Sarajevo – At its session in Lukavica today, the CoM once again failed to agree on policy towards the IMF. Co-chair Haris Silajdzic explained that some ministers including Co-chair Boro Bosic took the position that liquidation of the National bank was not within the competence of the CoM. The liquidation of the National Bank is a pre-condition for institution of a convertible dinar, he added.

A set of laws related to property transactions, return of refugees, human rights and inter-entity communication have been taken off the agenda. According to Co-Chair Silajdzic, a 15-month impasse in the adoption of these laws is caused by two different interpretations of the Dayton Accord. It was concluded that some ministries within the CoM should review proposed drafts to be later submitted to the BiH Parliament.
