Sarajevo – A Draft Law on abolishing the Law of abandoned apartments was on the agendas of both Federal Parliamentary Houses, which held sessions in Sarajevo today. Since both Houses accepted the Law in different versions, the Parliamentary procedure could not be finalised. Talking simply, the Law needs to be reviewed again. The feeling dominated that the deputies think that this job should be finalised, an anchor said. Yet the answer is missing to the question of how big are its chances to enable all refugees to return to their houses if the same Law is not being accepted in RS. Some HoR deputies formulated an initiative to be sent to the HR in order to ask him for a support of such a stance in another entity. Although this might appear strange, such an initiative did not achieve the required majority.

Tuzla – The Associations of the Srebrenica citizens held a meeting today with the Municipality and Canton Authority Representatives and Amor Masovic, Commission for Missing People President. The Srebrenica victim people expressed their disappointment about the lowered sentence for Drazen Erdemovic. We are deeply insulted that the Hague Tribunal sentenced Erdemovic only a day and a halve for each man he admitted he had killed, they told the news. The Srebrenica people ask that their representatives are included in the commissions for missing persons and that a special resolution on Srebrenica be adopted.
