HR Schwarz-Schilling in Belgrade : there is no connection btw statuses of Kosovo/Montenegro and RS	BHT1 by Vesna Simic, Belgrade – During his official visit to Belgrade, the High Representative Christian Schwarz-Schilling met the Serbian President Boris Tadic and Serbian Prime Minister Vojislav Kostunica, as well as leader of Serb Orthodox Church Patriarch Pavle. At these occasions, Schwarz-Schilling commented recent statements bringing into relationship the Montenegrin referendum and the status of the RS stating former should be treated entirely differently as it held a status of the republic in the former Yugoslavia, which is not the case with RS that has been established by Dayton Peace Agreement. “There is no [such thing as] historical RS, it is a creation of Dayton Peace Agreement, and that is the base. And in Dayton Agreement, there is no room for separation or destruction of the state of BiH,” commented Schwarz-Schilling. HR stressed the Serbian officials agreed there is no room for organizing referendum in the RS and that legalities must be respected in order to ensure peace in the region, adding that there are not many politicians in BiH advocating for the RS independence. Following the meeting with Schwarz-Schilling, Tadic’s Cabinet stated it is important to respect the consensus reached in BiH since it represents the will of three equal peoples. Kostunica’s Cabinet pointed out the importance to insist on the Dayton Agreement that is based on the Entities. RTRS– During his visit to Belgrade, Schwarz-Schilling stated that there is no connection between the status of Kosovo or Montenegro and status of RS. “BiH is a sovereign country with determined borders recognised by the international treaties, and the RS is integral part of BiH”, said Schwarz-Schilling. Dnevni Avaz pg 3 ‘International Community cannot turn its head from ICTY fugitives’ by L.Sinanovic – In a statement to DA, Schwarz-Schilling stressed that cooperation between Serbia, Montenegro and BiH has to be stronger when it comes to arrests of the remaining ICTY fugitives. “We talked also about establishment of single regional trade, something that looks like CEFTA [Central European Free Trade Area]. I have agreed with all collocutors that both countries have to take faster steps in order to reach higher level of cooperation between BiH and SCG” said Schwarz-Schilling. Serbian PM Kostunica: DPA is a guarantee of BiH stability; HR: BiH borders are internationally recognized, no issue about that	Oslobodjenje cover splash 'There will be no referendum in BiH', pg 3 'There will be no referendum' by B.Boskov – After meeting with High Representative Christian Schwarz-Schilling, Serbian Prime Minister Vojislav Kostunica concluded that "Dayton Peace Agreement is a guarantee of BiH stability" and he repeated Blegrade's official stance of advocating for BiH's "preservation and honouring". After meetings with Serbian President Boris Tadic and SCG Foreign Minister Vuk Draskovic, Schwarz-Schilling gave a statement to B92 in which he rejected any possibility of referendum to be used during the talks on the constitutional changes in BiH. "BiH was created on grounds of the DPA and the RS as well is established on that bases and is directly connected with Federation in BH, so the issue cannot be solved without internal agreement of concerned parties and that has no relation with SCG" told Schwarz-Schilling to B92. Since one of the subjects during the meeting was ICTY cooperation, HR said that few years ago it was realistic that Radovan Karadzic and Ratko Mladic were on BiH territory, but he added that there is no proof that two of them are on BiH territory today. "In any case, there is no proof that they could be located in any place there" said HR. OHR's spokesperson Ljiljana Radetic stressed, "it is important to avoid possible confusion that this issue might create. According to the Constitution, RS has no jurisdiction for organising referendum". Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'International community will not allow endangering BiH' by S.N. – OHR also stated that BiH is not in question, not now neither in the future: "However, its ability to function and ensure a decent standard of living for its citizens is in question. There are only two routes available. The first option is to deliver on reform... [to] move this country toward the EU and NATO... The second route is not to reform in which case there will be stagnation. There is no third route. Fruitless discussions on referenda contribute to uncertainty and instability in the country at a time when BiH needs certainty – the certainty that reforms are being delivered." FTV, RTRS, Nezavisne Novine pg 2, announced on cover 'RS cannot separate from BiH' inset 'OGR: Schwarz Schilling will not restrain'- also carried.

