At a press conference in Banja Luka, Spiric asked who needed the BiH CoM not to function for two months, and responded that there is clearly a split between SDS and PDP because the issue is who will be the master of processes in the RS and on behalf of Serbs in the CoM – Dragan Cavic or Mladen Ivanic. RTRS, Dnevni Avaz pg 2 ‘SDS and PDP failure to attend [the session] could lead to more serious crisis” by Onasa– Spiric also claims that Adnan Terzic and the IC have been asking Mladen Ivanic to remain in CoM, “so there is no clear symbiosis between SDS and SDA, which would unmask everything”. He adds that if PDP and SDS do not attend the session, than there could be more serious crisis and election of the new Cabinet. Spiric says that “experts in the CoM” with or without the consent of Serb representatives are preparing the introduction of new ministries – “ministries of agriculture and energy, health, social police and employment at the BiH level”, noting that Serbs will not get a single of these ministries. police will be unified

EuroBlic cover, RSpg 1 'Srpska to lose interior ministry' by Marija Jandric – On the eve of press conference of Paddy Ashdown on police reform, the author notes that nobody knows for certain how the police structure would look like. Judging by some announcements, it is evident that police would be unified – the only question that remains is in how many regions police force would be divided. Comments on HR role in police reform	Glas Srpske pg 5 'Roaming through somebody else's apartment' by V. Janjic – The article brings a comment of some officials regarding the role of Paddy Ashdown in police reform of BiH. Velimir Sakan, President of RS NA Board for surveillance over the work of defence and internal affairs, is of the view that "at the moment he reached decision on establishment of Police Reform Commission, Paddy Ashdown said he would not impose solutions. It remains to be seen whether he would keep the promise...It is also clear that the stances of RS have not been respected. However, it raises greater concern that we have not – as yet – received final version of the concept [PRC Chair] Wilfren Martens has handed to Paddy Ashdown and Adnan Terzic." Gostimir Popovic, military and political analysts, believes that Ashdown is again involved in matters not falling under his jurisdiction in an attempt to debilitate RS. The article concludes that Ashdown should perhaps listen the advise of Lord David Owen, who said that "DA was written in order to remain. Corrections may result from agreement amongst confronted sides."

Circle 99
discusses constitutional changes in BiH

Dnevni List, pg 5 'Re-arrange BiH into federal republic with five regions', by Erna Mackic –
The Association of independent intellectual 'Krug 99' (Circle 99) continued with its earlier started public debate on the subject entitled 'Constitutional change – what and how next?' at Sarajevo yesterday (Sunday). The keynote speaker Jakob Finci noted that everyone in BiH agreed that the situation in BiH was not good and that the situation had to be changed. "Personally, I advocate the thesis that BiH be re-arranged into a republic with five regions, because regionalism is at full swing in Europe too, and it must be a solution that Europe is expecting from us".
FTV, Oslobođenje pg 2 'No citizens without changes' not signed – also reported.

VL int w/Dodik: 'Croats
should get their own federal unit'

Vecernji List, front pg splash 'Third federal unit to Croats', pg 5 'Croats should get their own federal unit', by Miso Relota – Carries an interview with the leader of SNSD, Milorad Dodik, in which he notes that the issue of constitutional changes in BiH is a must for everyone in the country "since it is clear that it (BiH) cannot go to Europe with the Constitution that was imposed in Dayton". Dodik explains: "BiH has to determine its political system. It could be a federal system and it could be successful if three federal units were formed (...) The Croat political corps in BiH today lives in fear and is afraid to do anything because they could end up like Jelavic (...) You cannot keep dissatisfied people, because conflicts arise from dissatisfaction". Asked whether Croats in BiH are entitled to Federal unit, Dodik says: "I have already said that this is a sort of story that many would accept here. I believe that countries of former Yugoslavia should make up confederation, that is a regional confederation which would be called Federation of sovereign states... I am familiar with the dissatisfaction of Croats in BiH with their positions in cantons and FBiH... It is obvious that there are several directions in Croat political body, including Croat Self-Rule which is now subject to judicial process. RS is constitutional category, while Croat Self-Rule was something else that should have been promoted. In any case, for me that is a legitimate demand which should had been considered. It is good to open discussions, because the silence in BiH is the most dangerous. If the price of an agreement is three federal unit, that I don't see why this would not happen. Croat body in BiH today lives in fear to do anything afraid they would end up alike Ante Jelavic."

