Elections only solution to resolve RS crisis – RS Party of Democratic Progress

The RS Party of Democratic Progress (PDP) believes that the only solution to the RS crisis is elections. Party President Mladen Ivanic told a press conference that the greatest victims of the break in the Sloga Coalition are RS citizens. The PDP opposes any kind of revision to the Dayton Agreement because it would mean the return to the pre-war situation. Commenting on an announcement by the CD Coalition Caucus Leader Safet Bico that it would enter the RS Government, Ivanic assessed that such an initiative could contribute to explaining political events in the RS. In his opinion, this is “completely legitimate, but the PDP cannot accept the entry of any party or coalition, whose aim it is to politically eliminate the RS, into the RS Government.” Ivanic concluded that democratization in the RS is unsatisfactory because certain individuals have become more important than institutions.