By this, Srpska had got constitutional competences to independently realise its constitutional, legal, executive and judicial functions.” Inset ‘Logics’ – Washington University professor Stephen Meier thinks demands for separation can be launched both in RS and somewhere else in the Balkans now after the referendum in Montenegro. RHB – Remzija Kadric, on behalf of the RS Council of Peoples, and Ramiz Salkic from the Bosniak Caucus in the RS National Assembly, strongly criticised recent statements on announcing a referendum for the secession of RS. They deem that only BiH Parliament can schedule a referendum, on which BiH citizens would have the option to vote for secession, or abolition of RS. “We are convinced that the majority of BiH citizens would vote for the abolition of RS,” Kadric and Salkic stated in an announcement published on Monday. N., EuroBlic RSpg 2 'Tihic and Behmen are protecting Dodik' – Party for BiH has accused SDA's Sulejman Tihic and SDP's Alija Behmen of having amnestied RS PM Milorad Dodik of the responsibility for his stances with regard to the referendum for independence of RS, as well as for withdrawal from the police reform process. This is exactly why I said NO to entity, but let's organize referendum at the state level and let citizens have their say. I reacted for no one else did. I still believe in referendum as democratic tool for decision making, but at the state and not entity level."

Oslobodjenje op-ed: It is a time for democratic duel of BiH and RS	Oslobodjenje pg 9 'Referendum is needed, indeed' op-ed by Zija Dizdarevic – Commenting recent statement by RS PM Milorad Dodik who said all peoples in BiH are entitled to decide on its destiny through referendum, editorial reads that this is a case of the "political vampirism under cover of the cloak of democracy, nothing more but politics that promise new bloodshed... Dodik's demand is not only anti-constitutional act, but it also denying the Dayton Peace Agreement. It is warmongering." Author notes that a desire for secession, widely present in the RS, could be politically and legally denied, but such legal action would not mean disappearance of the desire itself. Stressing that Dodik's logics invokes a contra-referendum at the state level on a question "Are you for abolishment of the entities?" editorial concludes: "There is a need to check stance of BiH citizens towards their state. If 55% does not want it, let it not exist. BiH needs democratically based majority of citizens behind it, that would allow establishing of interior political stability and independence, in order to start organizing itself finally with those who want it. It is a time for democratic duel of BiH and RS."

Vegar comments on the initiative to organize the referendum on the RS status. According to the author, High Representative Christian Schwarz-Schilling took this situation very seriously and therefore he went to Belgrade to explain to Serbian leaders that the referendum in Montenegro and independence of Kosovo cannot be a model for the announced referendum in the RS. The author says that 'this is a Sisyphean task. The coordination between Belgrade and Banja Luka exists, the goal has been set clearly and everything else is just a mater of political nuances'. The author concludes that the demand for the referendum in the RS reveals the real image of BiH, which has returned from its Dayton to a pre-war phase.

Int press: Montenegro vote spurs Bosnia Serb referendum calls	Washington Post and New York Times by Olga Lola Ninkovic – The WP and NYT carry the report by Reuters which comments on the statements by the RS Prime Minister Milorad Dodik on allowing this entity to organize the referendum and the petition supporting this stance and separation allegedly signed by 50.000 people. Noting that the HR Christian Schwarz-Schilling stressed on Monday that “BiH is not in question now or in the future”, Ninkovic further stressed that the Serb National Movement gained popularity after Montenegro voted for independence and after Dodik poured fuel on the fire. Noticing that Montenegro was one of Yugoslav federal republics and that Kosovo [though still a province of Serbia] is under UN control, author stressed that Dodik’s proposition for BiH to be organized, as federal unit is a recipe the European Union fears would lead to endless Balkanization. Der Standard – Vienna based daily also carried the agencies report on Dodik’s statements, SPONA initiative and the HR’s stance.

