Sarajevo – On her second day visit to BiH, US Secretary of State, Madeleine Albright met separately with Alija Izetbegovic and Kresimir Zubak, Members of the BiH Presidency. Following the talks, a Press Conference was held in the Holiday Inn. The talks with Madame Albright tackled the provisions of the DPA, Alija Izetbegovic told the press. We suggested a modification of the CoM structure after elections and instead of two Co-Chairs to have one President of CoM. He underlined the need of having a police power at the countries' borders, and assessed that the best and just solution for returnees are multiple returns. Izetbegovic also said also that non implementation of last years elections as in Srebrenica annuls the election in general, that Brcko should belong to the Federation and BiH, and that the refugee and soldiers families cannot be put out of their temporary housing before a new housing solution is found for them. We had a frank discussion on the actual BiH political situation, Kresimir Zubak told the news presenting his talks with US Secretary. Informing her of the pre-election campaign, Zubak accentuated unequal representation of the parties in some media. He also mentioned a manifestation of intimidation by some parties. The end of the Press Conference was reserved for Madeleine Albright. She said that the time had come that BiH and its peoples have what they deserve. She stressed the need of better functioning of the common institutions.
