News Summary

IPTF searches for weapons and equipment for wire-tapping in police stations in Glamoc and Tomislavgrad

The IPTF conducted a search in the police stations in Glamoc and Tomislavgrad. According to unofficial reports, IPTF searched for weapons and wire-tapping equipment in the Glamoc police station. In the presence of SFOR soldiers, the IPTF searched the offices of the police station and parts of the municipality building. Glamoc municipal authorities assessed this action as an attempt to deter Croatian refugees that were invited to the municipality building to fill out questionnaires on their wish to permanently remain in Glamoc and build family houses there, reported ONASA.
