List of BiH citizens banned from EU still not announced	BHTV 1 By Gvozden Sarac – While US and BiH have decided to confiscate assets of all those who support war criminals, European Union can only recommend that to their member countries. But what EU can do is to ban those persons and other criminals from entering the EU countries – there are 25 such persons from BiH. Until the EU officially announces the names of those persons, international officials in BiH do not want to speculate as to who those persons might be. BiH has not asked the EU to be forwarded this list. Mladen Ivanic, BiH Foreign Minister, said: "I think we will receive the list through the regular procedure when and if it is adopted. Comments regarding the names and other are more up to other institutions and not the Foreign Ministry." Commenting on who is not welcome in Europe, Frane Maroevic, Spokesperson of the European Commission, said: " People who support war criminals or committed war crimes, all people involved in that can expect their names to be on such a list."

US blacklist	BH DANI pg. 1, 18, 19 and 20 by Esad Hecimovic – on the list of 150 people banned from entering the US due to participation in war crimes and organized crime in several countries of western Balkans. The magazine's angle on the story is basically that a large number of people from the list are BiH citizens, yet there has been no reaction from the local authorities. No one ordered any sort of an investigation related to the list, while the RS NA and the FBih HoR kept silent about it as if it was a grocery-shopping list. The magazine asks why all BiH state bodies are keeping quite and who is afraid of the 'biggest Bosniak fish' from the list – Hasan Cengic.
BiH CoM supported ratification of agreement with US	BHTV 1, FTV, RTRS, Oslobođenje pg. 3 'BiH will not have problems due to the agreement with US' – BiH Council of Ministers accepted on Thursday draft decision on ratification of an agreement with US about immunity of soldiers before the International Criminal Court. It was said that the ratification will not cause problems with EU, considering diplomatic efforts of BiH authorities detailing specific position of BiH in relation to US and EU. Dnevni List page 3, by M. R., "Ratification of agreement with US after today's discussion" also reports on the session. According to the newspaper, BiH Treasury Minister Ljerka Maric, responding to a question whether the EU will create problems to BiH because of the ratification, says: "We believe there should not be problems because BiH is explaining its specific position related to accession to the EU and position towards the USA. After all, it's about very complicated relations and diplomatic activities that has been intensively ongoing with both. Eventually, I think it should be all right." SB pg. 18, 19 and 20 'Agreement with America will not cost us and it ensured the stay of the US forces' by Danka Savic – on the US – BiH bilateral Agreement. The author of the text is basically attempting to prove that recent assessments that the ratification of the Agreement is 'immoral and dangerous' move by the BiH authorities that will be sanctioned by the EU. "The road to BiH joining the EU is still so difficult and long that the signing of the Agreement with the US, at present, could not represent a major obstacle," claims the magazine.

Ashdown visits
Mostar

BHTV 1 By Angela Cvitanovic, FTV By Meri Musa, Oslobođenje pg. 6, mentioned on the front page 'Wednesday – the deadline for the HNC Government formation', Dnevni Avaz pg. 3, mentioned on the front page 'Six-day ultimatum for HNC Government establishment', Nezavisne Novine, page 3, 'Wednesday is deadline for establishment of the Cantonal Government' – High Representative Paddy Ashdown visited Mostar on Thursday. Reason for visit was non-establishment of the HN Cantonal Government. Even 8 months after elections, main political parties in BiH, SDA, HDZ and Party for BiH failed to establish the HN Canton Government and, therefore high Representative gave them an ultimatum to resolve this issue by Wednesday noon. Ashdown claims politicians spent almost half a budget and did literally nothing and Ashdown said he "will be forced to make life of those political parties difficult." "Let me be clear. Parallel structures that should've been abolished eight months ago will no longer be tolerated. Those days are over and let no one have illusions about this," Ashdown said.

Dnevni List (front and page 12, by V. Soldo, "Ashdown: I will be forced to make life of officials of parties in power difficult") – the High Representative for BiH, Paddy Ashdown, yesterday visited, namely the Children with Special Needs Center and Old People's Home after which he gave a press conference at premises of the OHR South. Saying that he visited very important institutions in which people and children suffer because those who were supposed to form a Cantonal Government in the Herzegovina-Neretva Canton did not do it, HR Ashdown noted that every citizen of the HNC is paying the price because the Government has not been formed yet. Moreover, HR Ashdown stressed the citizens of Mostar paid politicians 2,8 million KMs, the money which was used for funding of the cantonal administration saying the teachers and doctors did not get the money for the jobs they were doing whilst the politicians were paid for doing nothing. Furthermore, HR Ashdown noted that a whole future of BiH has been undermined because of these failures and irresponsibility of the elected leaders because of the fact that the EC is doing the feasibility study for BiH whose main issue is whether BiH is able to function at all levels of authority. In light of this, the HR stated he could not permit that the future of BiH citizens be jeopardized giving the politicians in the HNC an ultimatum. The ultimatum says that the OHR should get a list of all nominated ministers for the HNC Government by noon on Wednesday, June 11, the ministers who would be supported by presidents of the parties involved. If the deadline were not to be observed, HR Ashdown stressed: "I will be forced to make life of political parties and people who lead them difficult."

