Carla Del Ponte in Sarajevo / war crimes

Del Ponte on: new indictments, criticism
against NATO, RS lack of cooperation with ICTY

BHT 1 by Damir Simic – ICTY Chief Prosecutor, Carla Del Ponte confirmed on Friday that by the end of month her office will raise 5-6 new indictments on the war crimes committed in the former Yugoslavia. At the press conference held on Friday, Del Ponte explained that Prosecution has a deadline to raise all remaining indictments until the end of the year. Before addressing the Peace Implementation Council, Del Ponte once more emphasized the systematic weakness of the Republika Srpska. "I am not asking the High Representative what are the concrete measures that should be undertaken, I want to stay out of the politics, I am the Prosecutor and I want to implement the mandate that PIC has given me," said Del Ponte.

FTV by Dzenita Zidrum – Del Ponte has addressed PIC members and said that it is time that obstructions in RS are stopped. "I inform the PIC about the situation in RS and I will be grateful to High Representative on all measures that he is undertaking and which can be of help," said Del Ponte.

Dnevni Avaz cover splash 'Del Ponte: NATO's leadership is responsible!', pg 2 'NATO leadership is responsible because 18 indictees are still at large' by S. Numanovic – Del Ponte stated she considers NATO top leadership to be responsible for the not arresting the most wanted war crimes suspects. "Soldiers are not guilty. My criticism refers to the senior NATO structure because war crimes indictees, 18 of them, are still at large," said Del Ponte. Commenting to the statement by NATO SG, Jaap de Hoop Scheffer, Del Ponte said that the facts speak for themselves. As for Radovan Karadzic and Ratko Mladic, Del Ponte said: "ICTY will not shut down until Karadzic and Mladic appear before the court. There are only several weeks left until the end of the year and I hope that Karadzic and Mladic will be in the Hague by then." She also announced that ICTY already received eight requests for transferring cases to local courts, including six cases that should be transferred by late January to the new department of the BiH Court for prosecuting war crimes. On the lack of cooperation of the RS authorities, Del Ponte said that RS Interior Ministry must be 'cleaned up': "Last week I met with the RS Interior Ministry. He knew clearly that he cannot carry out what he intends to do unless RS MoI is cleaned up of those supporting war crimes."

Dz. – Sources close to RS military structures claim RS is not financing Ratko Mladic because all relations with him were terminated in 1996 when he was released from duty of Commander of RS Army Headquarters. According to the source, the strongest evidence in support of this claim is an order of then RS President Biljana Plavsic by which she released him from the duty and put him at disposal of RS Army. 'It is clear from the order of Biljana Plavsic that Mladic could have been receiving incomes only in the six months following his dismissal, as in accordance with laws', the source says.

Cubro, Glas Srpske, pg. 2 'A warning to Srpska' by Srna – The Political Directors of the Peace Implementation Council Steering Board at the session held on 2 and 3 December repeated their unequivocal position that continued unsatisfactory compliance by the BiH authorities, especially those in Republika Srpska, with the ICTY will bring progress on Euro-Atlantic integration to a halt. If a small group of individuals continues to hold the people of BiH back from their European future, further steps will be necessary. BHT 1 – Serious warnings have been sent to the RS Interior Minister Darko Matijasevic and RS President Dragan Cavic. Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Continuation of the sanctions against RS announced' by S. Numanovic – The Steering Board has also called for urgent implementation of the systemic changes in security and law enforcement structures, adding that the a positive outcome in police restructuring will require the establishment of a single policing structure in BiH and noted the European Commission view that this would require all legislative and budgetary competency vested at the State level and applied in functional areas based on technical policing criteria. DA comments that this means that RS could soon stay without its Interior and Defence Ministries if BiH fails to be admitted to the Partnership for Peace program on 9/10 December. PIC also paid attention to the economic issues, urging from all relevant authorities to ensure adoption of the single rated VAT Law. Oslobodjenje pgs 4-5 'Urgently establish the joint police', mentioned on cover, not signed, Dnevni List pg 7 'Authorities did not meet priority tasks' by N. Ashdown said that this was also a stance of the PIC. Asked by the journalists what kind of "further measures" he announces, HR answered: "I never speculate until a concrete situation comes along." He added that NATO's decision on BiH's admission to the PfP should also be awaited. The decision on the sanctions is also closely linked with the cooperation with the Hague tribunal. Asked, when talking about the small group, whether he was referring to people who have been obstructing the arrest of war crime suspects or the suspects themselves, Ashdown said that he was referring to both. FTV – "But you can be sure that in my decision I will include words of NATO, words of Carla Del Ponte and words of PIC and then I will bring my decision. Not before that," said HR. On the cooperation with the ICTY, Ashdown also said: "In order to ensure the cooperation with the ICTY, systematic changes will have to be made in the police and security structures and in implementation of laws." As the proof for systematic institutional weakness, HR has stressed that Ratko Mladic held position in the RS Army until 2002, and that recent arrest of Gojko Jankovic failed after he was warned about it by the police source. He also said he was familiar with the RSNA conclusion on police reform, however repeating that a minimal European Commission's condition is the establishment of the State authority over police work and regional organization on functional principle. RTRS – also covered.

