

OHR SRT News Summaries, 11 September 1997

The pre-election silence started at 7 a.m. this morning, and will last until Saturday 13, at 7 a.m. According to OSCE and the PEC, there are 1,546,679 people registered in the RS, and 1,343,319 in the Federation. HR Westendorp invited all the people in the RS and Federation to vote. Those who are telling you not to vote are denying your fundamental rights to elect your own leaders, Westendorp said.

President of the RS PEC, Cancar said that there were only 110,000 voters abroad last year, whereas this year about 300,000 of them registered. He also said that only 75,000 absentee voters registered for the local elections, in FRY, comparing it to 200,000 voters who voted last year. The new OSCE rule is that ballots will be cast at polling stations and then sent to the local EC (elections commissions), whereas the final results will be given by the RS PE Commission, that will be monitored by the police and international monitors.

Flash news:

SRT reported that foreign media said that the IC has made a number of wrong moves by insisting on the policy which based on reality, and could lead the IC into an abyss.

France press reported that the Russian Ambassador Curkin criticised NATO because they don't regularly consult with Russia regarding the crisis in the RS. He underlined the recent events of conflict between SFOR and SRT as an example and said that Russia will never support the splitting or dissolution of the RS.

Curier reported on a statement of the ex-HR Bildt who said that the IC policy collapsed, adding that even after the latest EU meeting, its members were not ready to handle the crisis in the Balkans.

Daily Telegraph reported that the DPA should change because none of the three sides is eager to create a multi-ethnic BiH. Telegraph quotes the US Special Envoy, Holbrooke saying that he fears that the DPA will not pass the most difficult exam since none of the sides want to implement it.

German Morgen reported that the US openly supports Plavsic which indicates that the Americans might have had caused this crisis.

France press said that tomorrow, US will send three planes for disturbance of SRT programme during the elections.

Sokolac PTT received the cell-phone switch board RAS 1000 which will provide lines to 750 users in the Sokolac, Pale, and Stari Grad municipalities.

Summary SRT TV News Banja Luka

The pre-electoral silence started at 7 o'clock this morning and will last until Sunday at 19:00 hours when the polling stations close.

Any kind of public pre-electoral campaign for all the political parties, coalitions, and independent candidates has been forbidden since this morning.

The OSCE supervisors visited the polling stations today in order to make sure the LECs were ready for performing this very important task – holding elections in RS and BiH Federation for the local levels of authority.

1,154,679 voters have been registered in RS, and 1,343,319 voters in BiH Federation for the municipal elections on September 13 and 14th.

The President of the Republic Electoral Commission, Petko Cancar stated today that this year it would be possible to count the votes and define the results at the polling stations. The results from the polling stations would be sent to LECs, which would sum up the results and forward them to the Republic Electoral Commission. The final results would be defined in presence of the political parties representatives and international monitors.

All the preparations for the municipal elections which will be held in two days have been done well and in time, the Banja Luka LEC announces.

Around 132,000 persons with the right to vote have the opportunity to vote for political parties and candidates at one of 91 polling stations. The members of polling stations committees, 617 of them, as we have been informed by Vukasin Boskovic, President of LEC Banja Luka, have been trained in order to have the best possible local elections. This morning, a part of the material for the elections, so called non-sensitive material – boxes, posters, pencils, etc., arrived at the polling stations, and the final voters' lists for all the persons registered in BL, too. The sensitive material, i.e. ballot papers, according to the OSCE rules, will arrive on Saturday morning, before the official opening of the polling stations. According to the same regulations, the counting of the votes will be done at the polling stations, in presence of the OSCE supervisors and representatives of all parties.
