The RS Ministry of Information has released a statement denying claims by the SDS that the current PM, Milorad Dodik, has offered to the IC a special status of Brcko as a solution of this matter where Brcko would no longer be controlled by the RS territorially or politically. The statement went on to say that SDS's statements saying that the RS Government should resign and that RS representatives should withdraw from all BiH common institutions in the event of the final arbitration decision being in contravention with what was written down in the DA, spoke in favour of the fact that the SDS wished to place the RS in conflict with the rest of the world again.

The establishment of a foreign trade regime between the RS and the FRY has led to new rules and regulations applicable in trade activities between the two countries. The RS customs Administration have, therefore, released a statement explaining the procedure and documents now required in the trade of goods and money operations. According to the new rules and regulations, in addition to the usually required customs documents, a person exporting goods from the RS into the FRY will, in the future, have to present a certification on the origin of goods exported and the international consignment note. Importers from the FRY will have to present a report on a foreign trade arrangement by the FRY National Bank. As for goods to be imported by the RS, exporters from the FRY will have to go through a customs procedure and register the goods with the FRY National Bank. On the RS side, on goods imported from the FRY the procedure has remained the same. Starting 15 February 1999, packages mailed from the FRY to the RS and vice versa will be liable to the same procedure as that applicable on goods falling under the regime of foreign trade.
