News Summary:

Croatia will support return of all refugees – Croatian Foreign Minister Tonino Picula (00:36)

Official Zagreb on Wednesday hosted a roundtable on refugee return to the Banja Luka region and Bosnian Posavina, held with the participation of Croatian Foreign Minister Tonino Picula and Banja Luka Bishop Franjo Komarica. Picula stated that Croatia would continue to support the return of all refugees, but that return strategy would depend on the results of upcoming elections in BiH and Yugoslavia. Komarica warned that data on returns in the Banja Luka region and Posavina was devastating. He confirmed that RS authorities were blocking returns, but that the IC cannot be amnestied from responsibility either. Only 7,000 Croats have remained in the Banja Luka region, out of 70,000 who lived there before the war, concluded Komarica.
