RS PM Dodik: RS MoI not to be abolished at the cost SAA talks are stopped	PINK By Dragica Tojagic – At the session of RS National Assembly's Board of Security and Defence in Banja Luka on Friday, it was concluded by RS politicians that RS is ready to adopt the police reform but not with imposed solutions. At the occasion, RS Prime Minister Milorad Dodik stated that RS would not allow the abolition of RS Ministry of Interior at the cost of stopping the negotiations on Stabilisation and Association Agreement. FTV – Dodik stressed that RS Police has to be the part of the united BiH police structure, adding that the police reform will not be possible without consensus. He stressed that RS supports the police organized on three levels: state, local and middle level. RHB, BHT1, HayatDnevni Avaz pg 10 'To preserve RS MoI even at cost of stopping SAA talks' Nezavisne Novine pg 3, mentioned on cover 'No abolishment of RS MoI' by V.Popovic Oslobodjenje cover splash, pgs 4-5 'Cavic announced fiasco of police reform in BiH' by Orijana Vukovic Glas Srpske pg 3 'Agreement or failure' Blic pg RS2-3 'They do not want to abolish RS MoI' – also covered.

RS NA Defence and Security Board: political leaders to discuss on police reform instead of PDRs	RTRS By Sinisa Mihailovic – At the session held on Friday in Banja Luka, the RS National Assembly's Defence and Security Board has, unofficially, concluded that Police Reform Directorates [PRD] in BIH are not in position to reach the consensus on police structure models so this should be taken over by the leaders of political parties. RS President Dragan Cavic stressed that the principle of imposed solution and outvoting should not be applied. Cavic stressed that RS MoI has to be preserved, adding "I fear that this radicalisation of poetical scene in FBIH shows the need for Constitutional reforms aimed at abolishment of RS and not at creating more functional state". According to the RS National Assembly Speaker Igor Radojicic the outvoting would create additional problems adding that RS is interested in implementing the police reform but there are certain limits under which RS cannot go. Reporter stated that, as a problem was stressed the fact that Directorate was still discussing the 'Martens' plan' on police structure models. "We have concluded today that if Martens' plan had been good for RS it would have been adopted last year. This model is not going to get the RS support because it stipulates the abolishment of RS Interior Ministry," commented Radojicic. Reporter stated that everything that is going to be agreed has to have the three European principles but the problem lies in the different interpretations. SIPA Director Sredoje Novic said that "these principles are completely differently interpreted in RS and in FBIH and this would cause problems". Reporter concluded that the entire process should be finished by February 28 in 2007; otherwise signing the Stabilisation and Association Agreement will be far from BIH adding that so far the PDR was not in position to accomplish any element of the plan for implementing the police reform. RHB – Cavic said that if solution, reached by the PRD was not going to come out as the result of consensus, it was going to fail. PINK – PDP leader Mladen Ivanic noted that it is better for Directorate not to discuss the issue of police reform until the politicians have reached the agreement: "Everything else is political manipulation. If something hasn't given the results so far it is unlikely to give results in future". On May 3, members of Police Reform Directorate are going to vote on the proposed reform. September 30 is set deadline for reaching the proposal on the police reform in BIH. BHT 1 – Deputy BiH Minister of Security Dragan Mektic stated that the members of the Police Reform Directorate are not able to reach an agreement over some key issues, which could only further complicate the whole process. <h2>Constitutional changes</h2>
Former PDHR Hays accuses SBiH and HDZ 1990 for failure of constitutional reform	FTV – Former Principal Deputy High Representative in BiH Donald Hays on Thursday evening accused SBiH and the newly founded party HDZ 1990 of being responsible for the failure of the constitutional reform, and for not looking after the interests of BiH. In an interview for the Voice of America, Hays stated that those two parties voted against the proposed constitutional amendments in order to gain some political points on the eve of the elections in BiH. BHT 1 – Hays said that the International Community must consider very carefully whether it will participate in the future processes. EU to raise sanctions against BiH; BiH CoM Chair Terzic: I expect significant problems in SAA talks	Nezavisne Novine cover splash, pg 3 'EU raises sanctions against BiH' by M.Cubro – NN learns from unnamed source close to European Commission and local authorities that EU will raise sanctions against BiH for the amendments to the BiH Constitution were not adopted. Article alleges that 'Albanian model' will be practiced on BiH, which means that all EU institutions will keep on regular meeting with BiH authorities, but there will be no significant step forward towards EU. Noting that Albania and EU finished talks on Stabilisation and Association Agreement [SAA] two years ago, but the agreement has never been ratified yet, author claims that similar scenario will be prepared for BiH as well. With regard to failure of constitutional changes, BiH Council of Ministers Chair Adnan Terzic stated: "I expect significant problems in SAA talks. We will do our best to end the talks within deadline, but when the agreement will be signed and ratified, that is uncertain."