Tihic on HNC Government formation	Dnevni Avaz pg. 3 'Only one ministerial post disputable' – "There is an objective responsibility of the leaderships of the political parties in the Herzegovina-Neretva Canton, which have not established good relations and mutual trust, so that the OHR deadline for the establishment of the Government is justified," SDA President Sulejman Tihic told the newspaper. Her added that the only remaining problem was related to the appointment of a Serb minister. In another article on the issue on the same page 'Coric Premier, Boric Finance Minister?', Dnevni Avaz says that the process of reaching the full agreement between HDZ and SDA leaders, Barisa Colak and Sulejman Tihic, on the formation on the HNC Government has been stopped on the question which party will nominate candidate for the health and social welfare minister. When its is about the rest of eight ministerial post, according to the agreement reached, HDZ should get three ministerial posts and the post of the prime minister, as the SDA should get four ministerial posts. The concrete names of the candidates include: Miroslav Coric – prime minister, Semin Boric – finance minister, Kemal Isakovic – justice minister, Samir Sunagic – Minister of Economy, Goran Bilic – interior minister, Zeljko Raguz – education, science, culture minister, Stjepan Krasic – minister of traffic and communication. Tarik Djulic was being mentioned as a candidate for the Urban Planning Minister but this is still not the final nomination.
US' Bond on need for SFOR to keep its presence in BiH	FTV By Spomenka Ljubic – At the NATO meeting in Madrid, member states agreed it is early for EU to take over the peacekeeping mission in BiH. US Ambassador in BiH Clifford Bond says main reason for that is complexity of mission. He added that very important issues related to implementation of the Dayton Agreement are not finished. Reporter brings unofficial information that US administration has no confidence into EU over arrest of war criminals.
EC – BiH talks	FTV By Rasim Borcak, Oslobodjenje pg. 4 'Second round of talks completed', Dnevni Avaz pg. 8 – Second round of talks between representatives of BiH and European Commission finished on Thursday. Talks are dedicated to creation of the feasibility study for BiH's association with EU. Mainly, economical issues, such as economical analysis, protection of customers and establishment of technical standards, have been discussed in last two days

Busek on number of international troops in Balkans	Dnevni List (page 8, unsigned, "Soon reduction of number of troops in Balkans") – Coordinator of the Stability Pact for Southeast Europe, Erhard Busek, assessed that nothing was standing in the way of reduction of number of peace troops in the Balkans and that now the focus must be placed on prevention of crime and corruption. In an interview for the "Tagesspiegel", Busek says there is no military danger in the Balkans. "Soldiers cannot do everything, and in Kosovo and BiH they have assumed duties for which they were neither sent there or trained", says Busek.
Editorial: "America is making BiH and Palestine"	Dnevni List (page 6, by Pejo Gasparevic) carries an editorial saying that on the same day the first meeting of the Commission that is in charge of the BiH military structure reform, chaired by American expert James Locher, took place and American President George W. Bush was placing grounds for a new Palestinian state. The author also mentions the list that American President Bush presented last week which contains names of the persons whose property in the USA was blocked, as well as, their entrance to this country because they committed war crimes or helped the war criminals. The editorial says: "In this way the official Washington stated that it will root out extremism. The American 'black list' is even more important because, for instance, all the punished persons from BiH were or they are still connected to the national parties. In the BiH political arena both right wing and left wing milieus are disqualifying each others to the detriment of both. It seems that the one can conclude that the time is coming for the left and right wing forces in BiH to become capable for mutual co-existence. In this way the quality of civilized society is being acquired."

