, member of the RS Association of Inmates' Presidency. Although RS non-governmental organizations warned President Cavic and PM Bukejlovic that they must not give up their position, it seems that the compromise could be reached on the next police reform meeting, scheduled for Wednesday, August 31 on mount Bjelasnica . RTRS reporter speculates that all the negotiating sides would make concessions: RS would accept the police reform according to EU model, while other negotiating sides would give up the immediate defining of police regions. If that happens, as RTRS unofficially learns, the police regions issue would be solved sometimes in future, after one or maximum five years. This kind of compromise, according to RTRS source, will satisfy all sides; it will enable the beginning of negotiations with the EU, while SDS will not have to face their voters' protests.

DA int with EUPM Commissioner Carty on police-related issues	Dnevni Avaz, pg 5, mentioned on front 'We are not in the US to remove Andan', by Sead Numanovic – Carries an interview with the EUPM Commissioner, Kevin Carty, in which talks about police-related issues. Carty notes says the EUPM is disappointed with the course of police reforms talks since many deadlines have already been breached. Talking about the police maps, he says the EUPM was in favour of five regions, noting that any structure of police regions, including the 9+1 plan, is good if the EC principles are observed. However, Carty notes that the 10+1 plan is a stretch. Asked to comment on the journalist remark that there are no Bosniaks in the administration of police forces in BiH, Carty says that part of the EUPM's mandate is to secure the national balance, adding that it is not always possible when the most senior positions are in question because the criteria of professionalism comes first, not the ethnic affiliation. This statement triggered the author to ask whether Dragomir Andan (RS Police Director) was the best man for the post he is occupying since the US Ambassador to BiH recently said that Andan would be removed in his country after all the nonsense he had done, to which Carty replied: "We are not in United States". Inset 'New mandate as of next year?' – Asked whether the EUPM's mandate, which expires at the end of this year, would be prolonged, Carty says something like that needs the consent from the BiH Council of Ministers, stressing that some sort of continuation of the EUPM should be present in BiH in the next two years.

They requested the investigation of the issue. “The SBS agents complained and tried to file charges against the responsible officials but withdrew due to pressure and threats,” reads the letter. The group stated that they did not sign the letter due to the fear. SBS denied all the allegations adding that all candidates had been examined by United Nations’ IPTF. Fadil Jaganjac from SBS BIH stated that he was in the panel in 2001 and he declared under the full responsibility that during that period nobody was exposed to threats. Reporter noted that this issue as well as the issue of the murder of one of the SBS agents by another agent demand for the urgent solution of the situation in SBS. From the last year in April, SBS has no legal director and during the last month not even the deputies. BIH Minister for Security Barisa Colak stated the Wednesday’s meeting between Leaders of SDA and HDZ will enhance the search for the solution. “I will personally advocate for reaching the solution at the next session of the Council of Minister” added Colak. He added that politicians should be aware of the complexity of the situation and express will in solving it.

HJPC urged Ashdown to temporarily lifts the constitutional protection of judicial salaries/ FTV notes contradiction in HJPC statements	RHB, BHT1, FTV, RTRS, Oslobođenje pg 9 ‘Constitutional protection of the judges to be temporarily put out of force’, Dnevni Avaz pg 11, Dnevni List, pg 2 ‘Possible decrease of salaries to judges and prosecutors’, by Erna Mackić – High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council (HJPC) approved the draft law onf the working group tasked by the High Representative to review the salaries of the judges and prosecutors. It also urged Paddy Ashdown to temporarily place the constitutional protection of judges’ salaries out of effect. The above mentioned law will result in certain decrease of the judges and prosecutors’ salaries in all parts of BiH, and HJPC believes that the constitutional protection of the salaries prevent the implementation of this law in both BiH entities. FTV by Blazica Kristo – FTV comments that the press release issued by HJPC was entirely contradictory and confusing, as the HJPC adopts the law which will decrease their salaries, than demand lift of constitutional protection of their salaries [which would prevent decrease], and finally the HJPC said it is risky to lift the constitutional protection because the Courts and judges might be at the risk of corruption and political manipulation.

Suljic and Zelenika were removed in November 2000, while the FBiH Government was instructed to return their predecessors, who were replaced because of the political reasons, to work. However, OHR concluded that the circumstances have changed, thus enabling Suljic and Zelenika to find jobs in financial institutions. Both have signed statements swearing to respect the BiH Constitution and uphold the Peace Agreement. As Ljiljana Radetic, OHR spokespersons in Banja Luka , underlined the annulling does not question validity of the original decision.

