Reactions to Tihic's initiative	RHB – At the session to be held in Banja Luka , RS NA is expected to agree on a response to the initiative of the Bosniak member to BiH Presidency, Sulejman Tihic, regarding the change of three laws in RS regulating issues of hymn, flag, holy days. Serb political parties estimate Tihic's initiative as completely unconstitutional. RTRS – Dragan Cavic, SDS and Republika Srpska President, says that Tihic's political campaign is based on fight against Serbs as a nation and RS. "I would be grateful if Mr. Tihic could explain what constitutionality of peoples in BiH that is. Is that yellow colour, blue colour or stars. I think we have agreed for RS political parties to give clear answer on this question. This is completely unacceptable initiative for us", said Cavic. Nezavisne Novine pg 4 'Tihic is directly violating Constitution'– Dragan Stojcic, RSNA Speaker, said there are cannot be BiH without RS. "We will be ready to use everything that is at our disposal in a legal and political way, including the possibility to announce the referendum where RS citizens would state their stand on something like that," stated Dusan Stojcic. Ranko Savic, PDP MP at RS NA, yesterday called on Tihic to give up on his initiative, because otherwise, the request for assessment of the term Bosniak will be raised from RS side. Savic said that Tihic should be the most responsible leader of BiH, and not the nationalistic leader. Milanko Mihailica, president of SRS, expects from BiH Constitutional Court to reject this initiative, also expecting the High Representative Paddy Ashdown to react. SDA considers that this case should be completed before the BiH Constitutional Court . EuroBlic RSpgs 2-3 'Unified to preserve the hymn' mentioned on cover 'RS MP's do not give up on hymn' – Borislav Paravac, Serb member to BiH Presidency, reminds that RS is a constitutional category and that BiH cannot change without the change of constitutional framework. On this he adds: "High Representative to BiH, Paddy Ashdown, does not have the authority to change Dayton Peace Agreement, meaning constitutional framework." Mladen Ivanic, PDP President, is of the view that all parties in RS should take a joint stance and react upon requests of Sulejman Tihic. On this he notes: "It is high time to put an end to anti-Dayton activities in BiH." Glas Srpske pg 5 'To respond equally'; Vecernje Novosti pg 5 'To say "stop" to Tihic' – Nebojsa Radmanovic, President of SNSD Executive Board, stressed it is not the first time that Tihic makes such public requests, which are against constitutional, and does not get penalised over making them. Nevenka Trifkovic, PDP MP at RS NA, said that Tihic is making it clear to everybody he does not see RS as the part of BiH. She noted: "In a response to his requests, the initiatives for disputing the name of the people of Bosniak, that used to be Muslim, are raised." Vecernji List, front and pg 2 'Term Bosniak to undergo constitutional checking', by Branka Stevandic, Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'PDP against removing prefix Serb' by Fena, Oslobodjenje pg 3 'We will ask consideration of name 'Bosniaks'' by Onasa, Oslobodjenje pg 4 'Tihic should withdraw initiative', pg 4 'Cavic: A trial to destroy Serb identity' – also bring statements by Cavic, Mihajlica and Savic.

He noted: "SDS Audit Team established that no financing of war crime suspects or supporting to people aiding them is provided through SDS funds." He also called on Dragan Mikerevic, RS Premier, to appoint the new RS Interior Minister as soon as possible, noting that any delay in this appointment process might be counter-productive.
SDS nominates 3 candidates	RTRS, FTV, Oslobodjenje pg 10 'Candidates Lajsic, Ecimovic and Sarac', Glas Srpske pg 2 'Auditors erasing accusations', Nezavisne Novine pg 4 'Djordje Lajsic is a candidate for RS Minister of Economy' – Dragan Cavic, RS President and SDS Acting President, at yesterday's press conference in Banja Luka said that the SDS candidate for the position of the RS Minister of Economy would be Djordje Lajsic, holder of M.A. degree in economy. Instead of the removed Momir Tosic, SDS proposed two candidates to Adnan Terzic, BiH COM Chair: Slobodan Ecimovic, economist from Sokolac, and Mirko Sarac from Sarajevo as possible candidates for the position of BiH Deputy Minister for economic relations with abroad. Dnevni Avaz pg 9 'Djordje Lajsic was a Deputy Minister in Serbian Government' by M. Tihic: I will not withdraw initiative to change RS symbols	Dnevni Avaz pg 5 'I will not withdraw the demand to change the coat of arms, flag and hymn of RS' by Aj. Delic – Chairman of the BiH Presidency, Sulejman Tihic, says he would not withdraw his initiative filed with the BiH Constitutional Court to reconsider the Law on RS symbols, coat of arms, flag and hymn. He adds that such initiative is constitutional, despite the demands coming from a number of parties in RS to withdraw the request. "RS is an entity of Serbs, Croats, Bosniaks and all other citizens. Hence, all peoples are equal in both entities. In line with that, the entities' symbols must contain the elements of every constituent people, and not only of the one as it was done by Radovan Karadzic during the establishment of RS. These symbols were established by the war crimes indictees at the time when all non-Serbs were driven out of the RS," said Tihic. He adds that the claims by PDP that such initiative may bring destabilization in entire RS is only "the private opinion" of that party. He was asked to comment a statement by Rajko Savic, PDP representative in RS National Assembly, who said that unless Tihic gives up PDP will demand abolishment of name 'Bosnjak'. Tihic responds saying that such statements make no sense however.

