BiH political leaders to continue debate on political crisis after New Year	RHB, BHT, FTV, RTRS, Oslobodjenje cover page, pgs 4-5 'Successors to Ministers after New Year' by Vedrana Zivak, Dnevni Avaz pg 3 'Terzic: First step should be establishment of RS Government' by A. Malagic – The BiH Presidency and the Council of Ministers held a joint session in Sarajevo on Wednesday to discuss the current political situation in the country related to the crisis of Government in RS. The draft Budget of the BiH Institutions for the next year was also adopted at the session. Journalists were told after the session that the talks on the stabilization of the political situation in the Council of Ministers caused by resignations submitted by two Ministers from the ranks of the Serb people would be continued after the New Year holidays. Asked that it meant that the crisis in CoM had been overcome, CoM Chairman Adnan Terzic said the yesterday's meeting was significant to anyone who was well-intentioned. "In order to speak about is the crisis overcome first we should determine did it exist at all. We had a situation, which made our normal work impossible and we cannot tell this has been resolved. However the start of talks on the issue encourages and speaks for itself that we are going in a direction leading to removal of the causes," emphasized Terzic. On the other side, Chairman of the BiH Presidency Borislav Paravac claims that the crisis exists and that it has been even deepening particularly following Defense Minister Nikola Radovanovic's announcement that he would not participate in work of CoM as long as the two ministerial seats are not filled after resignations by Mladen Ivanic and Branko Dokic. Dnevni List front pg splash and pg 3 'Authority crisis continues' by E. In this context, he expressed hope that the members of OSBiH would perform responsibly and professionally. The State Defence Minister has informed the press about the activities that have been taken after the High Representative had addressed him a letter on December 16 informing him that the indicted war crime suspect, Ratko Mladic, was discharged from the RS Army in 2002 and that information exist that Mladic had resided in an underground military facility near Han Pijesak in June and July this year. In the situation when two out of four Serb ministers have resigned, I believe I carry responsibility of a representative of any political option of Serb people in BiH. That is why my participation in CoM is problematic," said Radovanovic. Dnevni List pg 3 'Radovanovic did not attend session' not signed, Nezavisne Novine cover 'Minister of Defence Nikola Radovanovic announces resignation' by M. Asked whether this included the change to the BiH Constitution, Radovanovic added that this can be concluded especially when talking about abolishing entities' Interior Ministries.

Z.; Nezavisne Novine pg 6 'OHR also responsible for the situation in BiH' by D.R., FENA – The year coming to an end has been marked by a negative trend because key challenges that the country is facing, the establishment of a functional, stabile and self-sustainable system of authority, the bond between organised crime and ruling elites, growing corruption and organised crime will remain a concern in the future, Transparency International BiH (TIBiH) stated in its report to the media for 2004. TI stated that the brunt of the responsibility for this situation lies with the parties and individuals in power, but the responsibility of the international community, especially OHR, can also be brought into question. The institution that entirely or partially performs constitutional, legislative, executive and judicial authority with practically limitless powers should at least accept a part of the responsibility for the situation in BiH. TI global researches clearly show that BiH is joining the part of the world with uncontrollable corruption and the rule of organised crime. BiH has dropped from position 70 in 2003 to 82 in 2004 on the list ranking countries from the "cleanest" to the "most corrupt". Claims on links between political elites and organised crime have also been confirmed which has a negative impact on the business environment and the influx of foreign investments. At a conference held in Meridil, Mexico, on the occasion of December 9, the International Anti-corruption Day, it was stated that BiH has still not signed the UN Convention on Fighting Corruption. Extremely pessimistic assessments about the situation in BiH were also heard at the conference, including the loss of 1,5 billion KM to corruption, that the state will go bankrupt by 2006, more than 80 million KM ending up in pockets of corrupt individuals because of non-transparent public purchase procedures etc. TI also marked the fourth year of its activities in BiH. In 2005 it will focus its activities on strengthening mechanisms for preventing conflict of interest, freedom of access to information, fighting corruption in education, raising awareness on active participation in the fight against corruption and providing legal assistance to citizens who were damaged by such actions of the authorities.

On this she stresses that regardless of what somebody may think of Dragan Cavic, we must give him credits for this.
A war crime indictee arrested in Brcko	BHT, FTV, RTRS, Dnevni List pg 4 'New arrests of indictees from The Hague arrest warrants' by T.
