BH Radio: Discussion on police regions most disputed	BH Radio 1 Vanja Ilcic – Leaders of 11 political parties today continued talks on police reform on the mountain of Vlasic . Unofficially, the most disputed and the key issue of police regions maps is on the agenda. There is no information if the BiH politicians are on the road to reach the agreement on the issue. The talks are expected to end tomorrow although the possibility of their continuation but not in coming days is also not excluded.
RTRS on Vlasic meeting	RTRS by Branka Veleusic – Like first two days, Vlasic meeting is taking place far away from public eye. Prior to today's session, Milorad Dodik, briefly commented that negotiations are hard and conducted according to principle "nothing is agreed until we reach an agreement" and alternative solutions, that are to be presented to Parliament, are being searched for. On the contrary, the information remains unconfirmed that everything has already been agreed on and talks on Police Board are ongoing. Hence all options are possible, and more details should be available later on today.

HNZ says discussion on police on Vlasic sends wrong message	RHB – HNZ issued a press release expressing its belief that the way of negotiations on the future of police in BiH at Vlasic is sending wrong signals to the public. HNZ notes that although in principle it is requested that politicians should be prevented from influencing the police, the gathered politicians are defending their political positions and taking political decisions, thus deciding on the future of police in a narrow-political way.

After two days of negotiations, Lagumdzija suspects the sincerity of some of the participants at Vlastic meeting. “No one at this table is ready to say that he wants to politicise the police. They all swear in the de-politicised police, but in fact some of them want something completely different”, added Lagumdzija. M. – Announces that the BiH House of Representatives has scheduled a session for May 4, at which the issue of filling of the post of Croat member of BiH Presidency should be discussed. Although it is unknown whether the HDZ Presidency will nominate a candidate for the post, the President of HDZ Caucus in the HoR, Vinko Zoric, believes the issue will be solved by May 4. "I am not a member of HDZ Presidency and I do not have an information whether a session (of HDZ Presidency) has been scheduled, but I do not see a reason why it should not be held by May 4. Even if it is not held by then, I think we will elect a new member of BiH Presidency, because the extended Collegium concluded that we would not be prolonging the process any more", says Zoric. Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Still no candidates for Covic's successor' – According to Srna news agency, no candidate name has been yet submitted to the BiH Parliament. VL interview: Doris Pack on internal organization of BiH	Vecernji List, cover pg splash and pg 5 ‘Abolish the Federation, make canton out of the RS!’, by Zoran Kresic – Carries an interview with the leader of delegation of European parliament for southeastern Europe, Doris pack, in which she talks, among other issues, about the internal organization of BiH. “The so-called cantonization is, in my opinion, most probably the most appropriate solution: the Republika Srpska as a canton, Brcko as the second (canton) and several more (not ten) cantons in the Federation. In any case, it means the Federation of BiH as such disappears. That would help save a lot of money that could be used for better and bigger investments and creation of new jobs. That would in every case strengthen the vertical structure (...) Representatives of the three people must find that solution. Otherwise, it will simply not go. However, one has to say that joining the EU will not happen without changing the internal structure of BiH. Everyone must be clear about this”, says Pack.

DL op-ed: Croats getting assimilated in BiH

Dnevni List, pg 2 'Assimilation', by I. Rozic – Commenting on the estimation of the CIA, which says there are around 4 million people currently living in BiH (48% Bosniaks, 37,1% Serbs and 14,3% of Croats), the author says the data shows the decrease in number of the Croats in comparison to the last census. The author notes that many analysis believe that the plan is to decrease the number of Croats in central parts of BiH, whilst in the same time the Serbs and Bosniaks have managed to return to areas once held by the Croats. This triggers the author to say that the powers that be are using all kinds of methods to assimilate the Croats, including the prevention from the right to education in the mother tongue and right to (own) TV channel.

SD op-ed: Croat politicians are bad negotiators

Slobodna Dalmacija 'Successful ones sweat only when they make deals' by P. Milos carries an editorial which says that throughout the history Croats have not had successful negotiators and for this reason they used to make bad agreements and the last is the one reached in Dayton. The author says that by signing the Dayton Peace Accord, Croats recognized the RS, which is the result of ethnic cleansing, and they (Croats) eliminated Herceg Bosna 'which was a framework for the survival of the Croats under such circumstances'. According to the editorial, RS politicians behave like spoiled children, unlike the Croat politicians who fulfill wishes of international officials hoping that someone will notice their loyalty and concessions they make at their own damage, however, in spite of all this, the Serb politicians are being treated more favorably.