Update to initiative aimed at establishment of Croat channel in BiH	Dnevni List, pg 3 'Channel in Croatian language a dead letter!?', by Miso Relota – The House of Representatives of the BiH Parliament should be holding its 42nd session in Sarajevo today and one of items on the agenda is the Law on PBS system of BiH. According to Filip Andric, an MP in the BiH HoR, the said law envisions the current situation, in other words it legalizes the situation as imposed by former High Representative for BiH, Wolfgang Petritsch. Andric goes on to say that he has submitted an amendment to the law, requesting that the current PBS system in BiH has broadcasts in the three official languages and three separate channels with programming that would suit the needs of the constituent peoples. According to Andric, he personally submitted the amendment, however it is a joint product prepared by the Croat Caucus in the BiH HoR. DL notes that the competent commission did not support the amendment, however, Andric says he will take the amendment to the HoR, and in case of another failure in the HoR, there are better chance for success in the BiH Parliament's House of Peoples. Vecernji List, pg 3 'HDZ wants channel in Croatian language', mentioned on front, by Zoran Kresic – Unlike Dnevni List, Vecernji List notes that the aforementioned commission adopted the amendment as prepared by the HDZ MPs, which foresees establishment of one PBS system with three channels in languages of the three constituent peoples. However, VL notes the chances are that the Bosniak MPs will not be supporting the HDZ's amendments, and in case it takes place, the HDZ MPs says they could be invoking the vital national interest clause with the BiH Constitutional Court. Slobodna Dalmacija, pg 13 'Croat TV channel will go 'through' for sure', by Petar Milos – SD carries Filip Andric as confirming that the Parliamentary Commission for Traffic and Communications rejected his amendment, adding: "I think there was no support to the amendment because of constant pressures against some members by principals of the OHR. They even pressured the President of the HDZ BiH, although the request for Croat channel in Croat language is not only legitimate but also in conformity with the Constitution and European convention on human rights".

Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'Tribunal's agents for two years have been gathering information on war crimes at large', Oslobodjenje pg 10 'Karadzic visits villages, Mladic attends the games' – DA brings the text published by the New York Times, written by Marlise Simons, which claims that the Hague Tribunal "has no assault troops or police commandos at its service. But it does have detectives armed with cameras, the undercover agents and their network of informants have snooped around streets in Serbia and traveled through the mountains in Bosnia. Their business is to find and shadow people suspected of committing war crimes during the Balkan conflict of the early 1990s." The author claims that such operations have been on going for almost two years, and that the reports are sent back to The Hague which help to prosecutors to produce information about many of the 22 suspects still at large in Serbia and Bosnia. Article further reads: "Carla Del Ponte said her detectives had produced proof that local government officials regularly warned suspects of an impending arrest, allowing them to escape. Until recently, the prosecutor's "tracking team," as it is known here, had been treated as an official secret. But last week, Del Ponte abruptly issued a public communiqué describing the undercover operations. On Thursday, for the first time, she even released surveillance photographs taken by the detectives, to expose what she called the hypocrisy of the Serbian and Bosnian authorities. Her move also reflects some of the frustration felt at the tribunal, which began proceedings seven years ago but has yet to get its hands on some of the most important war crimes suspects."
