News Summary

Serb officials in BiH House of Representatives organize discussion on draft Permanent Election Law

Serb officials in the BiH House of Representatives organized discussion on the draft BiH Permanent Election law in Banja Luka. RS, international and judicial experts also participated in the discussion, the goal of which was to decide who will be represented by RS representatives at sessions of the BiH House of Representatives, stated Speaker Mirko Banjac. Banjac said that the final text of the election law should be adopted within three months by the House of Representatives. “Then, BiH will have a permanent and valuable election law in the interest of the citizens, nations, governments, assemblies and entities” added Banjac. Deputy RS Prime Minister Ostoja

Kremenovic stated that the text of the election law is a solid base, but does not take into account the complexity of BiH and the specific quality of the entities. "Some of the jurisdiction given to the entities by the Dayton Agreement are tainted, especially in the area of local autonomy" added Kremenovic. Judicial experts Pero Kunic, Jovo Rosic and Snjezana Savic stated that some provisions of the draft election law oppose the RS and BiH Constitutions. RS representatives in the BiH House of Representatives will request some exchanges and additions to the existing draft law.