policemen case

BH DANI pg. 26 and 27 'New York Charter to Nijaz Karkelj' by Vildana Selimbegovic – on the case of the dismissed 19 Sarajevo special police forces member following the recent letter from the UN HQ, which confirmed that 'de-certification was final'. The magazine thinks that HR Paddy Ashdown must be celebrating following his latest maneuver – he packed the case of the 19 Sarajevo special police forces members with the rest of the cases of de-certification and requested an official position from the UN. Of course, Ashdown could have not received any different answer to such unspecified inquiry. Next to Ashdown, celebrating parties are also Frederiksen and Nisko Karkelja, currently the highest in position amongst reps of organized crime in BiH. The article touches upon the issue of double standards by the IC where cases of international officials breaching the police code were solved by sending them back to their countries. The conclusion of the article is that Ashdown did everything to protect Sven Fredriksen. Who will protect the police officers, asks the magazine. Also, the article carries two insets with statements by journalist Gojko Beric and policemen's lawyer Asim Kadribasic. "Instead of being in favor of implementing force, Ashdown opted for the implementation of some strange tenderness towards the law violators. Vanity won. Because only vanity can explain this 'verdict' that arrived from the UN." According to Kadribasic, this has long ago become the issue concerning all BiH citizens and not just 19 police officers. "In this case the HR and Fredriksen directly attacked all principles on the basis of which they earned their mandates in this country."

Ljiljan on Ashdown/Mostar	Ljiljan (pages 36 and 37, by Enes Ratkusic, “Tudjman’s napkins in Ashdown’s pocket”) – an editorial which suggests that everything that’s going down in Mostar and Herzegovina-Neretva Canton has a sole purpose of creating the “capitol city of the Croats” out of Mostar. “The High Representative does not hesitate too much to show what his plans for Mostar are, and he does it in a peculiar way, from the imposed solution (abolishment of special regime of two cantons) until present day. It’s obvious that the napkin, which he has kept for a while, on which a former Croatian President Franjo Tudjman drew maps, enriched his set of political instruments. This time around he sent his deputy Schroembgens to Mostar with a similar napkin, suggesting the Commission (NB: Mostar Commission) principles that were unequivocally interpreted by Bosniak and Serb members of this body as a model for final realization of the idea of Mostar as ‘Croat capitol city’”, says Ratkusic. Talking about the work of the Commission, Ratkusic says its members are losing the initial optimism and the majority of them now feels their task is to agree upon as much issues as possible and the rest will be decided by the High Representative. The author goes on to say if the IC’s intentions are really going into direction of turning Mostar into the “Croat capitol city”, anything but withdrawal from the work of the Commission by its members would be immoral and historically irresponsible. Finally, Ratkusic claims that reliable information say the HR Ashdown is going down hard on Sulejman Tihic whom he has requested to concede in the Herzegovina-Neretva Canton and give advantage to the Croats.
Ashdown lobbying that BiH be represented by Pajic who is British citizens	SB pg. 33 ‘Ashdown lobbying that BiH be represented by Pajic who is British citizens’ – poses a question of whether Zoran Pajic, one of the candidates for the BiH Judge at the European Court for Human Rights in Strasbourg, is a British or BiH citizens and whether he meets necessary requirements for the job. Carries excerpts from an interview Pajic had to attend with members of the BiH Parliamentary Commission where he was asked questions about his professional history that goes in favor of his nomination for the mentioned post. According to the magazine, questionable whether Pajic really holds necessary qualification for the post, while HR Ashdown openly lobbied for Pajic with 35 key reps of the CoE Parliamentary Assembly.

Defence reform

Milorad Dodik, SNSD deputy, comments: "They have already taken certain decisions and we don't want to be a part of that farce nothing else." Cavic said all preconditions for Partnership for Peace were met and the Commission would find solution respecting Entities and 3 people. ## Economic/social issues

Draft Indirect Taxation Law	BHTV 1, FTV, Oslobodjenje front page, pages 4-5 'Single Customs as of July 1?', Dnevni Avaz pg. 4 'Provisional law on merging customs administrations prepared', Nezavisne Novine, pages 1 &amp; 4, 'Tax Administration to commence work on 1 July'; Glas Srpske, page 3, 'Law weighs money', Blic, p 7, 'Unification of customs in July'- New provisional law on merging Custom Administrations in BiH was forwarded to BiH Council of Ministers by Indirect Taxation Commission. This law would establish new Administration for indirect tax policy. If ratified by both Houses of BiH Parliament, it will create conditions for appointing a new Director to whom entity customs administration directors would be subordinate. Implementation of single customs is a condition for 60 million Euros of macro financial assistance to BiH this year. Chairman of the commission Joly Dixon: "Purpose of this approach is insurance of continuous system that can allow collection of taxes through implementation of huge reforms." Vecernji List page 8, by E. Medunjanin, "Dixon: We abolish unhealthy competition between entities" also reports on the issue. The newspaper quotes Dixon as saying:"Three months after the appointment of director, The Administration for indirect taxation, which will by then have a central office and official seal, takes over the responsibility for execution of the main tasks related to collections and distribution."Dnevni List, page 6, by FENA, "Law on merging of customs administrations prepared" covered the issue as well.

