Dailies: Mostar
Commission on Tuesday holds
last session;
update

Oslobodjenje pg 8 'Final decision to be made by the High Representative'— According to dailies, the Mostar Commission is going to hold its last session on Tuesday, in order to discuss the election system for the City.

Previously, as chairman of the commission Norbert Witnerstein announced, the parties agreed to Mostar being single city with a single budget. However, consensus was not reached in the matter of electoral units, and administrative structured, while Oslobodjenje says that due to these reasons 'it was to be expected that the High Representatives make the last move.'

Dnevni List front, pg 4 'Paddy Ashdown cuts the Gordian knot' – DL also says that during the last few days the SDA top has intensified its pressure exerted against the OHR regarding the future organization of Mostar and that SDA officials hysterically repeat that Paddy Ashdown must not proclaim Mostar one unit of the local self-government, since they believe that in this way Mostar will become the Croat center. DL concludes that in any case the HR will cut the Gordian knot after New Year's holidays since it is very likely that he will leave for vacation on December 15.

Dnevni List front, pg 9 'Ceric gave advice to Bosniaks from Mostar' – DL also says that although it seems that SDA and Party for BiH do not have the same stand with regard to this issue they are more unified than they have ever been, and they just do not put in the same way the things they want in Mostar. According to the article, all SDA Mostar officials, Fatima Leho, Salem Bubalo and Zijo Hadziomerovic, were in Sarajevo on Monday. Although they did not attend the same meetings, the article says it is hard to believe that they did not drop by the SDA Headquarters in order to get instructions before the Mostar Commission passes the final decision.

Dnevni Avaz pg 8 'Bosniaks in Mostar must not ghettoise' – Visiting Mostar in order to speak with youth on drugs, head of Islamic Community in BiH mufti Mustafa effendi Ceric also addressed the issue of Mostar saying that Bosniaks must not be isolated and ghettoised. Ceric stressed Bosniaks must not play with the 'favourable' status they have in the IC.

As a sign of the protest, trucks of the ‘Parkovi’ public utilities company from (west) Mostar blocked the M17 road for an hour. Municipalities with Bosniak majority refuse to allow use of waste disposal site on their territory for litter from Western Mostar. World Bank has allocated 2 million KM for new public utilities company and 5 million for disposal site, however unless the problems are solved the donations will be lost. Dnevni List front, pg 15 ‘Jahic and Beslic will have to solve issue of Uborak waste dump’, Vecernji List pg 7 ‘Road blocked because of waste’, Slobodna Dalmacija front, pg 15 ‘Truck with garbage block Mostar’ – The Head of Municipality Southwest, Mladen Margeta, notes that the Croat majority municipalities have adopted decisions, meeting requirements of the World Bank, saying that the price of disposal of waste at the ‘Uborak’ dump set at 60 KMs per one ton is unacceptable for the Croat municipalities. Margeta calls on the IC to get involved and solve the issue, and the City authorities to observe the pre-requisites set forth by the World Bank regarding the “Uborak” waste dump. According to the President of the Mostar City Council, Ivan Musa, the situation is about parallelisms pointing finger at the Mayor of Mostar, Hamdija Jahic. In that context, Musa says the Deputy Mayor, Ljubo Beslic, met the requests related to the Croat municipalities.
[Mayor’s comment]	Oslobodjenje pgs 4&5 ‘Garbage ‘blocked’ M17’, ‘WBs patience running out’ – Mostar Mayor Hamdija Jahic announced the meeting on Tuesday of the directors of both public utilities companies, as well as the all municipal heads and representatives of OHR. He added that the blockade of the M17 road would not solve the issue, and added: ‘No city municipality did everything necessary in order to implement the decisions by the City’s Council. Some municipalities made partial decisions, actually the part of the decisions that they are in their interest. One cannot solve utilities’ problem partially, it has to be solved in the package.’

HDZ BiH Presidency held session	Dnevni List pg 5 'Decisions on expulsions from party postponed' – The Presidency of HDZ BiH, at a session held on Monday, did not take a decision to sanction its officials who participated in the last Croatian parliamentary elections on lists of other parties rather than the HDZ's. Vecernji List front 'HDZ BiH postpones purges in the party', pg 2 'Decision of purges postponed' by Zoran Kresic – According to the author, the latter shows either that there is no consensus among 20 members of the Presidency or that there is no real power to go ahead with the purges. At the same time, 'HDZ BiH leaders Barisa Colak and Dragan Covic also undoubtedly made clear that HDZ BiH also stays blindly loyal to Tudjman's politics towards BiH, meaning to its division. After the monument was placed and unveiled, there were reactions from the nationalists parties that HDZ BiH shares the power with – SDA and SDS. Of course, very negative ones. These parties estimate that this was politically inappropriate act.' Sagolj further claims that both SDA and SDS knew about the monument for three months, but did nothing about it. 'Why they were silent than, and now they react?' Well, probably because they don't want to mind make each other angry. They only can rule this country in that way... That is the style of their ruling over this country... Until they achieve their final goals – until they divide BiH. If they could.' – concludes the editorial.

This is temporary measure till completion of litigation process Lagumdžija vs. Avaz before the court. The court made decision on the basis of charges filed against Dnevni Avaz by Lagumdžija on November 29 for slander and false writing in Avaz about alleged coup d'état and Lagumdžija's involvement. The court found his rights were breached and that he was personally and politically discredited. In response to the decision, Avaz's Editor-In-Chief Fahrudin Djapo sent a letter on behalf editorial board to public. The letter reads this decision is an attempt to introduce censorship and prevent free media. Avaz also announced it will launch a wide spread campaign against anti-Bosniak composition in judicial institutions and would inform OHR and the Peace Implementation Council of the cases, and seek protection of media freedoms. 'Proved corrupted politician and new Bolshevik Zlatko Lagumdžija, who not even jokingly can be compared with serious statesmen is proved by the court from the public like polar bear. He can do anything he wants, he can spend state money for his wife's purposes without any control and sanctions, but journalists and public have to keep quite about it.' – reads the editorial.

Ashdown urges intelligence reforms and start of SIPA's work	Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Does BiH need police?' by S. Numanovic – In an interview to DA, the High Representative Paddy Ashdown stressed that following ITA and defence reforms, BiH must now speed up intelligence reforms. He also outlined three main reasons for that: worsened instability of intelligence services in BiH, scandals that lately amused BH audience and worsened global security situation. 'After the Istanbul, the situation is largely different, and the country with intelligence in this condition is much weaker than others. As someone responsible for security also, I cannot allow this risk and I have sent the letter to the President of BH Government stressing that Council of Minister must pass the Law on the Intelligence-Security Agency by 15 December, and that by mid March next year BH Parliament has to adopt it.' – stressed Ashdown. Asked whether he had ideas as to how police forces in BiH should be restructured, Ashdown answered that was the issue for BiH to solve, not the international community: 'I thought that BiH has 13, but later established that that are actually 20 different police forces, ranging from cantonal and entities to court police, the State Border Service... BiH authorities have to solve this issue on their own in order to respond to the request by the EU and improve the rule of law in your country. For the beginning, the Law on SIPA should pass the state parliament and that agency has to start working.'
