International organizations hold press conference in Sarajevo

Deputy High Representative for Media Simon Haselock stated that the RS National Assembly and Government have no legal role in naming the general director of RTV RS and that public statements contradicting this have no legal grounds. He added that recent statements of the RS Education Ministry and SRNA Director present a threat to media independence in BiH. Haselock believes that the RS Information Minister should not use SRNA as an instrument for endangering RTV RS and attack RTV RS employees. Haselock concluded that if it is true that the RS Government intends to annul the law on RTV RS, then that would jeopardize their position on accepting the standards necessary for BiH to join European integration. OSCE spokesperson Tanya Domi stated that freedom of media in BiH should be one of the most important factors in the process of democratization. She added that attacks on reporters are acts of intimidation by those who still believe in the rule of fear and violence. She quoted the example of the attack on Dobojski journalist Mirko Srdic and assessed it as a continuation of threats with the aim to obstruct freedom of media.

SNS says RS Government decision legally inconsistent

SNS Head of Information Service Ostoja Barasanin stated that the SNS does not support the RS Government decision on RTV RS General Director Andjelko Kozomara and that this decision is legally inconsistent. They insist that this issue be resolved according to the law, including the law on enterprises, RTV RS Statute and position of the Independent Media Commission. SNS Vice-president Branislav Lolic stated that the SNS would take their position on the decision of RS Government at their session Tuesday evening. They expect a successful continuation of the RS National Assembly session on 10 November. Barasanin stated that SNS running in the local elections individually, and not as a member within the Sloga Coalition, is a test for their participation in municipal authority. Barasanin said that the recent statement by SNS Voce-president Jovan Mitrovic that the RS Government must be restructured was Mitrovic's personal opinion and that the SNS attitudes towards the Government are constructive and directed towards its strengthening.
