Economic and social issues

Protests in Sarajevo over FBiH Bankruptcy Law	BHTV 1 – On Thursday, workers staged a central protest rally in front of the FBiH government building in Sarajevo, calling on the government to step down. The rally, organized by the BiH Syndicate was attended by several thousand workers supporting demand in the Bankruptcy Law and social welfare programme for workers who will be redundant following the implementation of the law. FBiH Prime Minister Ahmet Hadzipasic did not address them. Chairman of the BiH Syndicate Edhem Biber said that the most brutal form of the wild capitalism was ruling in BiH and that the Unions were fighting for the right to have eight-hour working days, the right to receive earned wages, the right to contributions and minimum health protection. The Syndicate said that the Government doesn't not have enough money to take care of all workers who will lose the job after the enforcement of the Bankruptcy Law. However, PM Hadzipasic claimed earlier that this was not the true. The Syndicate say that they were betrayed, and that the Law is in collision with the International standards. Edhem Biber said that the Government should meet the demands of the workers or resign and that the authorities should not be simply the vassals of the International Community, as they were not elected by the IC. Oslobodjenje cover, pgs 4&amp;5 ‘‘We don't want golden spoons, but pieces of bread’’ – The BiH Union decided to hold a Main Board session in the coming days during which an earlier decision on starting a general strike on June 17 will probably be confirmed. FTV – According to FTV, Syndicate says that about 50.000 people will loose their jobs following the implementation of the Law, while Government claims that up to 5000 would be redundant. RHB, Dnevni Avaz pg 3 ‘Workers demand job and justice’, Dnevni list, front page &amp; p 4-5, “Over 10 000 workers claim their rights”, Vecernji list, front page splash “Union members against Government” &amp; p 2, “Union members against Government and Bankruptcy Law”, Slobodna Dalmacija, front page “General strike in June?” &amp; p “General strike begins in June?” – also covered the protests.

Grahovac says Biber enjoys no support	Dnevni Avaz cover 'Biber must resign', pg 3 'Biber must resign as he enjoys no support' – FBIH Deputy Prime Minister Gavriilo Grahovac calls upon Chairman of the BiH Syndicate Edhem Biber to file his resignation. "This protest was the biggest support for the Government's work, as the works – unlike MR Biber – recognized the aims and efforts of the executive authorities, including the Bankruptcy and Liquidation Law, and the social program. That is why there were no hundreds of thousands of workers that showed up, as Biber announced, but only about 2.500 people," says Grahovac accusing Biber of losing support of workers and politically motivated.
Hadzipasic on Syndicate's demand	Dnevni List page 2 carries in its 'Statement of Day' Federation of BiH Prime Minister Ahmet Hadzipasic as saying: 'Government will not submit resignation because of unrealistic demands of the Trade Union.'
OHR support Hadzipasic, stresses Bankruptcy Law assists economy	RHB, BHTV 1, Dnevni Avaz pg 3 'Bankruptcy Law enables companies to stay in business', Oslobodjenje pg 4 'Bankruptcy a way of creating new jobs' – OHR spokesperson Oleg Milisic stated on Thursday that the OHR agrees with Prime Minister Ahmet Hadzipasic that the Entity Bankruptcy laws offer the best means of protecting jobs in BiH and creating new jobs, and calls on the trades union to work with the Entity governments to use the Law as an effective way of protecting jobs and creating new jobs, by encouraging restructuring and investment. He explained that the Laws allow companies to restructure and stay in business rather than go into liquidation. Restructuring can involve job losses, but in the long run it is more likely to lead to job creation, Milisic said.

NN op-ed on Hadzipasic, Vrankic in a light of protests	Nezavisne Novine pg 7 'Rebellious workers' op-ed by Nihada Jablic – The author is critical of Prime Minister and Finance Minister of the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina respectively, Ahmet Hadzipasic and Dragan Vrankic, because of their sceptical approach towards the workers' protests. On Vrankic, she criticises his statement describing the workers as rebels. On Hadzipasic, she says that Hadzipasic feels nothing about workers and their problems, which is proved by his statement that workers could sleep for days in front of his office, but he would not even bat an eye.
RS Syndicate to protest on 1 May	BHTV 1, RTRS – The Syndicate of Republika Srpska announced the protest to be held on Saturday, 1 May, the Labour Day. Thousands of workers are expected to come. The Syndicate seeks to warn about the difficult economic situation in RS and call for the implementation of the development strategy by the authorities at the entity and state level. President of RS, Dragan Cavic said during the talks with Syndicate that the crisis is supposed to be solved during this and in the course of the next year. He named the issue of privatisation being a top priority. RS Syndicate Association demands allocating greater funds for the social programme aimed at accommodating about – as they claim – 10.000 workers who will lose their jobs in the process of privatization, bankruptcy and liquidation, and signing of the new general collective contract. The Association's requests, which were presented on Thursday at a reception organization on the occasion of the Labour Day – May 1, state that 9 million KM, which has been allocated for the social programme, is inadequate. RS Prime Minister Dragan Mikerevic and RS President Dragan Cavic, who also attended the reception at the RS Syndicate Association, indicated the need for having social dialogue.

