VL goes on to say that the US Ambassador to BiH, Douglas McElhaney, took part in a discussion on constitutional changes that is taking place nearby Milan, Italy, in organization of ‘Conrad Adenauer’ foundation, concluding the US administration is concerned with the number of amendments the Serb side has forwarded to the expert commission in charge of (preparing) amendments to the Constitution.

HR: if const changes were not adopted it would be a step back

Dnevni Avaz pg 5, mentioned on cover 'I will lobby for more liberal visa regime' by Sead Numanovic – Commenting why OHR did not take more significant part in the process of constitutional changes in an interview to daily, High Representative Christian Schwarz-Schilling said: "When I took over the duty, talks on constitutional changes were at their end and I do not think that I should have taken part in it. But, 2007 should see the next phase when we will take more significant part in the process."

Schwarz-Schilling added that: "If parliamentarians decide to reject offered solutions, than they have to come up with alternative ones. Today's situation is not bad, but constitutional changes are better. Someone can say that what is agreed on is neither good or enough. But in politics you have to be realistic and move step by step." HR noted his priorities also include help to BiH authorities to pass the negotiations with EU on Stabilisation and Association Agreement [SAA] and try to convince political leaders to adopt and implement constitutional changes. HR concluded that the failure of constitutional changes would be psychological step back, and it would impact not only plans of OHR, but also EU and European Commission.

General political issues

BiH HoP passed amendments to the BiH Election Law, introducing passive registration of voters

BHT1– At session on Monday, the BiH House of Peoples has passed the amendments to the BiH Election Law, which installs passive registration of voters. This means that every citizen with CIPS issued ID would be automatically registered on central voters' list. At the same time, this enables BiH Election Commission to schedule elections in 150 days, i.e. in first week of May and held in first week of October. In this way BiH Parliament would have time to pass amendments to the Constitution referring to number of MPs in the Parliament and election of BiH Presidency. RTRS – New Election Law kept the regulation from previous one stipulating political parties have to have 30% of women on their election lists. Electoral threshold remained 3% but refers to entity level. Public Broadcasting Services are obligated to follow election campaign for 30 days instead of earlier 60. Private media have no obligation to follow on election campaign but if they decide to follow it, they would have to follow on all political parties. RHB, Hayat, FTV, Dnevni List pg 4 'Dispalced persons have right to vote' by D. Part of SDA
MPs in FBiH
HoR support removal of FBiH President
Lozancic

Dnevni List, pg 2, mentioned on front
'Removal of Lozancic is likely', by Mensud Zorlak – According to DL, the necessary prerequisites for removal of the FBiH President, Niko Lozancic, are being created, namely the initiative launched by the SDP which requires signatures of 66 MPs (in the FBiH HoR) is very close to its realization.
SDA's Irfan Ajanovic (MP) notes an agreement has been reached (without saying with whom exactly) that a part of SDA MPs will sign the initiative. He underlines this is not about a rift within the SDA. According to SDP's Slavisa Sucur, who is collecting the signatures, the initiative has so far been signed by 63 MPs, expecting that more SDA MPs will sign it on Tuesday. Sucur believes that once the necessary signatures are collected, the same procedure in the FBiH HoP will go quicker. (SDP is dissatisfied with the work of Lozancic pertaining to adoption of 2006 budget, appointment of FBiH ministers et al). Dnevni Avaz pg 2

RS President
Cavic
criticizes RS PM Dodik for removing so many officials

Dnevni Avaz pg 10 'Due to Dodik's removals RS Official Gazette looks like telephone directory' by N.Diklic – In his interview for DA, RS President Dragan Cavic said that he does not agree with policy of RS Prime Minister Milorad Dodik who removed so many officials that RS Official Gazette looks now like telephone directory with names full of removed people, adding that it represents political influence on the work of institutions that should be freed from it. Cavic reminded of 1997 when about 6000 people were removed when 'Sloga' coalition came to power, adding: "These removals were bad decisions since the removed ones will easily get their rights in court. It is RS budget that would be damaged for compensation to the removed. And further, it is a question how system could function when it is shaken with so many changes."

Finally, the Court will discuss failures to comply and act in accordance to the Court's decisions. In such case, the Court will inform the BiH Prosecution because it represents a felony. RTRS, Dnevni Avaz pg 9 'Discussion on Tihic' initiative on Friday' by A.M.– Inset 'On Croatian aid to HVO members'- BiH Constitutional Court is also scheduled to discuss demand of BiH House of People Chair Mustafa Pamuk. Crimes / Cooperation with ICTY

