BiH has received the unique licence plates for the vehicles. This is a big step forward, but not the only one in the last weeks in BiH, Klein told the news. The year 1998 is a good year for a peace in this country, he concluded. The DPA is definitely receiving acceleration, Ambassador Schumacher said in Banja Luka at the presentation of the new licence plates. He himself changed the plates on one of the vehicles of the RS Government. SFOR Commander General Shinseki attended the event, but although it was foreseen, neither Prime Minister Dodik nor President Plavsic were present, for unknown reasons. Is it a result of the Radical and SDS representatives orchestrated media attacks against the two leaders in which they named acceptance of the united licence plates as an act of treason, an anchor said. They accused Plavsic and Dodik of leading RS into a unitary BiH by accepting this common solution. This is a very wrong decision, assessed Krajisnik after the Presidency session adding that such a solution (common plates) does not exist even in the countries which representatives have forced it here. Contrary to such thoughts, the passers by in the Federation and RS asked to give their judgement on common plates, all expressed their satisfaction.