Failure of constitutional changes to provoke sanctions, delays in SAA talks?

BHT1 Mirela Cosic – According to BHT reporter, it is questionable whether the International Community will participate in the continuation of the constitutional reform process in BiH. Certain high-ranked international officials warned that rejected constitutional amendments could provoke negative response from Brussels and Washington. US Ambassador to BiH Douglas McElhaney on Thursday announced the possibility of sanctions, but refused to be more specific. However, domestic politicians seem to be more optimistic. “There won’t be any sanctions from the International Community”, clearly said HDZ leader Dragan Covic. European officials warned that, although constitutional changes were not a condition for signing the Stabilisation and Association Agreement, BiH has lost a chance for faster progress. BiH Minister of Foreign Affairs Mladen Ivanic stated: “Formally, I don’t think that the failure to adopt the constitutional amendments will have any effect [to SAA talks]... Practically, it is still early to tell whether it would cause some kind of delay in negotiations. As a ministry, we will try to prevent this, and I hope that the Agreement will be signed by the end of the year”, stated.

He stated that the offered amendments only strengthen entity voting and it is completely logical, as he says, for those in FBiH to make noise, because they are not naïve so they would not understand what is the issue. It was talked all the time about second phase, and then he comes out and says that the story of second phase is being artificially made.*" Commenting statement of former PDHR Donald Hays who blamed SBiH and HDZ 1990 for begin against the amendments only to gain short-term political points, Silajdzic said that he would give up on any function if the entity voting is abolished. Commenting possibility of BiH facing sanctions, announced by US Ambassador Douglas McElhaney, Silajdzic stressed: "BiH is under sanctions since 1992. when the embargo deprived right to defend ourselves. Structure of BiH is based on crime and unjust. We are now demanded to forget it now, even not to mention it." Silajdzic also noted that it is not true that his party did not offer any new proposal, underlining that the only amendment they submitted was abolishment of entity voting.

Oslobodjenje op-ed: If IC put that effort in arresting Karadzic and Mladic, const. changes would be over long time ago	Oslobodjenje pg 9 'BiH is already punished' op-ed by Daniel Omeragic – Commenting statements of International Community [IC] regarding failure of constitutional changes and possible sanctions toward BiH announced by US Ambassador Douglas McElhaney, editorial reads that it is hard to remember when the IC was so united regarding on issue as it was on this one. Criticizing efforts of IC, author stresses: "If that amount of energy has been put into real help to BiH (arresting Karadzic and Mladic, insisting on equality of all three peoples in whole the BiH territory, opening EU doors and liberalization of visa regime...) constitutional changes would be over long time ago. In this phase, IC was more concerned with protection RS than with interests of BiH. Instead admitting that he was making wrong moves, McElhaney is threatening with sanctions. One of punishments could be closing road to NATO and EU. Such harshness was not being practiced not even on SCG, that is not fulfilling ICTY obligations not even ten years after the war."