RS Interior Minister Cadjo met RS MoI Trade Union; stressed that ICTY obligation has to be fulfilled	PINK – Following the meeting of the Board of the RS Union of Internal Affairs employees, RS Minister of Interior (MoI), Stanislav Cadjo said that cooperation with the ICTY is a legal obligation RS and BiH have to fulfil and that there should be no inactivity in this regard. Cadjo reminded that end of March is the deadline to provide concrete evidence on Ratko Mladic's arrest. The main topics of the meeting were financial status and protection of police officers. According to the RS Police Union Head Dusko Jandric police officers are not well protected, since there were 92 attacks on police officers in 2005 and none of the perpetrators was processed by judiciary. Jandric said that RS MoI employees are satisfied with the 17% increase of salaries (although they previously asked for 20%). BHT1 – Cadjo expects the Trade Union to help the Ministry in fighting crime and corruption. "I expect support in an extremely decisive fight against all kinds of corruption and criminal actions, especially those referring to the MoI employees and the Ministry itself", said Cadjo. RTRS, EuroBlic pg RS3 'Police are looking for protection' not signed, Nezavisne Novine pg 5 'Cooperation with the Hague is lawful obligation of RS' by Srna, Glas Srpske pg 3 'Thicker wallets for policemen' by M. Milunovic, Glas Srpske pg 3 'Cooperation with the Hague' by M. NN op-ed: If a special RS Prosecutor's Office for fight against organised crime is established, then it should have special mechanisms at its disposal	Nezavisne Novine op-ed pg 7 'Prosecutor's Office, a special one' by Dragan Jerinic – The author notes that the announcement on establishing of a special Prosecutor's Office shows that the RS Premier Milorad Dodik wishes to fulfil a promise given before taking over the authority in RS with regard to fight against organised crime. Nevertheless, as soon as the realisation of this project commenced, resistance appeared in political structures, judiciary, individuals at HJPC, BiH Prosecutor's Office and even some representatives of IC are not willing to accept this idea. The author wonders if this is a reflection of a fear that changes might show the "reformed" judiciary had failed to provide with expected results and he concludes by saying that if a special Prosecutor's Office is established, then it should have special mechanisms at its disposal, otherwise this would only represent cosmetic changes.
BiH HoP adopted Law on applying provisional measures to ensure efficient implementation of ICTY mandate	Oslobodjenje pg 2 'Property of ICTY indictees is being frozen' by A.Terzic – BiH House of Peoples adopted on Monday the Law regulating introduction and application of certain provisional measures aimed at preventing the use, stealing or other disposal with assets and properties of persons indicted before the ICTY, which are not available to the Court and their supporters in avoiding the availability to the Tribunal. BiH House of Representatives adopted the law earlier. BiH HoP also adopted report on harmonization text of budget for BiH institutions and international obligations, which was the last step in the row of adopting the state budget.

VL notes that Mijovic's name was mentioned even in the ICTY because he was the commander of the 'infamous 'Red berets' unit', which took part in wars in BiH and Croatia. FBiH HoR approved FBiH Government to launch temporary allocation of public revenues	BHT1 – The FBiH House of Representatives has given approval to FBiH Government to pass decision on temporary allocation of revenues from the single account. The decision would be in force until the Law on Allocation of Public Revenues is passed. The FBiH Constitutional Court is currently processing this Law, at demand of Croat Caucus in FBiH HoP, which invoked vital national interest. “Significance of this move is that finally the money which is on the account would reach budget users; we start financing users; we are getting to the phase of more quality work; however the problem is not solved until the Law on Allocation of Public Revenues is passed. We would try to pass it as soon as possible”, said FBiH Prime Minister Ahmet Hadzipasic. There is about 350 millions KM on the account. “The money will be allocated to Cantons, since no conditions for direct allocation to municipalities have been created, and this will be in force until the Law on Allocation of Public Revenues is passes”, said the FBiH Minister of Finance Dragan Vrankic. Due to impossibility to allocate resources, certain municipalities were unable to perform basic duties. They are worried that they would not get the money immediately. Large companies filed complaints to FERK due to announced increase of electricity prices; BiH CoM Chair Terzic embittered with such decisions	BHT1 – Certain BiH companies, such as ‘MITTAL STEEL’ and ‘Aluminij’ have filed complaints to the F BiH Electricity Regulatory Agency’s [FERK] decision to increase price of electricity, as of April 1. ‘Aluminij’ leadership claims that the increase would cause great losses. The company states that the money, collected in this way, goes to political parties. “Political-criminal actions are behind the whole issue... elections are to take place and we have to make reserves in order to finance parties”, said General Manager of Aluminij Mijo Brajkovic. FERK claims that the increase is justified, since both ‘Elektroprivreda’ [referring to two in F BiH] had great losses in 2005. Aluminij states that due to poor managing in Elektroprivreda, its leaderships should be blamed, not the citizens. BiH Prime Minister Adnan Terzic, who visited Mostar on Monday, was shocked with decision on increase in prices. “I think that this is an example of how so called independent regulatory agencies are able to act as separate entities. I am embittered with such decision and I think that both, F BiH Prime Minister and F BiH Government should dedicate to the issue, although I believe that the so called independency of such agencies makes them unable to act”, said Terzic. Aluminij leadership pointed out that if the production were to be reduced, the state would face losses, as well as all companies they are cooperating with.
