VL argues that the wartime government in Sarajevo led by the late Alija Izetbegovic with assistance of Haris Silajdzic and Hasan Cengic, had taken many loans that amount to hundreds of millions of US$, whose final destinations are unknown and which will have to be returned, according to the author, by the future generations of BiH citizens. project

B. – Montenegrin Prime Minister Milo Djukanovic has stated that Tara river is a unique ecologic resource and cannot imagine any Government that might make any move that would put it in jeopardy. He told citizens not to have any fear that his Government would make any such moves because it is a constitutional obligation of the authority to develop Montenegro as an ecological country. Djukanovic did not say whether he would sign the petition against the drowning of Tara river because of the construction of "Buk Bijela" dam.

Nezavisne Novine pg 6 'There will be no hasty decisions' by D. R. – Nada Mugosa, Assistant to Minister of Environment and environment protection of Montenegro, stated that the Montenegrin Government has not still reached a single decision regarding the construction of hydro power plant "Buk Bijela", which would lead to drowning of 12 km long Tara Canyon. NN op-ed on Buk Bijela project	Nezavisne Novine op-ed pg 7 'Buk Bijela' by Dragan Risojevic – The author is writing about the latest debate on construction of Buk Bijela noting it has culminated lately with remarks by official Banja Luka and Podgorica on one, OHR and ecologically aware public of Montenegro on the other side. He stresses it is of extreme importance to emphasise that the project is still too far from its realisation, regardless of bombastic announcement on its launch. Risojevic further notes it is hard to believe in statements given by Paddy Ashdown's spokesperson and potential devastation of ecological balance in the region. He says it is more likely OHR disputes a large amount of money to be involved in this project (if it is to be realised) and also people involved as potential concessionaires. Author notes: "Their experience tells them that the business is not clean where EFT of Vuk Hamovic is doing performing the job."

Barasanin stressed that one of them was a former senior official of the FBiH Army.

The BiH Press Council believes that the implementation of the aforementioned law would have direct and very unfavorable influence on publishing in general and it might result in shutting down of many print media in BiH.
Dani: VAT will strangle us out!	Dani pg 26-28 'Tax that will strangle us out' by Jasna Jelusic – According to the author, if the members of the BiH parliament do not realize on time what they have been offered by the BiH Council of Ministers to consider and adopt in for of the draft Law on VAT, they might bring a large number of BiH citizens at the edge of hunger and poverty as well as destroy the entire printing sector in BiH. Wondering why the CoM imposes a system not being applied anywhere in Europe, the magazine's journalists stands for introduction of the more favorable tax rates for the products such as food, books and press.

According to VL, chances are small that the EP HZ HB will survive because even the IC in BiH wants to see it under the Elektroprivreda of BiH. President of the HDZ Caucus in the FBiH Parliament, Ivan Madunic, comments: "Representatives of the Bosniak majority have made such legal solutions according to which the EP HZ HB would join the Elektroprivreda of BiH. by Srebrenica Commission

Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'Srebrenica Commission gave wrong information' by E. Sarac – The Srebrenica Commission Chair, Milan Bogdanic, said he doesn't believe that Amor Masovic, Chief of FBiH Commission for Missing Persons, will bring decision to halt exhumations of mass graves localities identified by the Srebrenica Commission in its report. Masovic earlier said this would happen after his Commission has not found a single body in Kazani locality, which is one of eight Srebrenica Commission 'discovered'. In a statement for DA, Bogdanic says he hopes that the cooperation will continue: "Establishing localities and exhumations was done based on information we have received from authorized institutions and witnesses at the terrain." Bogdanic adds that as for Kazani locality there is a chance that "since it is near river bank, it is possible that water took bodies away or that they were moved to some other location." On the other hand, Masovic says he doesn't believe that FBiH Commission for Missing Persons should continue with the exhumations if the bodies are not found in this location, as the Commission has disturbed its working plan to check allegations of the Srebrenica Commission. "It has been shown that the information they gave us were not valid. I will ask Bogdanic to put me in direct contact with the source of information," says Masovic. DA brings that no body remains in Kazani were found at the end day of the exhumations.

transfer CIPS under state control

Oslobodjenje pgs 4-5 'IDs under state control', mentioned on cover, by V. Zivak, A. Prlenda – Daily writes that BiH Council of Ministers seriously considers transferring activities related to CIPS documents from entity to state level. CoM says that the problems is not in CIPS documents themselves, but he people working on the project as state authorities have no control of those workers.

"Therefore, the solution is seen in transfer of staff members and administrative procedure to the state level, where everything will be put under one management line," reads the article. Daily says this initiative is currently being discussed by the rule of law working group and chair of the group, BiH Security Minister Barisa Colak, is very eager to implement it. His deputy Dragan Mektic confirms this adding that "everything related to civil affairs should come out the entities services and be transferred within the state jurisdiction."
