Ashdown said that BiH politicians had chosen the road that leads to Europe and stressed that BiH would not achieve the goal through the OHR. Decisions have to be brought by the BiH Parliament and BiH Council of Ministers, said Ashdown. He said that BiH needed the CoM, which would direct its efforts towards European tasks, instead of keep quarrelling about entity and ethnical issues. "BiH remains in the relatively early phases of extremely difficult economic transition, the same one through which your neighbours are going through", said Ashdown. Beside constitutional reform, Ashdown pointed out necessity of BiH police reform, and added the biggest failure in the course of his mandate was the fact that Radovan Karadzic and Ratko Mladic had not been arrested. RHB, PINK, FTV, RTRS carried similar reports.

As for HR Paddy Ashdown, the author argues that despite all the criticism, Ashdown takes the credit for his role in strengthening of state institutions and initiating reforms processes.

RS crisis: RS President to start talks on PM designate; SDS claims it can provide majority in RSNA

RTRS By Nada Arlov – RTRS announced that consultative meetings with RS President Dragan Cavic regarding the appointment of RS Prime Minister designate will start on Tuesday. First meeting will be with representatives of DNS and Club Centre and in following two days with all political parties.

Dusan Stojcic, RSNA Speaker and SDS Vice Chair expressed hope that Cavic would give mandate to SDS. "If we did not know, and if we did not believe, that we can provide necessary majority for new Government, we would not ask the RS President to give us that mandate" said Stojcic. "SDS has legitimate right to ask for mandate but it is very clear that can not establish the Government. That would be just additional torture" said SNSD leaders

Milorad Dodik. Dragutin Skrebic, SP RS representative in RSNA, who along with his colleague Nedjo Djuric was asked to return RSNA Representative mandate to Socialist Party and also expelled from the party due to their votes for Pero Bukejlovic's Government and contrary to Socialist party's determination, admitted that there were discussions in Teslic regarding Prime Minister designate. "If RS President proposes Nedjo Djuric, our member, we will certainly support him. When it is about my mandate in RSNA, I am not even thinking about returning it" said Skrebic. Pensioners' party will support Government that will provide higher pensions and two positions for this party- Minister of Labours and Veterans and Director of Pension Disability Insurance Fund (PDIF). Serb Radical Party believes that Government should be elected from Serb majority in RSNA and that parties that are bothered with RS name, coat of arms and flag and are supportive about suspension of RS are not welcome in the Government.

RHB, Dnevni List pg 3 'Cavic negotiates on RS Prime Minister Designate today' not signed reported that Cavic would start meetings on Tuesday, while PINK, Oslobodjenje pgs 4-5 'SDS seeks mandate to form Government', mentioned on cover, by O.Vukovic only carried Stojcic's statement.

Reporter magazine editor says current Finance Minister Cenik likely to be nominated RS PM designate

RTRS current affairs program 'Pecat' By Milan Trbojevic – Commenting current situation in RS and fact that SDS seeks to appoint Prime Minister designate from its own lines, Chief Editor of 'Reporter' Igor Gajic stated that most likely SDS would nominate current Finance Minister Svetlana Cenik. However, as Reporter comments most probably SNSD leader Milorad Dodik would be appointed as PM designate, where it was emphasized that he has already presented some of main focuses of his future government. As Reporter comments, PDP and its leader Mladen Ivanic are once again in an ideal position and 'killed two birds' with one stone: first, since the RS budget for 2006 was not adopted, SDS was not able to fulfill a promise that the salaries and pensions would go up. And secondly, their biggest rival SNSD now faces the participation in the government in the most awkward moment: just before the elections. Ivanic confirms that they would support PM designate from SNSD, which would probably be Dodik, but stressed that their relation would depend on program that new government would present. SDA MPs in RSNA would support Dodik's appointment, but as RS Vice President Adil Osmanovic stressed this does not necessarily mean they will support Dodik's Government. Although Osmanovic added that SDA is not interested in entering the new government at any cost, reporter speculates that SDA is in fact interested in taking over the RS Ministry of Refugees and Displaced Persons, and that their candidate for this post could be Omer Brankovic.

Cavic should react and appoint PM designate – otherwise, crisis is to follow, assess politicians	Nezavisne Novine pg 4 ‘Negotiations on PM designate to commence’ by V. Popovic – DS delegate and member of the newly established ten-member caucus Dusko Vukotic said the caucus might suggest to RS President Cavic to nominate Nedjo Djuric (also a member of the caucus) or some other person. Djuric, on the other hand, says he was not informed on the possibility that he would be nominated PM designate. Milosava Jakovljevic (also a member of the caucus) said she would vote in accordance with her own conscience and no person would be able to influence her vote. SRS Chairman Milanko Mihajlica said Serb majority at the Assembly should form the new RS Government and noted the Radicals would not support any Government that has no SRS representatives in its composition. Inset ‘Cavic is creating crisis’ – PDP delegate at RS NA Vitomir Tomic thinks RS President Cavic might create crisis unless he urgently appointed PM designate that would get the Assembly support. ‘Cavic should not appoint PM designate for whom he knows would not get the Assembly majority in order to leave space for functioning of this Government, which was overthrown, until next elections’, Tomic stated. Glas Srpske pg 7 ‘Opposite goal’ by D. Mo. – carries SRS Mihajlica’s statement. Mihajlica also criticized statements of SNSD leaders who have been claiming for years they would not share authority with nationalistic parties, but they are now saying there is nothing disputable in sharing the authority with SDA. He also reminded SNSD of their harsh critics of PDP with regard to privatization of banks and asked SNSD whether they are willing to forget about this just to get on power. EuroBlic pg RS2 ‘SDS too is offering PM designate’ by Rajna Radosavljevic and Nedeljka Breberina inset ‘ SRS supports “Serb majority”’ – also carries statement of SRS’s Mihajlica.

SDS leader Dragan Cavic said that it should not influence authority at the state level. SDS Vice President Momcilo Novakovic keeps stance that if SDS loses authority on entity level, it should go to opposition at the state level too. Inset, 'Terzic: I'm aware that SDS seeks revenge' – BiH CoM Chair Adnan Terzic stated that he would not be surprised if SDS cast vote of no confidence to BiH CoM, adding that there are plenty of reasons why it should not be done now when BiH is heading Europe.
Oslobodjenje op-ed: SNSD leader Dodik aims only to preserve RS	Oslobodjenje pg 9 'Waiting for Dodik' by Mirko Sagolj – Editorial claims that if SNSD leader Milorad Dodik becomes RS Prime Minister designate, it would bring no significant changes of progress for BiH future. SBiH claim that separation of the RS was discussed during the talks on constitutional changes	Hayat By Elma Kazagic – Reporter comments that some extremely serious talks on division of BiH were led during the last constitutional reform talks in Sarajevo, says the reporter. As the NTV Hayat learns, SDA has not proposed any division within BiH itself, as some Croatian media published. “SDA’s official stance is that the BiH should be organized in multi-ethnic regions and that it is unacceptable for a part on of BiH to be reorganized...all parts of BiH have to be included in reorganization”, explains SDA representative Sefket Dzaferovic. On the other hand, some BiH media stated that certain participants at the constitutional reform talks were trying to strengthen the RS’ position. SBiH’s representatives claim that discussions on separation of the RS from BiH were ‘on the table’. “As we tried to discuss the issue of internal BiH’s organization, the idea on separation of the RS came up”, said SBiH’s Beriz Belkic. “Nothing is going to be separated from BiH, what we want is citizens’ democracy; we strongly oppose ethnical principle”, said Party for BiH representative Haris Silajdzic.
