Nezavisne Novine interview with HR Ashdown	Nezavisne Novine pgs 4-5 'I am waiting for RS authority to fulfil the promise and arrest war crime suspects' by Mirza Cubro – In an interview to NN, Paddy Ashdown, High Representative to BiH, expresses his view that his decision on Privredna Banka Sarajevo would weaken the network for support of war crime suspects. He also expresses hope that the RS authority would fulfil the promise and arrest war crime suspects by the end of year, otherwise any option of sanctions against RS is possible. Responding to press question as to what an extent politicians were involved in malversations at this Bank, HR says that "there was most likely an accomplice, even the active engagement in order to enable Momcilo Mandic to use public funds and invest them into his bank. It is hard to acknowledge that anybody, who has any respect towards public funds management, could have handed those Government and Municipal resources at Privredna Banka Sarajevo, knowing that the Bank is non-solvent."
Momcilo Mandic on PBES case	In a statement for RTRS, Momcilo Mandic said that there are no evidences that he, as majority owner of Privredna Banka, was involved in any illegal activities, adding that he would appear at possible trial, but that he did not believe in impartiality of judiciary in BiH. "If BiH Prosecution has anything against me it should submit relevant evidence to judiciary of Republic of Serbia, which will certainly, in a completely objective and professional manner determine does my guilt exists, regarding any of Bank's operations. I am prepared for any kind of trial, not in Banja Luka, but in Sarajevo, but I do not want my Prosecutors to be philosophers, sociologists, psychologists, agents and everything else but Judges. I want that there is no pressure, in fact that there is no prior meetings in Ashdown's office and official trails only after that"- said Mandic.

Glibusic reminds that Vice President of the Croatian Government Jadranka Kosor stated that the agreement, which should regulate the status and rights of HVO members, is about to be finished and it should be signed by the end of the year. The author says that having in mind the fact that presidential pre-election campaign has been underway in Croatia and that Kosor is also one of the candidates, it is hard to expect that the set deadline for signing of the aforementioned agreement will be respected. The author also says that the MPs were the ones who were supposed to protect the rights of people who voted for them, however, they violated a basic human right and that it is the right on private property and for this reason they will not get support of voters at the next elections.

transfer of ICTY cases to BiH Courts

Vecernje Novosti pg 4 ‘“A Bosnian Scheweningen” under preparation’ by S. Pesevic & M. Labus – The article brings some comments regarding the announcement of the ICTY of transfer of cases classified as “A”, “B” and “C” files to BiH courts, ascertained by Krstan Simic, lawyer from Banja Luka.

Miroslav Mikes, Deputy Chair of RS HoP, says that the cases would first be forwarded to BiH Court, where the experienced foreign judges are sitting, noting: “It is a question of key importance as to whether Courts and Court Councils would act independently, bearing in mind the influence of local political and ethnic oligarchy. The judges would be exposed to extensive media, political and other sorts of pressures.”

Nikola Spiric, Co-Chair of BiH Parliament, is of the view that Europe is pledging in favour of seeing “a mini Hague” transferred under the authority of local judges in BiH.

Slavko Jovicic, Vice President of the RS Association of former Inmates, holds reserves towards this issue, stressing: “The fact that the Hague Tribunal has decided to hand some cases to local courts shows that the Hague is a failed project.”

Hercegovacka
TV Director
Menix: Mayor Jahic is halting payment of salaries

Dnevni List, pg 15 'Mayor Jahic is halting payment of salaries', mentioned on front, by K. Spajic – Carries an interview with the Director of Hercegovacka TV, Vlatko Menix, in which he notes that mid-November will mark a two month period during which employees of the Hercegovacka TV and Mostar Radio Station have not been paid. According to Menix, the reason behind that is refusal of Mayor of Mostar, Hamdija Jahic, to sign the corresponding payment order. Menix also notes the slowness in transferring of institutions onto the competence of the City of Mostar, which should have been completed by August 31. In that context, Menix sees reasons in the slowness of the judiciary, the OHR and City of Mostar. He continues: "The Mayor and Deputy Mayor are responsible to the special envoy of the High Representative, Werner Wnendt, so it is amazing that they are stalling the solution to problem. Therefore, a doubt in the work of the OHR is being raised, and the workers are wondering whether the OHR is participating in the extinguishing of the last public media in the Croatian language. The Croat politicians I talked to about the problem promised me that unless the problem is solved soon, payments to all budget beneficiaries of the City of Mostar would be halted".