request from the prosecutor to prosecute the former leadership of HPT Mostar. Case is related to Eronet shares and former leadership of HPT is under suspicion for abuse of powers and Apparently, Halilovic forwarded the document to SDA leaders responsible of appointing both Halilovic and Hadzipasic. The magazine's sources claim the first to get the hands on the document is Bakir Izetbegovic, but has been read by other SDA officials and maybe even corrected and published in one of the SDA- supporting dailies such as Avaz, Ljuljan or Jutarnje Novine.

Along with the Police, one guard would be watching the HR’s house 24 hours a day. Such a proposal of the Programming Collegium was supported by the Council of RTV FBiH at a session held on Wednesday. BH DANI pg. 12 'The last Shearer's failure' in FOCUS column – on the process of reconstruction of the entity and state TV and the role of John Shearer in the process. The magazine claims Shearer did everything in his 'powerlessness' to leave nothing but naked walls from what used to be a media giant, with a bunch of amateurs, debts reaching millions of KM and no credibility. The key to the story, claims the magazines, is the strengthening of the entity TV stations, which is obvious from unequal treatment of the FTV and RTRS. "The BHTV 1 HQ will be in Sarajevo, and they will pretend to be the state television. The FTV, by handing over its frequency and assets will keep getting worse, while the RTRS, which has all the markings of the state TV but not of the BiH state, will keep working as usual in Banja Luka."

Dani on newly-adopted criminal legislation	BH DANI pg. 16 'Ashdown's laws: computer more worthy than human life' (no name of the author) – on the latest set of criminal laws. The magazine argues that three years after the war the federation adopted a set of criminal laws, and with a few changes they could have served the country in the next 100 years. However, the HR ordered the writing of the new laws. "And soon from the OHR industry of stupidities two more arrived – the Law on Criminal Procedure and the FBiH Criminal Law." The article then looks at certain Articles of the mentioned laws, more precisely Article 394 on 'computer sabotage' and Article no. 164 on 'manslaughter'. The violation of the first, meaning any computer related damage over 500 KM can result in a prison sentence from one to eight years. The later article on manslaughter also results in the prison sentence from one to 10 years. The point being – a human life is less worthy than a life of a computer, hence the article title.

Slobodna Bosna: Borislav Paravac: a criminal, not a president	SB pgs. 1 and 5 – 10 by Suzana Andjelic – an investigation started this week at the Zenica cantonal Court against several people from Doboj charged with war crimes committed in that city and in the area of Bosanska Posavina. The Hague gave green light for processing the case, which was first open by the Zenica cantonal court back in 1997. The magazine is basically wondering how is it possible that if the case, which includes people who were heading the army and police in Doboj at the time, as well as the SDS president and a member of the Doboj HQ, does not include also the current BiH Presidency Chair Borislav Paravac. The magazine publishes parts of a Radio Doboj show from May 1997 when the fifth anniversary of ‘Doboj’s Freedom’ was marked. For the occasion, Paravac spoke of his role and credits in the establishment of the Serb authorities in Doboj and expelling of 10,000 of Bosniaks and Croats.

Slobodna Bosna on Covic	SB pg. 20 and 21 'Covic moved Mila Gadzic to the Central Bank, and Vlado Culjak will become SBS Director instead of Mihalj' – the article claims that a Croat BiH Presidency member and the most influential member of the HDZ, Dragan Covic, has kept awarding people who helped him destroy and rob the 'Soko' Institute. The magazine lists some of the people that Covic has awarded so far. Vlado Culjak is apparently supposed to take over from Tomislav Mihalj as the SBS Director. Culjak is most responsible for Covic's appointment as the SG in 'Soko' and is a relative of Covic's wife. Mila Gadzic, current Minister for Foreign Trade and Economic Relations, will soon have to resign on the post, as charges will be brought against her and her Deputy Maid Ljubovic, will be offered by Covic to be appointed as a member of the Central Bank Steering Board. Her position will be offered to Ankica Kolobaric, whose husband is one of the 'Soko' co-owners.
