The President of RS, Biljana Plavsic, stated today in an exclusive interview with SRNA that she unconditionally accepts the joining of RS in the "Equip and Train" programme.

"I accept that without any conditions", she said, stressing that in any concept of international relations Serbs can find their place if they follow integration processes, on the regional and the world level. "We are not out of the world, and we should join, but first through our surroundings. It is recommended that Serbs join the world's processes and not resist because each system has its good and bad sides. We should analyse what is good in that and to look for our interest", President Plavsic told SRNA.

Talking about the coming parliamentary elections in RS, the President stated that the elections would create a different distribution of power in the Assembly and that probably certain coalitions and agreement would be formed regarding certain issues. She added that the new Assembly would be very busy with economic issues, which means that the Government must be functional and professional, she stated to SRNA.
