News Summary

Haselock on investment in BiH media

Deputy High Representative for Media Issues Simon Haselock told Radio Free Europe that all the money the International Community is investing in BiH media is not always as coordinated as it should be. He added that they agree on the policy that should regulate this sector and earmark key and strategic aims for investment. The OHR organizes meetings with agencies managing donor funds twice a week, while meetings with principal donors, at which general media policy is decided, are held every six weeks.