Terzic stressed that progress has been achieved in the field of judiciary and internal affairs, processing war crimes and economic crime. "The Police Reform Commission has been established upon my request, and despite the differences I expected to have submitted the proposal of the solutions. What we demand is restructuring of the police forces in BiH in accordance with the European standards," said Terzic adding that the cooperation with the ICTY remains key issue. On VAT, CoM Chair said that the law was forwarded to the procedure in the BiH House of Representatives and that he expects HoR to adopt the single rated VAT Law.
DA op-ed notes RS MoI and MoD could be abolished by HR	Dnevni Avaz pg 3 'Fear of Brussels' by op-ed Edina Sarac – "Neurosis in the smaller BiH entity is more and more visible. Approaching the "Brussels D-day", that is NATO summit to be held on 9 December,... adds to the panic because of possible, so far the harshest, sanctions. Both Dragan Cavic and Darko Matijasevic,... are both aware the not only individuals will be replaced.. Everything indicates that RS Interior and Defence Ministries will be abolished, which could be instructed by Paddy Ashdown. Without those two institutions, RS would not be 'the state' in a way its ideologists tried to present it... Panic is RS is understandable, because without army and police politically controlled by Belgrade it is also impossible hide most wanted ICTY fugitives – Karadzic and Mladic," reads editorial in DA.

It was announced that the BiH Armed Forces will have unique uniforms, ranks and coat of arms. "Currently there are 71 persons working in the Defence Ministry and that is only 40% out of a total number of personnel that must be employed; the Commission will work until this Ministry is filled in and with budget necessary to work," said James Locher. FTV by Azra Pasukan-Buljina– "BiH must fulfil all conditions to achieve membership in PfP, not only in reform if but the cooperation with ICTY, is of key importance. The road is now becoming more difficult but NATO is determined to provide help to BiH on way toward European integrations," said John Colston. "There is much more to be done so that BiH alone would take over the responsibility in carrying out of these reforms. The cooperation with ICTY is very important in sense of arrest and extradition of war criminals," said James Locher. It was also noted that DRC will remain even after BiH is admitted to PfP. "Personally, I am glad that we will have the Commission even after admission to PfP, for which I am almost certain will happen before 2006," said Nikola Radovanovic. Dnevni List pg 4 'Defence Reform Commission under Operative NATO's Headquarters' by E. On difficult financial situation in WHC	Dnevni List front pg splash and pg 7 ‘Financial collapse threatens Canton’ by I. Rozic – West Herzegovina Canton teachers held a one-hour warning strike on Friday. Commenting on this strike WHC Prime Minister Viktor Lasic stated that the WHC Government would meet all demands of the Trade Union of Teachers, however, the Government is not able to do it. According to Lasic, the reason for such difficult financial situation is unfair distribution of financial funds and he added: ‘Each time when the Federation of BiH laws are being passed, expenses are being transferred on the lower, that is the Cantonal level, and incomes stay in the FBiH and this is huge burden not only for our Canton.’ The strike was also covered by the electronic media.
NN int with Joly Dixon	Nezavisne Novine, pg. 8 ‘The budget of the Agency will be larger than the total budget of three Customs Administrations’ by P. Dixon could not exclude the possibility of raise in prices of products in case zero VAT rate is not introduced, however, he emphasizes that the single rate of VAT is far better option.

NN op-ed on ITA budget	Nezavisne Novine, pg. 7 'Costs' by Predrag Klinčov – The author says there will be no reduction in costs as expected due to abolishment of separate customs services of RS, FBiH and Brcko District followed by establishing of ITA. He also said that the Chairman of ITA Steering Board, Joly Dixon, has admitted ITA budget would amount more than the sum of budgets of the three customs services. The author criticizes this fact and concludes as follows: 'The only thing left for public is to hope ITA employees will, through their work, deny all suspicions as well as that, by breaking many smuggling chains and by collecting much more of customs fees, they will justify their expenses next year already'.