FTV on Mostar City Council session: budget was agreed by HDZ, SDA not Council; important issues against postponed	FTV by Anita Damjanovic – FTV comments that despite the fact that budget was adopted, the Council [more precisely, SDA and HDZ councilors] again postponed discussion another set of important issues, such as financing of the HTV and the Boards in Mostar institutions. On the latter, Chair of Mostar City Council Murat Coric stated that an issue of ethnic representation in management board should be agreed by 1 August, otherwise the institutions would lose all the funding. Ljubo Beslic stressed that HTV was the only TV station in BiH in Croatian language and that its financing must be solved ASAP. FTV concludes that even the agreement on the budget was made upon pressure from the HR Christian Schwarz-Schilling, and was reached not among the councilors but between two coalition partners, HDZ and SDA. According to the Adisa Vucina from Radom za Boljitak, the entire situation was “HDZ’s and SDA’s exercise in futility”.
VL interview with HDZ 1990 President Ljubic: Mostar is the most multi-ethnic city in BiH, coalition with HDZ not possible	Vecernji List cover pg splash and pgs 6 and 7 ‘Ljubic: We are rescuing idea of HDZ’ by R. Soldo carries an interview with HDZ 1990 President Bozo Ljubic. Talking about the possible coalition with HDZ BiH, Ljubic says that this coalition is not possible because of the HDZ BiH leadership and a signature on the constitutional changes agreement. Ljubic added that if these two obstacles were removed HDZ BiH would be the best partner HDZ 1990 could wish for. Asked about a possibility that a non-Croat party puts forward a candidacy of a Croat at the elections, Ljubic says that in terms of politics this is not a good message to Croats. VL inset ‘‘Mostar is more multi-ethnic city than Sarajevo’ carries that asked which city is more normal Sarajevo or Mostar, Ljubic says that Mostar is the most multi-ethnic city in BiH and he added: ‘Mostar is not a normal city since a Statute, that I could qualify as a straitjacket, has been imposed to this city...If Mostar wants to become a normal city it has to function as any other city in BiH, that is, according to all principles of local self-government.’

BiH CEC : HDZ 1990 must change its name in two days if it is to take part in upcoming elections	Oslobodjenje pg 6 'HDZ 1990 must change its name' by A.Terzic – HDZ 1990 has been verified for the participation at the upcoming elections in October. The Chair of the BiH Central Electoral Commission [CEC] Branko Petric stated for daily that the Commission brought such decision to keep voters safe from confusion of having two parties of the same name. "HDZ 1990 has two-day deadline to change its name if it wants to take part in October elections. It is up to them to set new name that would not confuse people," said Petric. He did not want to specify whether the Commission would reject any name with HDZ in it. Following the session of the CEC, it was decided that the following parties must also change their name: LDS, New Serb Force of Srpska, Serb Radical Party 'dr. Vojislav Seselj' as they have registered for the elections under name different from their court registration. HDZ' Covic: HDZ 1990 would have to register for elections under different name, since they falsified documents

RHB by Milan Vego – The Presidency and the Main Board of HDZ held a session on Monday in Mostar. On that occasion, Radio Herceg Bosna brings short interview with HDZ leader Dragan Covic. "We have discussed the coming elections in BiH; we wanted to analyse once again our pre-election strategy", stated Covic, adding one of the topics was the possibility of creating a coalition with other parties. "Eleven parties have their own candidate for the post of Croat member of BiH Presidency, and only five of those eleven parties are Croat parties. It is a clear warning that Bosniak parties want to take full control of the area that was usually considered to solely belong to Croat parties", stressed HDZ leader, and continued: "Therefore, we would have to find different modalities in order to avoid the possibility that – for example – SDA or some other Bosniak party appoint the Croat member of BiH Presidency". However, Covic emphasized that HDZ once again expects convincing victory within the Croat election body, "which means over 100,000 votes". Regarding the newly formed HDZ 1990 party, Covic stated that – although it's up to the BiH Central Election Commission to decide – this party would certainly have to register for the coming election under some different name. "First of all, because they falsified all the documents they have submitted – they only copied the documents of the HDZ and added four numbers, and that is why we have filed a lawsuit against them... But what is important for us is that BiH CEC prevent the possibility of voters getting confused", concluded Covic. Vecernji List pg 2 'Covic: We shall prevent Bosniak election engineering' by zk – VL says that Covic gave this statement after the session of the HDZ Main Board, which confirmed that this party would run independently at the elections at the state level. Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'Covic: To prevent Bosniak parties to take over Croat positions in government' by F.V., Nezavisne Novine pg 4 'HDZ to appear at elections independently' by SRNA – also announced.
