Ashdown
postpones OSA
establishment
to 1 July

Dnevni Avaz Sun pg 3 'Deadline for OSA establishment postponed' – The High Representative, Paddy Ashdown, issued a decision deferring the establishment of the Intelligence and Security Agency until 1 June 2004, following the request by Ambassador Kalman Kocsis, Chairman of the Expert Commission, which drafted the Intelligence and Security Agency. The decision was brought in order to avoid any vacuum in the maintenance of proper control over the intelligence-security sector. Letter that Ambassador Kocsis submitted to CoM Chairman Adnan Terzic, Parliamentary Assembly Security-Intelligence Commission Chairman Tomislav Limov and Ashdown notes that "the appointment of the Director-General, Deputy Director-General and Inspector-General is a prerequisite for the integration of FOSS and OBS into OSA. Much rests on their shoulders. Unfortunately, despite everyone's best efforts, the appointment of individuals to these positions appears to be slightly delayed. This creates a problem. Without the new management in place, there will be a vacuum where no one will be in charge of the intelligence-security sector." OHR press release reads that without this technical adjustment, no one in the Council of Ministers would be operationally responsible for the actions of the intelligence-security sector. "Such a vacuum would have undermined the work undertaken to date by the BiH authorities in moving the intelligence reform along its difficult path," said the High Representative. RHB Fri, BHTV 1 Fri, RTRS Fri, Dnevni List Sun page 3 'New deadline for establishment of Intelligence-Security Agency passed' – also covered press statement by OHR. RTRS Fri – Mine Ljubija will recommence its production after twelve years. Representatives of the Mine and British Company LNM on Friday have signed a contract on joint investment, which stipulates that LNM will invest 25 million KM in production only during this year. According to the contract, the new Company has been established which will have name New Mines Ljubija and all investments will go to start its production. LNM will use its influence in the world market to sell Ljubija's products. Ranko Cvijic, Director of Mine Ljubija, said this contract is also good news for employees, as LNM obligated itself to pay for their health and pension benefits. In addition, LNM Director, Frank Panier said that the company will also pay out the outstanding wages for the last three years. "And that is what in privatization... presents the most significant pointer to some joint business's perspective – that is the partner's credibility," said Dragan Cavic, RS President. "In this way we practically start a life of one region, Prijedor's region, which is burdened with a number of social issues. This project has importance not only from RS perspective, but also from the perspective of entire BiH economy," said Dragan Mikerevic, RS Prime Minister.
