LATEST NEWS OF TODAY

Expert police commission in session	BH Radio 1 by Vanja Ilicic – A meeting of a commission tasked to draw BiH police regions maps started in Sarajevo today. The talks are being held behind close doors just like political leaders meeting on police reforms on the mountain of Vlasic last month. RS Interior Minister Darko Matijasevic participates in the body's work as a representative of the RS President and RS Government as well as in the capacity of an advisor for the SDS President. The meeting is underway and it is uncertain when it will be finished. RTRS by Radan Skipina – Addressing journalists before the start of the commission's meeting, Matijasevic stated: "we expect to see what will be offered as the basis for the work of Commission, after which we will take a stance." Matijasevic further noted that "along with Martens' proposal on police maps, we will also offer the proposal prepared by the RS MoI and the RS Government based on conclusions of the RS NA." He assesses that this proposal would be a good solution, since it is in accordance with EU principles on security sector and respects the constitutional position of the RS and F BiH, as well as constitutional provision regarding entity jurisdiction in the field of security, public peace and order and internal affairs.

PDP on police reform	RHB – The PDP Presidency believes that the RS institutions, RS Government and RSNA only can pass the decision on the police reform and that the constitutional organization of BiH and inter-entity borders should be respected in the discussion on the maps of the police regions.
BiH Parliament holds plenary session to mark Victory Day	RHB, RTRS, BH Radio 1 – Both Houses of the BiH Parliamentary Assembly held a special plenary session to mark 60th anniversary of the victory over fascism. The delegates were addressed by the Bosniak member of the Presidency, Sulejman Tihic. Tihic emphasized BiH's participation in the second world war and its anti-fascist orientation. He expressed hope that different views on the past/history would not jeopardize BiH's future.
Guardian: Karadzic has been seen in public lately	RHB, RTRS – The British daily "Guardian" has learnt from the ICTY that Serbian authorities have been subject to extreme pressures to apprehend Radovan Karadzic, since it was reported twice over the past few months Karadzic was allegedly spotted. The sources claim that Karadzic was observed during separate walks with his spouse and his brother prior to funeral of his mother.

Police reform / European integrations

Humphreys: BiH must become EU member state	FTV, NTV Hayat, Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'BiH must become EU member state', Dnevni List, pg 3 'Humphreys: BiH must become member of European Union', by De. L., EuroBlic pg RS2 'Humphreys: BiH must become EU member' by Srna– The Head of the EC Delegation to BiH, Michael Humphreys stressed on Sunday in Trebinje that BiH has to become a EU member state. "BiH is an open country and has to come into competition with other developed countries, showing its competitiveness," stressed Humphreys, during the opening ceremony of the three-day manifestation marking European Day. RTRS – Humphreys also stated that BIH has made a significant progress in the last 10 years, noting that its path to Europe is open and it depends on the reforms and commitment to implement reforms. Humphreys underlined BIH needs a single police force to fight organised crime adding that the meeting at Vlasic was a significant breakthrough in this regard.

Humphreys: Hague is not an obstacle for negotiations with EU	Oslobodjenje cover pg splash 'Hague is not an obstacle for negotiations with EU' and pgs 4-5 'Current cooperation with the Hague is enough for the start of negotiations' by Marina Kavaz Sirucic – Head of EC Delegation to BiH Michael Humphreys has stated he does not know whether BiH would start SAA negotiations with EU and he said: 'A progress in cooperation with the Hague Tribunal is obvious, yet I do not know how the progress in other fields would be assessed on May 19th'. He said many things were left to be done and EU enlargement commissioner Ollie Rehn has clearly told CoM Chairman Adnan Terzic what those things were three weeks ago. Humphreys listed fields in which a progress was made and stressed that BiH cannot move forward unless a progress is made with regard to police reform. Nezavisne Novine pgs 4-5, announced on cover 'There will be no recommendation for the start of negotiations without law on RTV system' by M. Cubro – also carries an interview with Humphreys with an accent on police reform and adoption of the law on PBS. Humphreys emphasized that the completion of negotiations on police reform and adoption of PBS law are remaining pre-requisites BiH authorities must meet if they want EC to recommend the start of SAA negotiations in the course of this month.

German Ambassador urges police reform	BHT 1, RTRS, Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Politicians who prevent establishment of functional police must be held responsible'- German Ambassador to BiH, Arne Freiherr von Kittlitz,stated that police reform is a key issue for BiH adding the local politicians must take the responsibility for this issue. In interview for daily newspapers Nezavisne novine, he stated that those obstructing an establishment of functional police forces must accept the responsibility if it happens that this issue is a reason for a delay in beginning of negotiations on Stabilization and Association Agreement.

PRC Chair Martens on proposals on police regions	Nezavisne Novine pg 4, announced on cover 'Three proposals on BiH police region maps' by A.Sekulic – In a statement to NN, Wilfred Martens, PRC Chairperson, says that three proposals on BiH police regions maps have been handed to Paddy Ashdown, High Representative to BiH, bearing in mind the fact that PRC did not manage to reach decision on this issue. He stresses that the most important thin is that BiH politicians reach decision, which will be grounded on technical criteria sensible for police work. Reminding of PRC final report, Martens notes some new elements have been embodied in it following Vlasic talks, stressing that none of those elements in any way amends the concept of unified police structure, neither does it step away from EU principles. On this he notes: "So, there is no deviation from exclusive state authority for police issues within efficient police structure free of political interference." In Inset "Police reform – a European test', Martens expresses conviction that there is readiness of all BiH politicians who took part at Vlasic meeting to reach compromise on police reform in BiH.