McNair told DA he would strongly oppose to release of Prce. Apart from this, he says he had received a letter from F BiH President Niko Lozancic, which he had sent to the HR, but he had not received a copy of a decision on release of Prce on parole. 'I still have many questions on this issue. However, he has no answer to the question how many decisions on pardons he had reached, or who was pardoned, or only Prce was privileged with this in past six-seven months', McNair says. Judge Babic: Pardon of Prce is null and void	Nezavisne Novine pg 6 'Pardon of Prce is null and void over non-jurisdiction of F BiH President' by M. Cubro – F BiH President Niko Lozancic decided 15 days ago to pardon Miroslav Prce, who was sentenced over abuse of office, and to reduce his sentence for a year. Dani on Mandic case	Dani, pgs 24-26 'Mobster targeted by CIA', by Dzenana Karup-Drusko – carries an article in which Dani explains background of Momcilo Mandic's arrest, including Mandic amassed his wealth. The author says Mandic and some senior SDS officials took part in financial frauds, namely using the 'Privredna Banka Srpsko Sarajevo' (PBSS) to finance SDS pre-election campaigns and support hiding of Radovan Karadzic. Dani unofficially learns that despite the prosecutors trying to find for two years evidence to back the charges up, it would appear that they have failed, unless prosecutor Jonathan Ratel manages to make a connection between the PBSS case and Radomir Kojic [whose bank accounts were blocked by decision of HR on February 9, 2004]. According to sources close to the prosecution, there are serious evidences that connect Kojic with Karadzic. The sources say that SFOR was doing the surveillance of some banks in the RS, and apparently SFOR has pictures of Kojic withdrawing money and carrying it to Karadzic, in other words to people close to Karadzic. As for the arrest of Mandic, Dani says the arrest was arranged at a meeting of chiefs of secret polices of Serbia-Montenegro, RS and CIA for Balkans, which was held at Kolasin at the end of last month.

Reactions to
initiative for abolishment of
RS Council of Peoples

EuroBlic pg RS2 'Abolishment of the Council of Peoples is not realistic' by Nedeljka Breberina – Following the initiative of SNSD's Milorad Dodik for abolishment of RS Council of Peoples and transfer of its authorities to BiH House of Peoples, representatives of almost every caucus at RS CoP agree this initiative is not realistic. Chair of Serb Caucus Desanka Radjevic says it is the fact Bosniak and Croat Caucuses have misused this institution by launching the issue of vital national interest for all kinds of matters, however she does not believe there is a real possibility for this body to be abolished, considering all pressures that have led to its establishment. Bosniak Caucus believes CoP had justified its existence. 'I plead for abolishment of RS and I think there should be no RS NA, nor federal parliament, including houses of peoples – but, instead – regional assemblies should be established to deal with local issues', the Bosniak Caucus Chair, Ramiz Salkic, stated. Deputy Chairman of CoP Miroslav Mikes too believes it is not real to expect CoP to be abolished because such a proposal should first get a support of 2/3 majority at RS NA and, even if RS NA accepts it, the proposal would then be sent to CoP for an assessment and, according to Mikes, it is to be expected Bosniak and Croat Caucuses would reject it.

Dautbasic on liberalization of visa regime: 'Our country is hostage to illegal emigrants'	Dnevni List, pg 9 'Our country is hostage to illegal emigrants', by Ivana Rozic – According to the Secretary of the BiH Security Ministry, Bakir Dautbasic, the issue of liberalization/abolishment of visa regime for BiH citizens depends, to a large extent, on return of BiH citizens who are illegal emigrants abroad. He explains that a big problem lies in the fact that it is very hard to return such BiH citizens to the country because many of them have destroyed their documents, therefore it is very hard for foreign authorities to establish where such people come from.
SD on endangering of territorial integrity of BiH	Slobodna Dalmacija, pg 12 'It is punishable to destroy state only if weapons are used', by Z. Tulic – The author argues that the BiH legislation is very defective since many referendums, whose aim was to organize separation of one part of the country, have been organized in BiH, especially in the RS, and yet there was no consequences for organizers of such referendums. Beriz Belkic, an MP in BiH Parliament, asked for clarification of this issue from the BiH Prosecution, which stated that the endangering of territorial integrity of BiH can only happen, according to the law, with the use and/or threat of use of arms.

Oslobodjenje cover splash, pg 7 'About 3.300 victims of the war could stay without benefits' by A. Becirovic – Daily's lead story says that the Law on rights of defenders is not being implemented in Mostar, and for irresponsible behaviour of the City Administration it is possible that 3.300 disabled soldiers and members of families of killed soldiers could stay without their monthly benefits. Namely, at the time when Mostar consisted of 6 municipalities, each of them had its own Department for veterans and invalids protection, while the establishment of the City Administration meant also their unification. However, the FBiH Defence Ministry's information reads that the Administration has not done anything concrete in this issue to date.
