Sarajevo – Haris Silajdzic, CoM Co-Chair received Bernard Miyet, UN Under-Secretary for Peace Keeping Operations and Kai Eide, Head of UNMIBH. Estimating the meeting in Sintra as a reflection of the new decisiveness of the International Community, especially of the American Government, to implement DPA in full, Silajdzic welcomed the principle according to Banja Luka -The delivering of war crime indicted persons to the Hague Tribunal was the key topic of talks held between Madeleine Albright and Biljana Plavsic, RS President, Nicolas Burns, US State Department Spokesman said after the meeting. Any further non co-operation with the provisions of DPA further distances RS from the possibility of receiving financial assistance, he added.

A group of dissatisfied citizens with placards waited for Albright to inform her of the unsolved questions between RS and Croatia, which make their lives difficult.

Opening the bridge in Brcko over the River Sava, Madeleine Albright delivered the same message as in B.Luka, Haris Silajdzic said on that occasion – maximum help will be received by those who support the provisions of the Dayton Accords and Supervisor Farrand in implementing his task in Bosnia. Those who attempt to obstruct, will get sanctions. Boro Bosic assessed that this bridge was a place of suffering in both wars, let us hope that it never will be again.

The only Croatian comment on Madeleine Albright's visit to Croatia came from Miomir Zuzul, Croatian Ambassador. In an attempt to defend the DPA and its own face as the most powerful country in the world, the US chose Croatia as a victim, he assessed and added that it would be impossible to fulfil US demands to allow the return of Serbs who fled from Croatia to BiH and FRY, since their return would again destabilise Croatia.
