Comments on ended round of negotiations on const. Changes	FTV– HDZ Main Board agreed on the stance on constitutional changes. Covic explained that they will not publicize this, because all politicians have agreed on this, in order not to endanger the following round of negotiations on constitutional changes. PINK– SDA Chair Sulejman Tihic stated that he has accepted the compromise, according to which BiH President and Vice- Presidents are to be elected by BiH House of Representatives, by the proposal of caucuses in BiH House of Peoples. Tihic explained that this option would remove the fear of possible majority supremacy. SDS Chair Dragan Cavic expressed optimism on negotiations, adding that negotiations are lasting long, but it is important to finish this without influence from aside. “These issues are the most important issues for which the solutions should be searched...There will be no solutions if political stubbornness and fastidiousness are present”- states Cavic. Cavic stated that solutions can be found, but he couldn't predict how, being that stances on election for BiH HoP, decision making for BiH HoR and BiH Presidency, differ a lot. RTRS– PDP Chair Mladen Ivanic stated that BIH Constitution should be a base of talks rather than idealistic concepts. Member of SNSD Krstan Simic stated that constitutional changes can be agreed upon if parties from FBiH show political will. Expelled members Martin Raguz and Josip Merdzo expected that HDZ Main Board will discuss their appeal to decision on their expel, but their access to Main Board session was physically disabled. Market Inspectors of Canton Sarajevo have inspected 25 shops on Wednesday and Head of Inspectorate Midhat Pasic stated that merchants are faced with problems, due to Indirect Taxation Administration's mistakes. Pasic explained that wholesalers are confused, because they do not know how to form the prices and ITA couldn't help them. "It is bit absurd that institution that carryout the VAT and which should have answer on any question, can give the answer"- sated Pasic. Spiric, Ceman, Beslagic, Djurkovic, Hadziahmetovic, Novakovic on proposal to exempt publishing sector from VAT	Dnevni List, pg 7 'Groceries should be exempt from VAT like publishing', by Danka Polovina-Mandic – Speaker of the BiH House of Representatives, Nikola Spiric, says he did not officially receive Chairman of BiH CoM, Adnan Terzic's, request for urgent session of the BiH HoR, which was allegedly sent last Friday and which would discuss Proposal of changes to law on VAT related to exemption of books, brochures, publications etc. from VAT. Spiric says he has heard that Terzic wants an urgent procedure, however he notes that Terzic's request can only be included as an item on the agenda of the regular session of the BiH HoR scheduled for January 16, not earlier. Moreover, Spiric says he has nothing against the proposal, however he notes it will be very difficult to exempt only the publishing, without exempting basic groceries too. Mirsad Ceman (SDA) and Selim Beslagic (SDP) agree with Terzic's proposal, whilst PDP's Jelina Djurkovic disagrees, saying it is more logical to exempt bread, milk and flour. Azra Hadziahmetovic (SBIH) and Momcilo Novakovic (SDS) will wait for their caucuses to declare themselves, however both wonder why exempt only the publishing sector.

She announced the final stance of SDS with regard to support to BiH budget will be known in seven days, after a meeting of SDS leadership is held.
