Summary SRT TV News

Pale – RS representative in BiH Parliament, Krajisnik received a Swedish Ambassador to BiH, Eliasson. The DPA and the current political crisis in RS were discussed. Eliasson also announced tomorrow's visit of HM the King of Sweden Gustav II, who will visit the Swedish SFOR troops. Krajisnik said that RS will take part in the welcome ceremony for the Swedish King. - Krajisnik refuted claims that he called for SFOR intervention in Banja Luka, saying that this information was fabricated. Krajisnik also said that Plavsic had violated the Law and the Constitution in the rudest way, and that he was disappointed with the assistance given to Plavsic by some IC representatives. Krajisnik said that whoever asked for SFOR assistance had rudely violated the DPA. Commenting on Plavsic's demand for the resignation of TV editors, Krajisnik said that she has no right to influence the freedom of media.

Bijeljina – After the session of the RS HQ Staff, where the current situation in RS was discussed, it was announced that the political and safety situation in RS was extremely serious, and was caused by the non-constitutional acts of Mrs. Plavsic. HQ Staff said that the IC representatives acted partially out of the DPA framework by supporting Plavsic. It was also said that Plavsic, being the Supreme Commander of the RS Army, completely excluded the HQ from all the events, thus providing the way to impose her own will, by the system

"State, it is me". The remainder of the announcement said that if the crisis continues, caused by anyone, the RS Army will not warn but it will act in order to defend the integrity of the RS.

Bonn – HR Deputy Wagner stated in Bonn today that the possibility of pre-elections is being considered despite the RS Constitutional Court decisions. Wagner explained that the pre-elections would enable Plavsic to increase the pressure on her opponents, and to impose her political will.

1'00" Reactions of the world media – French press releases reported that the current crisis in RS is caused by the IC, so that the IC could be the unavoidable saviour, and to prove that the international troop presence in BiH is necessary even after their mandate expires. British "Daily Telegraph" comments that Plavsic's decisions are unconstitutional, and that the support of the IC is a typical irony of privilege to an evil child. DT says that the hunt for the war criminals is only a cover for the failure of the US plan in BiH. Stuttgarter Zeitung reports that RS leadership is way too strong and respected by the people, and that could not be changed, regardless of Plavsic's promises of millions of dollars to people. Associated Press reports that the current activities of Plavsic are a threat to RS, and if she should win, it might mean the establishment of a new state with Croats and Moslem.
