News Summary

Responsibility for resolution of BiH Council of Ministers crisis rests with BiH Presidency – OHR

The responsibility for the resolution of BiH Council of Ministers' crisis rests with the BiH Presidency. The Presidency has the opportunity to resolve this issue by next Tuesday or, on the contrary, it will damage BiH's reputation in the world. This is the OHR comment on Wednesday's session of the BiH Presidency session and the withdrawal of Tihomir Gligoric's nomination for Chairman of the BiH Council of Ministers. The BiH Presidency has the opportunity to make progress until the upcoming session of the Steering Board of the Peace Implementation Council convenes in Brussels on Tuesday. OHR spokesperson James Ferguson stated that the IC is monitoring everything and this May is international BiH month. (00:34)

Farrand tenders resignation, Petritsch confirms receipt of resignation

International Brcko Supervisor, Ambassador Robert Farrand has tendered his resignation and High Representative Wolfgang Petritsch has confirmed its receipt. The Brcko District Government reacted to the resignation, saying that this resignation comes at a very unsuitable moment. Ambassador Farrand, in a statement, said that he has finished one cycle in the establishment of the District and the establishment of its institutions, which has meant three years away from his family in the US. This was crucial to my decision to resign. In a statement issued by Petritsch, it said that Farrand participated at the very difficult time of establishing peace in Brcko, and that he personally prepared the implementation of two arbitration decisions (Brcko) and the third decision that finally established the Brcko District. According to Petritsch, in 1998, Brcko was the first municipality in the RS with a multiethnic police, local administration and judiciary. (01:02)

Reason for Farrand's resignation was political pressure by

Bosniak side – ONASA

According to ONASA, the reason behind the resignation of Brcko Supervisor Robert Farrand was political pressure from the Bosniak side due to their dissatisfaction with the refugee return process. ONASA emphasizes that the US Embassy and UN Mission to BiH were also very dissatisfied with the work of Ambassador Farrand. According to ONASA, Gary Matthews is going to replace Farrand before the end of this month. (00:26)

Petritsch imposes Law on Judicial and Prosecutorial Service in the BiH Federation

High Representative Wolfgang Petritsch has with Wednesday's decision imposed the Law on Judicial and Prosecutorial Service in the BiH Federation. OHR spokesperson James Ferguson said that the unbearable delays in the legislative process have demonstrated the lack of political will in BiH Federation Parliament. According to one provision of the new law, all judicial functions will be examined in the next 18 months. The High Representative will extend this deadline, if necessary. In the meantime, UN spokesperson Douglas Coffman said that Jacques Klein welcomes Petritsch's decision and that the UN Mission, within their program for monitoring the judicial system in BiH, will do everything to support the implementation of this law.

Petritsch establishes Transitional Broadcasting Agency

The Transitional Broadcasting Agency was established on Thursday in a decision by High Representative Wolfgang Petritsch and represents an important step in the unification of broadcasting systems and attracting foreign investments. Members on the governing board of this agency will include IMC, the principal broadcasters in both BiH entities and the Agent for RTV Property Transfer. The TV BiH presenter comments: "Considering the fact that this story is related to our TV outlet (TV BiH), we have used it as introduction to our next report. The TV BiH will do everything to give you the full experience in the selection of Miss BiH and the Miss World Pageant.”