DA int w/ Lozancic: 'I would like to be last FBiH President'	Dnevni Avaz pg 4, mentioned on cover 'I would like to be the last President of the Federation' – In an interview with the daily, Federation President Niko Lozancic said that there was no crisis of government in FBiH and BiH but that it was about crisis of the system and solutions allowing everyone to block the work of the state institutions at any moment. "The existence of the five levels of authority is unacceptable," emphasizes Lozancic saying that he hopes he will be the last President of the FBiH (referring to possible abolishment of entities in BiH).

system

BHT 1 by Tomislav Djuric – The BiH Council of Ministers should discuss the new proposal Law on public RTV system at the session scheduled for 1 February. Previous draft law was rejected by the BiH Parliament, and the new one includes some of the suggestions submitted by the parliamentary representatives. The Law should regulate the future structure of the public broadcasting service. BIH Minister for Transport and Communications, Branko Dokic, stated that all details have already been agreed on, and he hopes that CoM will adopt the proposal and forward it to the parliamentary procedure. However, the HDZ insists for the protection of the vital national interests. Deputy Speaker of the BiH House of Peoples, Velimir Jukic says: “We believe that the best solution is to ensure broadcasting of programs in Croatian language within BHT system.” SDA representative at BIH House of Representatives Mirsad Ceman stated that SDA can't accept the concept of ethnic TV channels within public RTV system. According to new proposal law, public RTV system would have two entity channels and one at the state level. Reform of public RTV system is one of the preconditions the country needs to meet, in accordance with the Feasibility Study. Minister Dokic believes that BIH Parliament will discuss the law in urgent procedure.

However, prior to the start of work of the commission, we must adopt clear criteria that will be harmonized with the Union (...) In the same time, we will talk in the City Council about the way how to take care of people that will lose jobs. We still do not know whether it will be through severance pays. VL: 'OHR: BiH must abolish unnecessary levels of authority'	Vecernji List, pg 2 'OHR: BiH must abolish unnecessary levels of authority', mentioned on front 'Thousands to become jobless' by Dejan Jazvic – Carries excerpts from the OHR's econ newsletter in which the OHR noted the need for cutting expenses of bodies of authority, which should coincide with establishment of new institutions at State level that are pre-requisite for joining the EU. VL quotes the newsletter as saying that BiH can only do it by abolishing unnecessary levels of authority and by improving the efficiency of authorities at all levels, and goes on to say that by decreasing the number of ministries at lower levels and subsequently the number of staff, funds can be secured for new institutions. OHR: legislative and administrative environment for privatization still dissatisfactory	Oslobodjenje, pg 7, mentioned on front ‘Half the state undermines its won foundations’, by H. A. – The Economic Department of the OHR is of opinion that the legislative and administrative environment for privatization (presumably in BiH) is still dissatisfactory. The OHR is especially worried with the fact that the FBiH Government has not still started a procedure regarding the appointment of the Director and Deputy Director of FBiH Privatization Agency, since the current Director Resad Zutic’s mandate will expire in spring 2005. The OHR is also not happy with the FBiH Government because of adoption of several controversial changes and amendments to laws in the area of privatization of companies. According to the OHR’s economic analysis, the detrimental amendments are opening a possibility that audits can be launched in already privatized companies, “which creates enormous legal insecurity”, thus averting potential investors.

He notes much more is still left to be done. He says he would ask Steering Board to order re-examination of employment procedure at ITA.

Coric, Maric on funding of City of Mostar

Nezavisne Novine, pg 5 'Mostar without money of two Elektroprivredas', by V. Coric – Carries the President of Mostar City Council, Murat Coric, as commenting to the issue of payment of monthly compensations to the City of Mostar by the two Elektroprivredas (BiH and Herceg-Bosna) since the Elektroprivredas are obliged to pay the compensations (670.000 KM) until May 1, 2005. Coric says: "Unfortunately, the decision is no longer in the jurisdiction of the City Council, but in the jurisdiction of the OHR. I believe it (OHR) will have the understanding this time too and extend the obligation for one more year". On the other hand, the Elektroprivredas expect the High Representative to rule in their favour. The CEO of Elektroprivreda of Herceg-Bosna, Vlado Maric, says the company will respect the OHR's decision: "If the decision gets extended, we will have to abide by it. The other issue is the right to appeal, which we would certainly use".