Political and other issues

Montgomery on future of BiH

Dnevni Avaz pg 9 'BiH: Difficult past, uncertain future', mentioned on cover 'Why is BiH's future uncertain', by William Montgomery – Former US Ambassador to Croatia, William Montgomery, writes for DA on the issue of the BiH's future. He notes that despite the progress achieved, it is obvious that there are still problems to be tackled, such as corruption and economy still depending on the international community, and the issue of war crimes suspects at large. On the Dayton Peace Agreement, Montgomery notes that it is an obstacle due to complex structure of authorities, however concludes that "opening the process of its revision would potentially have big consequences. Any smaller change would add to request for new ones, which would lead to the continuing process resulting with instability and even renewal of the conflict." He also notes that IC would never admit that one of the biggest problems in BiH is the fact that almost half of its population doest want it to exist at all. He also believes that withdrawal of majority of US soldiers from BiH indicates that "these problems will not be solved soon, at least not in the near future." On the High Representative, Paddy Ashdown, Montgomery says he did have some success in overcoming obstacles in BiH. He concludes he fears EU will accept the BiH as which would not be strong enough.

NN int with Reinhardt Priebe	Nezavisne Novine supplement 'Revija' cover and pgs. 4-5 'If BiH Constitution is an obstacle for the admission to EU, then it should be changed' by Mirza Cubro – The Head of the EC Bureau for Western Balkans, Reinhardt Priebe, believes that, in several months time, he will be in a position to say BiH has achieved a significant progress in fulfilling pre-requisites for the start of negotiations on stabilization and accession to EC. He also added that a complicated organization of the country should not pose an obstacle for BiH authorities to fulfill pre-requisites. He has stated that BiH Constitution should be changed if it is an obstacle to the adoption of European standards.
DL int with Mladen Ivanic	Dnevni List pg 27 'There are 3 obstacles ahead of BiH when approaching NATO and EU is in question' by I. Glibusic carries an interview with BiH Foreign Minister Mladen Ivanic who says that there are 3 obstacles when BiH's approaching the EU and NATO is in question and according to Ivanic they are cooperation with the ICTY, the fact that a part of BiH institutions is not adequately prepared for the EU and speculations about connection of BiH institutions with terrorism. Asked about the police reform Ivanic said that his party supports reforms and better coordination at the state level, however, he does not support abolishment of the RS Ministry of Interior.

Oslobodjenje
vs. Avaz

Oslobodjenje pg 3 'We are determined to halt the politics of fear and blackmail', also on cover, by Oslobodjenje – Following the articles on the privatisation of Oslobodjenje daily that have appeared in Dnevni Avaz and Ljiljan which say that Sarajevo Tobacco Industry director Sefik Lojo and SDA Vice President Bakir Izetbegovic are to use state budget for this, daily carries harsh reaction on the full page. Among a series of strong critics and accusations against Avaz, daily says: "We should have issued this press release several days ago in order not to all 'media octopus' to spread its tentacles onto everything that makes a life worth of a citizen. Today we are doing so, because they have crossed a line of any civilized behaviour, and crossed all lines of 'media freedom'. Avaz lies, fabricates 'credible sources', doesn't sign texts, intimidates people and its families, ruins successful managers and companies and stops positive projects in BiH."

Raguz on Law on Pardons

Dnevni Avaz pg 5 'Entire Law on Pardons should not have been repealed' by Fena – The BiH House of Representatives Speaker, Martin Raguz, told journalists at the press conference that the Law on Pardons was recently passed in the regular procedure and that the key issue is its implementation. He added that it should have been checked whether it is compatible with other laws in other democratic countries. "I believe that was the best way to make corrections related to certain provisions instead of repealing entire law. But, now we are obliged to meet pre-conditions to have this law in the procedure again," said Raguz. Last week, the Law on Pardons was revoked by the High Representative Paddy Ashdown.

Spiric on Law on Pardons	Dnevni List pg 8 'Law on Pardon cast shadow on work of the House' by D. Polovina-Mandic carries Deputy Chairman of the BiH House of Representatives Nikola Spiric as saying that the Law on Pardon that put out of force might make more difficult the BiH's way towards European integration and he added: 'The BiH Presidency has got a chance to use this law completely and pardon their party colleagues who might be indicted and sentenced for various things and this is not good for BiH. I believe that Parliament will have strength to take out from this situation although they have already shown certain hesitation.' DL says that Spiric actually refereed on the HoR's refusal to deprive of mandate Munib Jusufovic who was sentenced to 9 months in prison because he abused official position and who was pardoned by the BiH Presidency.

VL says that these accusations, which come from a secret witness in this case, are ridiculous having in mind the fact that 'Lijanovici' are political opponents of Covic.
