Political issues

DA claims politics
will no longer be a salvation
for criminals

Dnevni Avaz cover pg splash ‘“Covic” case is a message to corrupt politicians’ and pg 2 ‘Foreigners are sending a message to corrupt politicians through “Covic” case’ by S. Numanovic – The author notes that Tuesday should see resolvment of dilemma whether Dragan Covic would tender resignation or Paddy Ashdown, HR, would remove him from position. The author compares the case of Covic with the case of Branko Dokic, with only one difference – the indictment against Dokic has not been upheld as yet. According to the author, Covic is far too powerful and far too pragmatic to fit in stereotype of “a victim”, adding he is buying time under this veil. The author concludes that by removing Covic from the position at BiH Presidency, the international factor in BiH is sending out the message to all those willing to deal with politics that they have to be morally clean and that their involvement in political activities would make them even more vulnerable. The author concludes elections of 2006 would see parties not repeating the same mistake and also see them appoint non-controversial persons for the most senior positions in the state.

Chair of the Bosniak
Caucus
within RS National Assembly,
Tarik
Sadovic: RS
opposes BiH's entrance to the PfP

TV PINK –Danijel Vujanovic – The Chair of the Bosniak Caucus within RS National Assembly, Tarik Sadovic says that RS politicians oppose BiH's entrance to the Partnership for Peace.

The Bosniak Caucus is going to start the procedure of protection of vital national interest, due to declaration on strategic RS determinations on BiH defence system, adopted by the RS NA and on decisions the RS

Parliament has adopted on 23rd special session, since they suggest the full blockade of defence reform, by which BiH's entrance to Partnership for Peace (PfP) is being blocked. According to the session, RS NA decided that no further transfer of duties and abolishment of RS Ministry of Defence were needed in order for BiH to be admitted to the PfP. Sadovic claims that by this, RS politicians clearly stated that they were against the PfP by saying that they had met all the terms.

Sadovic claims that the idea on demilitarization is not going to be referred to as the serious one. Sadovic said that by this, RS politicians proposed "wolves to take care of sheep". The Chair of the Commission in charge of supervising RS defence and security bodies, Velimir Sakan said that the decisions made by the RS Parliament enable possibility for all terms to be met, in line with BiH Constitution. Military-politics analyser, Ostoja Barasin claims that political issue on whether BiH really wants to be admitted to the PfP has not been clearly defined in BiH. Barasin says that by becoming NATO member, secure and perspective future of a state is not provided. Barasin says that the best thing would be to demilitarize BiH.