"According to the sources close to the Government of the Croatian Prime Minister and Croatian HDZ President Ivo Sanader, Ashdown requested Sanader to stimulate businesspeople from Croatia to buy Hercegovacka Bank, which had been closed down by the foreign administration in 2001 over illegal operations," the article read, adding that after the Ashdown-Sanader meeting the consortium of eight Croatian companies sent an offering for purchasing the Bank.

It is the sign that it is very evident that the final report of the Commission for Srebrenica will be a new political challenge for RS, where we shall finally after the years of delay face with ourselves and the bad sides of our past." He said that this year would be difficult, also because the international community is looking for a way out of BiH. This exit strategy requires making this society politically sustainable and "that we make important decisions alone, instead of representatives of the international community doing it for us". Cavic stressed that all conditions from the Feasibility Study need to be fulfilled in order to ensure BiH accession to European structures and the Partnership for Peace. Oslobodjenje pg 7 ''Facing bad sides of our past', Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'RS will face the events with characteristics of war crimes' – also covered the statement.

Addressing the members of European Parliament's Commission for European Affairs in Berlin, Patten said that BiH will get the green light "for the beginning of the negotiations on Stabilisation and Accession Agreement" in the second part of the year, but under condition that "its authorities work hard to fulfil these conditions." Patten added: "I know that this is almost impossible. BiH will progress in certain stages, but due to the lack of success of the political leadership it will take much more time to fulfil these conditions." However, stressing that BiH faced the hardest consequences following the break up of former Yugoslavia, Patten underlined: "We cannot allow BiH to fail, as that would open up wrong political lines and entire region would be destabilised."

"EU is certain that BiH will fulfil conditions from Feasibility Study in near future, which will enable beginning of the negotiations of Stabilisation and Accession Agreement. The HDZ's proposal does not unify those schools but suggests delaying any real action, and it does not say how these schools will be unified. Dani pg. 3 'Sarajevo storm' op-ed by Vildana Selimbegovic – Selimbegovic claims that Selmo Cikotic and three other Bosniak officers were by COMSFOR Virgil Packett not accepted as candidates for the top BiH military posts over heavy accusation of involvement in war crimes. "While carrying out the Sarajevo Storm operation in a persistent and military way, the US General was not even thinking about a need to explain" further his argumentation, according to Selimbegovic.

Dani pg. 16 'Bosnian Barometer' – The magazine gave three black dots (a disastrous move) to COMSFOR Packett over transforming the process of checking on the candidates for the top military posts into a political performance.

Ljiljan front page, pgs. 28-29 'Only Packett can (knows how to) save Serbs' By Mustafa Borovic – "The logical question is what now (after SFOR rejected Bosniak and Croat candidates for the top military posts)? The Croat component of the Federation Army is in a more difficult situation since it has lesser number of appropriate candidates, particularly because they have been during the past years without proper selection and arguments (education background) promoting their officers. This resulted in half illiterate people such as Rojs, Sopta etc. becoming the generals and the similar situation is with brigadiers. On the other side, the Bosniak component of the FBiH Army has a sufficient number of brigadiers, but who will among them now accept that COMSFOR and various power centers around him play with his destiny and name putting at risk his professional career and future existence of his family," wrote Borovic.

Slobodna Bosna pgs. 5-7 'The most important thing for Tihic and Covisc was to get rid off generals Dudakovic and Zeko' By SB investigating team – The authors wonder if the ten Bosniak and Croat brigadiers, who will with public humiliation soon lose their jobs for good, were just a collateral damage in an attempt by Sulejman Tihic and Dragan Covic to permanently get rid off the generals Atif Dudakovic and Ivica Zeko (who have been resisting from inappropriate political influence).
